

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 723

Ruby City would hold a charity auction twice yearly where most items, ranging from jewelry to antiques, were donated anonymously.

There were no restrictions when it came to the auctioned items.

On such events, besides people who were here to build a reputation for themselves, some were here to coax their wives or lovers.

Elizabeth had her eyes on one of the necklaces a long time ago.

It was a tear-drop-shaped sapphire pendant surrounded by many small diamonds, making it look dazzling under the light.

After being with Joseph for so many years, she naturally had no shortage of jewelry.

However, Elizabeth's eyes burned with jealousy after seeing a big pink diamond necklace on Eloise the one time she attended an event with Joseph.

Since then, Elizabeth had been bugging Joseph to get her a more fabulous necklace.

Although he agreed, he could not find a suitable one and pushed this matter aside.

However, this was a thorn in Elizabeth's heart. If she could not be "Mrs. Tanner," she would have to be compensated in other manners.

She had to be better than that woman in all the other aspects.

Ultimately, she managed to badger Joseph to agree to take her to this auction.

follow him around for could only watch him bring his wife to countless her son as persuasion, Joseph finally softened and agreed was not like his wife

was a publicized

law, he would have brought Elizabeth another woman in the house? Elizabeth was onto needed to get that necklace at the auction tonight to dress, she was glowing as she arrived around noticed different woman in dared to say much as

Joseph was delighted

was a looker

the

not have married her if she catching up to hard Eloise tried to care for her face, aging was something no one could was much younger and more energetic by his side, Joseph waved and greeted the

to be a part of this