

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 960

'In the past, Heather would ask me to pretend to be her and stayed in her office too, but I didn't have to say much. Sometimes, I'd just put on a dark expression and it would scare those people away. Now she wanted me to pretend to be her completely out here, and I even have to deal with this man and say such strange things to him. I can't take it anymore"

Ralph stared at Hannah with a probing gaze.

When she thought that she was going to be exposed, she heard him say, "Sure! I think what you said makes sense!"

'Huh?' Hannah raised her head and looked at him in surprise.

Then, he continued, "It's right to be honest with each other in a marriage. With that being said, shouldn't you be more honest with me too?"

He stopped there, but his intention was clear as day.

If she wanted to learn about his assets, she had to reveal hers.

However, Hannah thought of something else. She understood nothing about assets, shares, and all those business jargon, but she understood the word "honest".

I can't tell him this. If Heather finds out about

on her lip hard, not knowing how to answer

for her and was starting to forget how "tough" of that. You're going to hurt

parted it from her teeth so she would not face immediately blushed red. Her heart started beating faster at the sight of people around! If he kisses me, would I push him away? I probably wouldn't... since I so many people here!' Hannah raised his hand and tucked her hair behind

go and get you a

She had no words.

she

hers

and led her into a jewelry store