

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 839

After a moment of silence, Joseph suddenly raised his head and broke out in laughter. "Amazing! Oh, dear daughter, I've underestimated you!"

Arianna just looked at him coldly, not having much of a reaction. She might have had a crushing defeat today if she had not done this.

After laughing for some time, his phone rang. He was not in the mood to answer it, so he picked it up after some time. "Hello?"

Suddenly, he raised his head after exchanging a few words with the person on the other end.

Standing up, he asked anxiously as his gaze averted to Arianna, "What? Are you sure that you searched everywhere?"

Arianna looked back

I got it. Calm down. No, don't call the cops.

His phone was still in his hand.

idea what he

Joseph scoffed, unable to trust her at all right now. "Did you for him soon because he's at fault, so why would I kidnap him, and where could I possibly have hidden him? Also, what good would that at all. Joseph stared at her asked. Who else could it be other than Elizabeth, who cared about Damian's off. "Elizabeth is going crazy with worry! We thought we couldn't contact him because he was in a bad mood, but something must be wrong if we couldn't get in touch with him. Everyone is watching that came to Joseph's mind was that Arianna had kidnapped Damian,