

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 994

Ralph spoke softly and kneaded Heather's shoulders with both hands. He looked down and saw her delicate collarbone and skin from the angle where he stood.

However, he could not see anything further down as Heather remained well-covered in her pajamas.

Ralph could feel firmness under her skin as he kneaded her shoulder.

It was the firmness of a person who had practiced kickboxing all year round and differed from women who gave a soft feeling.

It also differed from what he felt when kissing her before.

Ralph recalled her waist feeling softer and slimmer in his arms when they last kissed.

He would feel aroused whenever he thought of it.

Although he had physical contact with her right now, he was inexplicably timid.

'Something isn't right! It must be because we aren't close enough'

Ralph recalled their last kiss and wanted to feel it again.
