

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 853

Noah was the most confused person among anyone else. He had been in the Perfumers' Society for quite a few years and was close and often in contact with Lawrence, given his position.

However, how did Noah not realize Lawrence had lost his sense of smell? 'Is this a prank or a malicious framing or..'' He got up and made himself a cup of coffee. He put it beside him and stared at the computer screen in a daze. He was no longer feeling irritable like earlier. He had calmed down and could give the situation clear thought.

Noah remembered when he participated in events and was invited as a commentator with Lawrence over the years.

He did not notice it before, but after careful thought, he noticed something was amiss.

For example, whenever he got invited to do commentary and needed to analyze the fragrances and works of newcomers, Lawrence always asked him to express his thoughts first.

Noah did not think anything was wrong with it and that it was a test and assessment from Lawrence as an elder.

Lawrence had always praised Noah after his commentary and neutrally added a few words after he expressed his thoughts.

Noah would not have felt anything unusual had it not been for the recent incidents concerning the Perfumers' Society.

the past few years, this had been the norm in even if Lawrence was not with him but was participating in an event with others. He always let others judge first before he concluded say a few neutral words that did not contain constructive primarily general, with some

there was truly something things for a while before picking up the

the operator's voice informing him that the number was unavailable. He thought about it again and was

Lawrence's family and friends were also likely to express their concerns through endless called the Perfumers' Society's headquarters after careful call was Lawrence's assistant, "Mr. Adler isn't here. He hasn't come to the headquarters in an utter mess, and with the recent topic made public, it was likely not as critical in the problems within the management, most would