

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 795

Although Damian was reluctant, he had to admit Arianna was more experienced than him in dealing with crises.

When the elevator door opened, Nathaniel was standing there.

The three of them exchanged looks, and just as Damian was about to speak, he heard Arianna say, "Come with me!"

She called Nathaniel into her office and closed the door.

However, as Arianna did not draw the curtains, everyone could see that she was talking with a solemn expression, presumably about the perfume crisis.

Damian continued to pace around outside. His mind was in chaos.

After much deliberation, he still thought that woman was the root of all these problems. He even wondered if Naomi had taken money from someone else and tried to frame him.

After thinking about this a bit more, he stomped away.

Although Arianna seemed occupied talking to Nathaniel in her office, she fixed her eyes on Damian, who was outside.

When she saw him leave in a hurry, she dropped the act and signaled with her eyes that Damian had left.

think that idiot is going?"

there are not many places he'd make a move next. Is there anything wrong with

not. Everything to our victory. Once this is all over, you'll soon my place. This isn't over. Don't forget I still have a turned sinister at the mention still around, she would always feel uneasy. It was like uncle of yours sick and unable to do anything?" Nathaniel current situation, I don't think he'll last long. By the way, isn't his son out are you trying to say?" Arianna frowned, think your aunt will share such

He smiled sinisterly.

were hidden meanings behind understood what you're trying to old man to attend his son's funeral would be a big blow to guess so, but there isn't a definite answer on whether or you think that having no news is news too? It's up to the people

Nathaniel's