

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 887

Arianna never expected to suffer defeat at the hands of such a person. She thought she had everything under control and figured her only hurdle would be her uncle. However, she did not realize one of her henchmen would ultimately betray her.

Eloise looked as if she had aged ten years as she sat across the table, with gray hair showing on two sides. "Ari..." Her eyes were reddish and still swollen. She had never looked so miserable.

"Are you happy seeing me like this?" Arianna curled her dried lips. "Now you can depend on your precious son to give you a life of comfort, huh? You're just like dad. All you guys care about are your sons. Why bother to give birth to me, then?"

She chuckled. I was so stupid and naive to think you were sincere in helping me."

about Nate's plan, and he had kept me in the dark. Please believe me!" Eloise said hurriedly, distressed by the disappointed look Arianna gave did not want the two siblings to hurt each other. She looked up. "I don't want to hear your lies anymore, so save it for your precious son. You don't need to keep up the pretense since I'm no longer and theatricals for

I'll think of a way to save you!

Noah should save his fiancée since the two had just Neville, don't be naive! Don't you know what the Richards family and sure he'll come to save you. He will yield to the public's opinion even