

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 897

"Ms. Christian, we look forward to working with you" The other party put down the pen and picked up the two copies of the contracts, revealing a satisfied smile.

Lily took the contract, carefully looked it over, and extended her hand." Looking forward to working with you too!"

She did not expect the collaboration discussion to go so smoothly as Grandeur readily accepted all of her terms with only slight amendments. In the next quarter, they would launch a co-branded series named "Grandeur de Lily," which would be a win-win model for both parties.

Of course, it was not without precedents. Some famous perfumers had worked with international brands to launch co-branded series, which were very popular among consumers who chose their perfumes based on who the creators were.

As this was Lily's first attempt to explore the international market, it would be challenging to achieve one-shot success through her alone effort.

excellent opportunity to collaborate with Grandeur, although she would not compromise if they worked with top perfumers. They would not have offered to collaborate if they were looked down on them. Therefore, if Grandeur offered to collaborate, Lily naturally had the upper hand, and it was not difficult to get them to that the terms she requested had to be reasonable for her long-term goal. After signing the contract, offers great terms. I dare to say that not many perfume you helped me go over the contract. I wasn't even aware of some of the subclauses and wordings you didn't notice them. Anyone without experience or professional training couldn't tell these contractual clauses apart as a team of lawyers wrote them. If I hadn't signed many to go

Secondly, Lily was familiar with Jenny, so Lily did not have to work with a stranger. Another important reason, of course, was that a man went over with her. Lily even imagined that he might have flown over to help her