

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 944

Lily chose not to look at the gifts and invited Justin into the house for tea. She instructed a housekeeper to brew a pot of flower tea since the weather was so hot.

Justin rarely drinks anything sweet, and he prefers water or tea.

They had kept it a habit for many years since they were all fighters.

They had to ensure their bodies were healthy and in top shape.

Even when they sat on the sofa, they made sure that their postures were upright.

"Have you decided on the venue for the wedding ceremony?"

Justin took a sip of his tea and asked.

"Alex has decided on the Isles Hotel," Lily told Justin, as she had heard some details from Alexander.

Justin nodded his head. It was just as he had predicted.

The Isles Hotel was, after all, one of the city's most famous ones.

decided on? Did his side exact number

hesitated for a

Russell family's situation was complicated, and she did not want Justin to worry too well. His family is very friendly. I've already met

"Okay,"

and then added, "I've seen Mrs. Russell below him, especially if they were of higher seniority. He paused for a while and continued, "She may be a bit difficult sometimes, but you must be continued, "However... You have to understand what I mean. Showing her respect doesn't mean you're weak. If she doesn't respect you or even intentionally makes things difficult for you, you shouldn't put up with urge to cry as she pouted, trying to force a smile, "Don't forget, my kickboxing skills are no skills are really good," he agreed, as Lily was Yet...

"Okay!"

to spot your enemy if they're coming at you from the front. However, if they set you up in the dark, you might Justin was such a worrywart. He was like a mother, nagging her about this and that, worried that she would not be able to take good care of

was touched, she found it kind of funny as like I'm going onto a battlefield. I'm getting married, something like that about such a joyous