

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 789

"My next plan is to expand the market. We'll first put the perfume up domestically before bringing it into foreign waters." His plans sounded almost perfect. He had even identified the relevant industrial chains. However, the executives looked through the report and frowned slightly. They did not look too happy.

"Excuse me,"

Someone raised his hand and interrupted, "We only have one perfume. Although we got a good response, don't you think we're moving too fast? Other companies have already monopolized the domestic perfume market.

"There are recognized brands from giants like La Beauté Group and other companies. This is the first time we've stepped foot into this industry. Shouldn't we take things one step at a time and stabilize our product first?"

The company's executives were from the older generation, and Damian's pie was too big for them to swallow.

"Mr. Park, you're being too cautious," Damian said with a smile, "You must have a fighting spirit in the business world. How can you break through the market if you're too scared? As you said, others have already monopolized the perfume market.

"How can we ever enter this industry if we're not brave enough? Besides, our goal isn't just limited to the domestic market. We want to go international!"

Damian was beaming with joy while several senior executives threw the documents back on the table and lowered their heads, pinching their nose bridges.

Although it seemed good at first glance, they could not deny that this young man had big dreams.

one should never underestimate the domestic ignorant about this, the

Joseph noticed the change in he has already made plans for the next ten to twenty years. It's his long-term vision. We should, indeed, take things one step at

to smooth things

not afford to offend these old-timers, as Damian would still fragrance was an instant hint. That's the

could finish speaking, there was a knock knocking continued even more

upset and barked,

a response, the person outside

"Mr. Damian—"

I'm in

immediately scolded with a downcasted

is urgent, Mr. Damian. can you step stood his