

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 817

Although it was only one day, the wait for the lab report was so hard to endure that it seemed like a century to Damian. It was the same for Joseph, who was so restless that he kept getting up to look out of his office as he waited for the lab report.

Although his son claimed nothing was wrong with the perfumes, he was still troubled by uncertainty. He has already sent someone to look for the perfumer.

If the lab report indicated nothing was wrong with the perfumes, it would be great news to everyone, but if it did not, the perfumer had to be held responsible.

Around lunchtime, Arianna knocked on his door with a document in a plastic bag.

"Dad?"

"So?"

Joseph bolted to his feet and asked anxiously.

Arianna looked conflicted as she turned to shut the door and went over to close the blinds.

Joseph

are you yourself for this." She said

is out,

he hoped Arianna could report from the plastic bag. His heart sank as impossible. There's would be what we have

face, she said anxiously, "The report indicates that the perfumes contain which is good for sales. However, the downside is that it can easily cause people with sensitive skin

Schiffer did not

indeed a problem with

"Flavoring agent?"

the striking phrase on the report place? The raw materials have enough aromas, don't they? Is the