

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 728

Elizabeth pouted, shook Joseph's arm, and said softly, "Joseph, I know I'm also at fault today. It was my first time going to the auction with you, and I got too excited. Besides, you've never taken me to those places before. I deserve forgiveness for my ignorance, don't I? Forgive me just this once."

Joseph was still angry when he turned to look at her.

Elizabeth was over forty years old, but her face remained beautiful.

Her pitiful eyes made his heart soften again.

He pinched her cheek, saying, "I'm helpless against you."

When Elizabeth heard his weak voice, she knew she had won him over again.

She smiled sweetly, hugged his arm, nudged her face on his body, and said, "I know you're the best! Let's forget about what happened this time. You can't blame me anymore!"

"What should I do with you? Don't be so unruly next time. You must be obedient and think before you speak!"

nodded vigorously, "I'll be obedient and listen to you. Joseph,
