

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 710

La Beaute Group's staff stepped forward to end the press conference, but someone interrupted him before he could finish speaking. The smile on his face immediately froze.

"With such a useful scent, shouldn't your grandfather still be alive? " Those words were like a sharp sword that broke through thin air. It directly lowered the atmosphere to freezing point. Everyone looked at the source of the voice and saw a relatively unfamiliar face. The man was sitting there with his legs crossed. His posture was arbitrary, with a mocking smile on his face. He stared straight at Lily with his sharp eyes as she stood at the front.

"Who is he?" Someone asked quietly.

"My goodness! How could he be so rude!"

Although the media often exposed breaking news and secrets, it depended on who they spoke to. It was more than showing respect to La Beaute Group since Alexander was also sitting there. The man should have given respect to someone who had already passed away.

added to the formula was useless since her grandfather had already passed away. On the negative side, since she was explaining how beneficial the added this man was too abrupt and rude, while others thought his words like that in front of everyone? Was he just playing around to make a fool

the man and then at the couple on

take a closer other for a few seconds, the man stood up calmly, raised his hand to brush his shoulders, and walked in her direction. Those who had already got up to leave stopped and found a more exciting scene

Standing before her, he raised his chin, so arrogant that his saw that he did not want to shake hands, so she naturally did not take

Noah turned his eyes to those who wanted to stay and watch the show. He smiled meaningfully and then turned around, his