

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 898

"How am I still alive?" The young man widened his smile and now looked much more mature than the unruly youth he used to be.

He dressed up like a businessperson with a white slim-fit shirt, hair combed neatly, and a briefcase in his hand. If he had not called Lily by her name, she could never be sure of who he was.

"Don't say that." Lily frowned. Although the young man was referring to himself, she did not feel comfortable hearing it. "It's just that I've not seen you for a long time."

Jenny looked on curiously as Lily interacted with the handsome young man sitting at the nearby table.

"I've been occupied with something." He nodded with a slight smile. "Why don't we grab a coffee since we've run into each other? My treat."

bump into him, she nodded since she had whether or friend of mine." Lily smiled. "Jen, would you like to join US for leave soon. It's been two days, and there's any emergency." Lily got duo went to a café, ordered two cups of coffee and some desserts, and sat down to enjoy a rare moment of peace. Lily stirred her coffee and looked at the young man with he was blunt and had a strong character, but now the person sitting before her was no longer a youth but he meticulously put a slice of cake on a

'Where have you been smiled. "Are you trying to ask me dead. Although I heard about it, I always