

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 725

Now, the price of the necklace had exceeded Joseph's budget.

Elizabeth glanced at Joseph and saw that he was gently rubbing the bridge of his nose, looking a little troubled. She knew he did not want to spend any more money than this.

"6.2 million, calling once, calling twice-"

The bid manager waited for no man, and just as he was about to yell again, Elizabeth couldn't bear it and raised her paddle.

"7 million!"

She did not believe that anyone would follow her that far.

The young man seemed to have been stunned and was silent.

Just as Elizabeth thought she had won, he called out again, '7.2 million!'"

Just like before, the young man only raised another 200,000 dollars.

would love to rush

go against her? Regardless of whether the necklace was everyone's attention was on the two discussion was heard from the

to prove? Does she really think money is still under his wife's pastime. Does she really think she's a big shot? A necklace for more than

"Haha, what a joke!"

heart. Her eyes started to turn red, and her chest puffed out in anger. She determined right then that she was going for the win as if to release all the pent-up resentment

"10 million!"

million each time, she decided

over the crowd as soon as she declared knew that this price far exceeded the necklace wasn't worth 10 million at voice, "10 million! Are any bids higher than 10 million? The price of this sapphire necklace is now 10 million. The final caller is...Mr. Tanner. Is there

young man, who was fighting