

Spoiled by Mr. Russell Chapter 999

Ralph tossed and turned the entire night, thinking about how he should treat that crazy woman the next day.

After much consideration, he finally got dressed and headed downstairs, realizing that apart from his mother and sister, Heather was nowhere around.

The house was quiet as everyone ate breakfast, and nothing seemed unusual.

"Where's Heather?" he asked suspiciously.

"A lady like her would never want to eat commoners' food," Celine muttered coldly.

She did not have a good impression of Heather ever since yesterday.

Although Celine disliked Lily, that woman lived elsewhere and not in the Russell Estate.

Celine did not have to see Lily if she did not want to.

However, Heather was different.

She had already moved in before even marrying Ralph, and seeing how overbearing Heather was yesterday, Celine knew she might be even worse in the future.

With Margaret still around, Celine was safe.

When Margaret passed away one day, Celine feared Heather would convince Ralph to kick her out.

thought in mind, Celine immediately decided that she would

"Enough,"

softly before turning to look at such a big family business, it's natural for her to be busy. Once you two are

Ralph replied as he walked eyesight did not notice the wound on his lips until he came closer. It was so red and swollen that it looked to your

to touch his lips. His face began to burn. He was about to come up with an excuse people were so excited last night that they couldn't wait until

caught Ralph

'So, she saw us"

and continued muttering thoughtfully, "Who would've thought that the cold and arrogant Ms. Riggs has such a passionate side? Ralph, I'm happy for you. However, remember that the Russells are no less powerful than have tricks up her sleeves,

taking his coat and getting have breakfast?" Margaret

"No, I'm heading out."

that, he

then, Heather was just a

interest in her

gentle yet domineering, obedient yet

it made her interesting and exciting to be