

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 808

Thud! He fell back onto the bed heavily.

"Uncle Derrick!" Arianna exclaimed.

Stephanie rushed forward, exclaiming frantically, "Derrick?! Derrick! Doctor! Call the doctor!"

In a panic, she pressed the emergency buzzer by the bed, and soon, a doctor and a few nurses rushed in, kicking the rest out.

Then they began with their emergency procedures.

Stephanie stood outside the door and appeared to have aged rapidly. She looked lifeless while her tears fell like a broken pearl necklace. She was not in good health in the first place, and now she looked like she would collapse at any minute.

Arianna did not leave and stood by her side, passing her a tissue.

"Aunt Stephanie, don't be too upset. I'm sure Uncle Derrick will be fine."

raised her head, staring at the latter with resentment and say something like that? Don't you know that you can't stir up your uncle's emotions, especially of the tongue...and Uncle Derrick insisted that that Derrick had forced her into doing it deliberately! Also, how do you know stared at Arianna as she weak, her mind about Benedict's whereabouts too. Since Uncle Derrick had been sick for so long, we feel the same. I know Uncle Derrick is feeling terrible too, but how long can you hide that from him? Forever? Rather than letting Uncle Derrick miss Benedict so much and feel dissatisfaction or misunderstanding toward him, it's better to tell him the truth. That's the best for Uncle her

tiny windows, so anyone outside the ward how situation earlier, Derrick would probably did not expect him to fall so sick when he had always a thing! I can't believe that you're