

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 800

After that, the reporters left.

They had everything they needed and more.

Now, they just had to go back and edit the clips in preparation for their new posts.

The story this time was sensational, and it was as big a deal as Lily's poisonous perfume or even more prominent.

In Lily's case, it was just an audio recording, and there was no solid proof.

In addition, La Beauté Group had a solid background with an excellent public relations team.

Although the news story did not take long to spread, the PR team quickly suppressed it.

Then once the press conference concluded, it gave them a clean slate and put the company in a positive light.

Immediately after, some said La Beauté Group's perfumes are good for one's health and could even cure diseases.

They were miracle products.

Later, what was even more interesting was that Lily resigned from La Beauté Group.

Everyone assumed she was going to lay back and enjoy being a trophy wife, but she later revealed she had opened her own studio and was looking into creating her own brand.

woman was truly

things were different for

into did all sorts of gimmicks, and it garnered an overwhelming amount of the product sold out almost immediately as soon as it went only been less than two days since the product had been

not just an audio

reporters had witnesses and had no idea how the Tanner was in the hospital and had enough publicity and influence as a supermodel also a physical report from the hospital, so there was no

would be even more interesting if this were indeed to produce such a report just to slander Tanner Corporation? Therefore, no matter how the story went, it was an reporters were excited as they tried to dig deeper into

to find

disperse before closing the door

Lily's strange expression and tilted her head to ask, "Do you

"Not really."

only knew who Damian was, but she had never interacted with him. However, he reminded her of Arianna and there's a supermodel in the room next door. The reporters have been in and out of here over had no idea who was in the ward

"How lively!" Lily laughed.