

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 948

"The arrangement is complete, and we can gradually move into the market. There are still some difficulties for us to break through because a few conglomerates are in control."

"Of course, it's going to be difficult! What would I need all of you for if it was simple?" Heather questioned, "Am I paying you to do nothing?"

The man did not dare to utter another word.

"Conglomerates? They're all useless. The Tanner family is in a mess now, and they're still recovering, so they won't be able to do anything. The Lodge family had some troubles too. As for the Russell family..."

Heather smirked.

"You guys don't need to worry about that. Just do as I asked."

"Yes, Ms. Riggs."

The man nodded.

A look of satisfaction finally appeared on Heather's face as she picked up the cup of espresso and took a sip.
