

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 891

Behind a massive desk in the Tanner Corporation Building was a near-transparent glass wall-wiped so clean that it looked nearly transparent, allowing light to shine through freely.

He looked beyond the glass and took in the sprawling city landscape, thinking this was the pinnacle of his life and that he deserved to work there.

Nathaniel was holding a wine glass with its red liquid swirling inside. Its color was bright and compelling. He recalled the past few months with a slight smile as if what happened was only a dream.

He thought he could build a career through his own efforts and become somebody that people would look up to, but his company went bankrupt, and he had to dodge his creditors like a complete loser.

she was just using him and would cut him

everything had ended, and Nathaniel had achieved fame and appointment letter and buying over several small shareholders, he still felt insecure if he could not get his hands on were in Nathaniel's hands, and he could do whatever he knock on the door, the secretary entered.

office and waved his hand. "Leave

The secretary left the Eloise fixed her gaze on him. The golden sunlight pouring in from behind Nathaniel enveloped him, turning him into a

seen him the way