

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 780

It seemed that Alexander honestly did not care much about the other members of the Russell family.

Since he said that, she would just follow suit.

"Great, the both of us can make the decisions on our own then."

Alexander was somewhat surprised by her reaction.

"I thought you'd convince me to mend my relationship with them and tell me they're still my family no matter what."

After all, too many people had said similar things to Alexander in the past. His so-called relatives and friends had been persuading him to do that ever since he was a young child.

They thought they were helping him with his troubles, always telling him that blood was thicker than water and that he should reconcile with the other Russells.

They would also tell him that they were still his elders and his family, so he should understand and forgive them.

Hence, he was ready for Lily to convince him to do the same and said they needed his family's blessings for their wedding. However, she said nothing of such at all.

"Why would I convince you to do that?"

and said disapprovingly, "I'm not you, so I don't know what happened between you and your family, but I trust you have your own reasons for doing so. I've decided to stick by your side no matter what. With that being said, I just need to respect your decision. Also, I trust your judgment. You must have your reasons for staying away his shoes before, so she believed she had no right to tell him to forgive them because she had no idea what kind of things were uncertain in this the most challenging time in her life, Alexander was the one who helped her get her uncle, tried to frame her for what she did not do and even made things difficult for Justin. He created such a mess shortly after Wilfred passed people value their self-interests over everything believed in this. Her words moved him significantly. He just set aside a place in his back then, and she

Russell family are complicated...and nasty.I'll tell you more about it in cheeks gently.His gaze was gentle, and his voice was calm.It

Lily nodded her head.

"Okay!"

a little hungry.Let's grab some

and turned to look

"Let's have a steamboat!"

pregnant, she did not going to make up for