

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 970

"Oh, you realized?"

Heather snorted and did not even bother to glance at them. She stared at the wine in her glass.

"You failed to take down a declining Lodge family and even returned injured. If you know your mistake, you should pay it with your life."

Shivers ran through their veins.

"We beg you! Please spare our lives!"

"Enough!"

She put down her glass of wine heavily.

"If I want to punish you, you will not live today! Your lives are still useful for me to complete some tasks!" She then commanded, "Get up!"

After carefully looking at her to ensure it was not irony, the two stood up.

Who would have thought that the famous and intimidating Light-Shadow Killers would be so humble in front of a woman?

"I have a task for you. You'll sneak into the Russell family mansion and find something for me tonight," she said unhurriedly.
