

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 675

When Henry shouted, Apollo and Creed's moves became swifter and more violent.

Justin never expected them to be here, so he could only fight with all his heart as he was shocked. They had fought with hundreds of moves, yet there was still no clear winner.

Henry's shouting distracted Justin for a while. Looking back, Justin saw Apollo and Creed's feet were already in front of him. Justin hurriedly dodged but was still a step late. His chest instantly became stuffy, and a mouthful of blood spurted out of his throat.

"Pfft..." He fell, hurt.

Seeing that Justin was injured, Henry sighed in relief and became less nervous. He raised his voice, "Don't kill them! I want them alive!"

to hold the family's power and get back they were members of the Lodge family, and it would be non-beneficial to him to cause death. Henry only needed them to be obedient, stubborn? Why won't you listen to me? When I become the head of the Lodge family, I won't kick you out. Look at you guys. I hit, he felt everything was under control. Henry knew it was the right thing to do to invite the Light-Shadow Killers to help him. He sure would fail the head of the Lodge family, promise to listen to me in the future and treat me respectfully. If so, I'll was injured, he did not stop and continued fighting. After hearing Henry's cruel words, Justin an elder, I can only teach you a lesson. Let's do it the hard way!" Henry sighed and seemed sympathetic, Bing-bang!

with an earthquake-like concussion, stunned everyone. Even the fight between Justin with a palm print on his chest and his shirt ripped. Everyone was dumbfounded and looked at the her