

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 676

Apollo had confidence in his skills and strength to withstand this move, but as soon as it fell on him, he heard the crack of his bones and roared in pain.

Justin stood by at first, ready to rush in and lend a hand. Then he took a deep breath, assessed the situation, and realized Lily was fine.

He was shocked since he did not know when she had developed such advanced abilities. Given the circumstances, though, this was a good advantage.

Henry was hunched over, staring nervously at the action. The situation had become much more dire. He had begun to doubt his chances of victory and was clinging to the chair's arm for support.

"Can't you even take down a little girl?! With your skills like this, how would you explain yourself to your master?!" He screamed furiously.

off as he watched Justin extend a hand headed straight a panic and stepped back. He knocked over the chair, tripped, violently, with the other hand

your uncle!"

sneered as his voice was ice cold, "Sorry, I don't have an

"Justin, you..."

break your neck!" The strength of Justin's felt like he would suffocate. He felt Justin's finger pinching an artery in his neck. A anymore at the juncture of life and death. He clenched his

When Apollo was injured and lying on the ground,

Didn't you hear me when I told you to stop?! Stop fighting!