

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 981

"Enough!"

Heather slammed her fists onto the table. Hannah was shocked and started trembling.

"Look at you. We don't resemble each other at all! Stop shaking!" Heather demanded. She wanted to kick her sister so badly.

"Are you afraid of me? Genuinely afraid of me?"

"y-Yes, I am," Hannah said in a nervous and small voice.

"You're afraid, huh?!" Heather smirked coldly.

"If you're terrified of me, then you wouldn't have gotten your ears pierced without my permission!"

Heather also had to get her ears pierced because of Hannah's selfish desires.

Heather had never wanted to change anything on her body and especially hated tattoos and piercings.

would anyone do that to their

she was fighting someone and the person took a chance to

would cause severe

allow something like that of her sister, so she started to the two shared the same face, Heather had to family already had an outstanding daughter like Heather, so she felt they did not need

said with her trembling for apologies now. I had to do up the cane she had placed on the down her lips in pain but did not avoid she knew the beating would only worsen if she would end soon if she stood

far more horrifying

would also ensure not to hit Hannah's face or visible areas such as she had the strength