

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 811

Her husband's words opened the floodgate of her memories.

When Benedict was young, he was smart and talented.

A sensible boy, he was eager to learn and possessed unique ideas for doing business.

Although his opinions might not always be correct, he had his way of thinking and understanding.

At that time, the family led a peaceful life, and Derrick loved the child and had high hopes for him.

Later, when Benedict was around thirteen or fourteen years old and had entered the rebellious phase, the Tanner Corporation expanded rapidly, and its operations got busy.

With Derrick hardly at home and herself not in good health, Stephanie could not cope with the disciplining of their son.

that Eloise visited their house

Stephanie to rest and offered to help her with everything at home, even became closer to

was around this period that Benedict was somehow exposed to

to that time and remembered how Benedict had lost interest in his studies

than him fooling around outside as a

he became unkempt, and his studies suffered tremendously after he also stopped bothering

become utterly obsessed wouldn't listen, and health and

came to take care

Stephanie to let Benedict explore his hobby so that he would be willing to interact with her. She then helped Stephanie