

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 995

Heather felt she was already showing mercy. She disliked such intimate contact with other men. She only gave him a minor punishment and a heavy warning as she remembered she still had more important things to do and could not offend Ralph.

Ralph was unguarded, and the cut Heather left on his lip made him grimace in pain.

He was furious.

"You're crazy! Are you sick?!"

She only intended to teach him a small lesson, but his scolding made Heather's face shrouded with a layer of frost as she gave him a death stare.

Ralph felt even more furious after cursing, but Heather's cold eyes, which looked like she wanted to eat him alive, terrified him.

He regretted what he had said as his heart trembled in fear.

"That really hurt!"

His momentum weakened subconsciously.
