

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 807

It was evident that Arianna was flustered.

"N- Nothing! I meant Benedict had not been around recently, so I'll be your daughter for the time being. I'll take his place. No! I'll take good care of you!"

Anyone could tell something amiss from her guilty and anxious expression, let alone someone like Derrick. He was just sick, not out of his mind, so he held her wrist firmly.

"That doesn't sound right! Are you guys hiding something from me? What is it? Steph?"

He turned to look at his wife and called her name sternly.

Stephanie bit her lower lip and just let her tears fall. She said nothing.

Since he could not get an answer from his wife, he turned back to look at Arianna, who was right in front of him.

"Ari, tell me! I've always doted on you and treated you as my daughter! Tell me what happened to Benny!"

don't ask about that anymore. You should take care of

to hit the bed

trying to piss me off

that! I'll tell you

well,

people at Middle Valley that Benedict was bitten by a poisonous snake when he was getting some materials, and he entirely,

covered her face with her hand and started to grip on Arianna. He was stunned to the point where he stopped her a

"Uncle Derrick..."

had always been lucky, so why would shaking his head and repeating don't be like this. Even if Benedict is gone, you still have me, and we