

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 935

After singing the whole song himself, Ralph turned his head to look over and saw that Heather was still sitting there without saying a word.

He finally could not hold back and approached her, "Heather, do you have any opinion on me?"

She blinked and shook her head.

Seeing that she did not refuse, Ralph moved a little closer in her direction, "Since there's no objection, that means you're satisfied, so can we officially decide on the marriage?"

Although the Russell family had already made a lot of preparations for this marriage, the Riggs family's attitude was elusive, so they had to hurry up.

After all, many others wanted to climb up to a marriage like the Riggs family.

Initially, the strength of the Russell family did not need to be won over, but Alexander had full control.

Although Ralph was the uncle, he had no real power, so there was only so much he could get in his hands.

In contrast, the Riggs family, of course, was not so attractive to him.

that, no matter what, he was still comeback one day, and that was probably what the Riggs

"Heather,"

Ralph reached out and tentatively took her shoulders, wanting to make further contact. He wanted to be more intimate with soon as his fingers touched her shoulder, she jumped up as if she was electrocuted, and the hurriedly but at

Her reaction was big.

startled and even folded

for its kickboxing skills, and how professional she could be, and even Ralph himself was a match against them was no

very risky to

thief, he never dared to move too much for fear that he would be beaten and thrown out if he was not took advantage of the wine and the environment to hug her tentatively. He did not expect her reaction. His instinctive conditioned reflex was to

Heather jumped up but did not beat him, even for

like to voice as he stared at him in a daze and pointed at