

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 900

"I used one of the pieces as an ingredient to make the essential oil, and the perfumes based on it became very popular." Lily could not help but be proud of her creations.

After some thought, Benedict asked, "Are you talking about the Four Seasons-themed series?"

"You know about them?" Lily was surprised that he had heard about the perfumes.

"Of course" He nodded with a smile. "I smelled the scent when I was with a team of models from Bryxton. I thought its scent was familiar, but I didn't expect that it had something to do with those pieces of wood."

"That's why I should thank you," Lily chuckled, "Not just that. I've tried cultivating a few other pieces back at my farm, and they have begun germinating. Their shoots have an even more unique scent, and I'm thinking of observing them further."
