

Mr Smith 361

Chapter 361: How Artful She Was

0 5 minutes read

How artful she was!

In order to confuse him, she even colluded with her half-brother, whom she didn't like, to put on such a show for him?

Tsk!

Good for you, Amber!

The corner of Sean's mouth curved sarcastically. Cindy was out in the sun for so long, which was also Amber's trick, right?

In order to fool him, she really spared no effort!

That was also why she could have such a high position in the Smith Group!

Cindy stayed outside for a long time, and she was covered with mosquito bites all over. There was even a mosquito bite on her little red face.

While talking, Amber pulled out the medicine box, which contained anti-itch lotion.

She applied it for Cindy. Marcus stood there and watched. He was not as paranoid as Sean. He asked Amber with a silly expression.

"Can I know why?"

"I don't think our White Group is still not qualified. Why do you refuse to consider it?"

"Is it because of my mother?"

Amber's expression remained unchanged, and she didn't stop.

She lowered her head, but Marcus could see the emotion in her eyes clearly.

There was no wave in her eyes, as if he and the person he mentioned had nothing to do with her.

"You overthink. I just don't want to suddenly have relatives after being alone for more than a decade!"

"Especially your father. Since my mother died, I've been an orphan. How can I suddenly have a father?"

Amber didn't put it very nicely. Marcus's expression changed.

His lips moved, but he couldn't say anything. Amber put the anti-itching lotion in the medical box. She tilted her head and said in a low voice, "Mr. White, please don't show up in front of me again, or I will feel bothered!"

Marcus's lips moved.

Amber added, "I heard that the Feng Group over the years has not made much profit. It focuses on driving the economic development of Tong City. If there is no problem with your cooperation plan, you can have a try there."

Marcus nodded and apologized to her.

Then he left.

Amber finished applying the lotion for Cindy and then started to apply the medicine for Sean.

Cindy was having fun with the puppy, which was washed very clean. Cindy was not soiled anymore except for the dust on the outside.

"Mom, dad, should I give it a name?"

Amber glanced at her and asked with a smile, "What do you want to call it?"

"Shelly!"

"Shelly White!"

Amber was amused and nodded.

Cindy gave a cheer. She held Shelly and approached Sean, and whispered, "Dad, why don't change your surname to White!"

"We are a family, but your last name is different from ours. Your name makes you sound like an outsider!"

Sean's eyelid twitched, and he glanced at Amber.

He was being suspicious again.

Amber asked Cindy to say that?

What did she want to remind him?

For example, change Cindy's surname to Smith?

Nice try!

They were a family? Why didn't Amber think of this when she tried to get him killed?

Sean sneered and said with disgust, "You want me to take a dog's last name?"

"I won't lower myself to that!"

Cindy was stunned, "Dad, don't you like Shelly? Don't you want Shelly to be our family?"

Sean glanced at the stupid, quiet, cute dog on the ground, and then looked away.

Cindy was even more disappointed.

The interaction between the two was captured by Amber.

“Cindy, your dad is not feeling well. Can you go play by yourself?”

Cindy nodded, and Amber added, “Your clothes are dirty. Go back to your room, change your clothes, and then come out for dinner.”

“I’ve made you Egg Custard.”

“Thanks, mom!”

Cindy obediently led Shelly into her room and change her clothes.

Amber applied the medicine for Sean and went into the kitchen. When Cindy came out, the dinner was ready.

Cindy liked Shelly so much that she even held it when she was eating.

Amber felt something was wrong with the dog. She never raised dogs, but were Pomeranians all so quiet?

She pressed her lips and handed the Egg Custard to Cindy, “Cindy, put the dog down, and play with it after eating, okay?”

Cindy held the spoon, took a spoonful of Egg Custard, and handed it to Shelly’s mouth, “Mom, I want Shelly to eat with me!”

Amber was frightened.

“Cindy!”

She suddenly raised her voice, which frightened Cindy.

Cindy looked at Amber dumbfoundedly, “Mom?”

Amber blinked and whispered, “Cindy, Shelly needs to eat what dogs eat! Otherwise, it might get sick!”

“When Mr. White gave you the dog, he also brought the dog food! Remember?”

Amber was very nervous. After all, Shelly hadn’t been vaccinated and checked again!

She didn’t dare to let Cindy have too many intimate contacts with it!

“Listen to me. Put Shelly down and eat first, okay!?”

Cindy pouted and put Shelly down obediently.

Sean thought Amber was making a fuss!

A dog frightened Amber so much?

Was he not as intimidating as a dog in Amber’s eyes!

Amber would like to take Shelly to the pet hospital for an examination immediately, but she had been very busy recently.

On the one hand, she had to take care of Sean. On the other hand, there were still a lot of documents to deal with.

Sometimes she had to go to the company.

Amber was finally free and Lu Yi came.

The wounds on Sean were much better. After the gauze on his hand was removed, Amber saw that the wounds on the palm of his hand healed.

Sean was not in Xingyue Bay when Lu Yi arrived there.

“Where is Sean?”

Amber was still reading the file in her hand. Hearing Lu Yi’s words, she didn’t lift her head, “I don’t know. He’s almost healed.”

“So, he started to go to recreation places again?”

“Huh?”

Amber was confused. Lu Yi handed over his phone that had just been unlocked.

The scene was very familiar. At the gate of Ye Se, Lin Man stood beside him, and the two were walking inside. The title was eye-catching.

#Sean Reappeared at the Bar with His New Love#

Amber glanced at Lin Man whose dress hemline was lifted by the summer wind. She was slender, standing in the blurred lights, pure and clean. She was incompatible with the bar!

Amber handed the phone back with an unchanged expression, and said with a smile, “He has been bored these days. It’s good for him to hang out!”

“Since Sean’s wounds are almost healed, he would move back!”

Lu Yi’s tone was flat, “Amber, you should make your plan early.”

“Whether it is the paternity test or Cindy’s kidnapping, it proves that you and Sean are not suitable for each other!”

Chapter 362: He Doesn’t Love You

0 4 minutes read

“He doesn’t trust you. He doesn’t love you!”

It was not very pleasant, but what Lu Yi said was true.

Since she gave birth to Cindy three years ago, Lu Yi had never given up to persuade Amber to divorce Sean.

Amber’s attitude was firm every time.

“Lu Yi, Cindy needs a father.”

Lu Yi smiled and said in a low voice, “Sean is not a good father. Besides, he hurt Cindy a lot!”

“I know you’re doing this for her own good, but you should consider her feelings!”

Amber’s expression froze for a moment. She didn’t avoid this topic like she used to, but thought about it seriously.

The corner of Lu Yi’s lips twitched.

He changed the topic, “Where is Cindy?”

“In the room, playing with Shelly.”

“I’ll go find her. I brought her a little present.”

Amber nodded. Lu Yi and Cindy got along well, so she didn’t stop him.

But she didn’t expect that he would take Cindy out directly.

Cindy kept rubbing her eyes, and her eye sockets were red. Amber heard the footsteps and raised her head. Seeing this, she frowned, “What’s the matter? Cindy, why are you crying?”

Cindy took a breath, and encircled Amber’s neck, “Mom, I can’t see things clearly!”

“I can’t see clearly...”

Amber and Lu Yi glanced at each other.

Lu Yi said, “When I went in, Cindy was rubbing her eyes and crying, saying she could not see clearly.”

Amber licked the corner of her lips and asked in a low voice, “Why? Her eyes were fine the other day.”

“Cindy, did you secretly watch TV again when I wasn’t home?”

Lu Yi thought for a moment, then asked in a low voice, “You mean she is nearsighted?”

“Is it possible?”

“We might go and test her eyesight. When I came, I saw an optical shop at the gate of Xingyue Bay.”

“If she is really nearsighted, she should wear glasses, and then you can find a way to correct her vision.”

Amber nodded.

She was not in the mood to take care of her work anymore.

Neither Amber nor Sean was nearsighted, and they often overused their eyes.

However, Cindy had blurred vision suddenly...

“Then let’s go down and give her a checkup.”

Lu Yi nodded.

It was dark outside, so Cindy and Cindy didn't wear sunscreen clothes anymore. The optical shop was not very far from where Amber lived, and the three of them arrived there soon.

Cindy stood there and had her eyesight tested.

Her vision was blurred. Cindy couldn't see clearly wherever the doctor pointed at.

She was a little anxious and burst into a rage of tears.

Amber's heart seemed to be grabbed by someone, and she couldn't even breathe.

She stepped forward and picked up Cindy. Lu Yi also followed. The owner of the optical shop whispered, "You kid's situation is a bit serious!"

Amber's eyebrows were knitted tightly.

Amber ignored the owner, looked at Lu Yi and said, "She can't be nearsighted all of a sudden!"

"She is probably sick!"

Lu Yi pressed his lips.

"Should we take her to the hospital for an examination?"

"I think it might not be that serious. We should keep an eye on her condition for another night."

"I know an ophthalmology expert. He was away to participate in the exchange meeting. He will come back tomorrow. I will take you and Cindy to him!"

Amber was in a state of utter stupefaction. Lu Yi's suggestion was reasonable.

As a mother, she certainly hoped that her child would be fine.

Amber returned to Xingyue Bay with Cindy in her arms. The lights inside were on. Lu Yi opened the door. As soon as Amber entered, she saw Lin Man who was sitting on the sofa with Sean and was talking.

Both of them had glasses of water in front of them, and the glass in front of Lin Man had a slice of lemon.

Her eyes dimmed, kept silent, and walked in with Cindy in her arms.

Cindy's eyes were uncomfortable. She was curling in Amber's arms silently, as if she didn't exist.

"Amber, Director Lu?"

"It's so late. Where have you been?"

When Lin Man spoke, Sean looked at them.

He was sitting under the light. The top button of his white shirt was unbuttoned, and from Amber's angle, she could see the man's sexy collarbone.

When Sean Lu Yi, his eyes darkened a bit.

He was wondering why Amber was not home when he came back.

It turned out that she took the child out to have fun.

“Miss Lin, are you also here with Sean at this hour of the night?”

Lu Yi smiled kindly, and said carelessly.

Lin Man’s expression changed.

She pressed her lips and explained in a low voice, “Amber, don’t misunderstand. Since Sean and I are here, it means that we did nothing improper!”

Amber didn’t speak.

She didn’t have time to talk to Lin Man at all. She changed her shoes. Cindy’s eyes were already so red, and she kept rubbing her eyes with chubby hands.

Amber clasped Cindy’s hand, “There are bacteria on your hand. Stop it.”

“Mom, where’s dad?”

Cindy’s voice was thin, and soft with a hint of choking.

Sean heard her all at once.

Cindy wouldn’t look for him like this usually.

It was a bit abnormal.

The corner of Sean’s mouth twitched. Did Amber do anything sorry for him and Cindy discovered it?

Thinking about it, he looked at Amber and Lu Yi suspiciously.

Maybe Cindy’s biological father was Lu Yi!

When Sean was thinking about this, Amber held Cindy and walked in his direction.

“Dad is on the sofa, see?”

Cindy’s eyes were red again.

“Mom, I want dad to hold me.”

How could Amber reject her?

She walked directly to Sean’s side and put Cindy in his arms.

Cindy and Sean had lived together for a long time, and she was very familiar with Sean’s breath.

Almost as soon as she got close to Sean, she subconsciously encircled his neck.

“Dad.”

Then, not only Sean, but also Lin Man saw Cindy’s strange appearance.

“What’s wrong with Cindy’s eyes? Amber?”

Hearing Lin Man's words, Sean raised his head and looked in Amber's direction.

His eyes were sharp, like a cold blade.

Chapter 363: Do You Know How to Take Care of Children

0 4 minutes read

"Director White, do you know how to take care of children?"

"Did you spend all your time seducing men?"

Amber froze.

In Sean's eyes, her reaction proved that she was guilty.

He reached out and stroked Cindy's head which was very hot, and the clueless irritability came up to him again.

Did Amber only know how to pretend to be nice?

The child had such a serious fever. Was she waiting for him to send her to the hospital?

She was not afraid that Cindy's illness would become serious?

She was not afraid that there was really something wrong with Cindy's eyes?

Amber was a little impetuous. She looked at Sean after hearing this, "Sean, I am not like you!"

"With all the injuries, you still run around!"

Sean's eyes darkened. Was Amber accusing him?

Oh, maybe she was mocking him!

After all, he never had sex with her in the past three years, so Amber thought it was right for her to hook up with other men!

"Amber, you have misunderstood Sean."

"He cares about Cindy..."

"He cares about Cindy?!" Sean said in a cold voice, interrupting Lin Man, "She is not my daughter. Why should I do that?"

"Without her, without her daughter, will I die without descendants?!"

Amber looked at Sean incredulously.

There was a little bit of disappointment in Amber's eyes, which was seen by Lin Man.

Sean's heart contracted.

Amber was disappointed with him?

He didn't do anything to sorry for her!

Sean and Amber looked at each other. His eyes were deep and vast, with a gloomy look that people could tell at a glance.

"Woo, dad, don't you want me anymore?"

With the blur vision and the fever, Cindy was already uncomfortable and depressed. Sean's words, like a knife, pierced her heart directly.

She cried suddenly, and her tears soaked Sean's white shirt in an instant.

The scorching temperature made Sean forget to breathe.

Sean had never felt this way before.

He grabbed Cindy's arm a little tightly.

Cindy was sobbing and crying. She was too sad to stop it.

"Dad..."

Sean pressed his thin lips and told himself in his heart.

He would have heartache for any child who was in such a situation!

She was only three years old. He shouldn't blame her for what Amber did.

"Lin Man, there is a thermometer in the medical kit."

"Her temperature is a bit high. Take it over and take her temperature."

Summer was hot, but Amber felt freezing.

She actually had noticed that Cindy's temperature was abnormal.

But she thought it was because they just came back from outside.

So she didn't take it seriously.

Hearing Sean's words, Lin Man rummaged through the medical box.

Five minutes later, they got Cindy's body temperature, thirty-nine degrees.

Lin Man exclaimed, "Sean, she has a high fever. Let's send her to the hospital."

Sean's eyes flickered. When he was about to stand up, he saw Amber standing in the light with a worried expression.

Lu Yi was behind her. He was probably worried about Amber and was appeasing her.

He didn't notice that when he took Cindy's temperature.

They were standing not far from him. Sean could even hear the soft whispers between them. They were more like lovers' murmur.

Sean paused abruptly.

He reduced his strength of holding Cindy, and the worry on his face disappeared.

He didn't hesitate to throw Cindy in his arms on the sofa.

"Lin Man, I've only been discharged from the hospital for a few days. I don't want to go back because of someone else!"

Lin Man paused and looked a little dazed.

"Director White and Director Lu look very leisurely!"

"Your daughter is almost blind, but you are still in the mood to flirt with Director Lu. I guess Director White won't mind even if Cindy is blind."

The lights were on in the room, but at that moment, when Amber heard Sean's words, the lights in the whole world seemed to have turned off.

She bit her lower lip tightly.

Her concern for Cindy was weakened by Sean's words.

She started to tremble unexpectedly.

She blinked and suddenly felt dizzy. She pressed her lips tightly. Cindy's crying filled her ears.

Amber's tears fell. She stepped forward and held the crying child in her arms, her lips trembling.

Sean thought Amber would plead with him.

At least, she should plead with him for sending Cindy to the hospital.

She should plead with him for finding an ophthalmologist expert to see Cindy and for arranging award for Cindy...

However, Amber held Cindy who was crying loudly in one hand, and her eyes grew firmer.

She freed her other hand, wiped away the tears on her face neatly, and looked at Sean fixedly.

"Yes, I'm a slut! All my time is spent on seducing men!"

"Since Mr. Smith despises me, please get out of my place!"

Sean froze.

"Amber! Stop it. You're talking in anger!"

Lin Man took a step forward and wanted to dissuade Amber.

Amber took a step back and avoided, "Mr. Smith, I am in a hurry to take my daughter to the hospital. Please leave the key to Xingyue Bay when you leave!"

"You'll back to your Hai Wan Xiang Xie and fool around with whoever you want. I won't interfere!"

Before Sean could react, she had walked up to Lu Yi with Cindy in her arms.

Lin Man anxiously mediated between them, "Sean, don't be angry with Amber. She didn't mean that!"

"You shouldn't quarrel!"

"Cindy's eyes are the priority!"

Sean chuckled.

She was talking in anger?

He could fool around with whoever he wanted? Amber was still trying to sow discord between him and Lin Man?

It had been three years. Why was she still so vicious?

Sean grabbed Lin Man who still wanted to comfort Amber, looking gloomy.

"Let's go! I'm leaving. Director White, you think I really want to face you every day?"

"This shabby place is not enough for me to stretch myself! You think I like it?"

Saying that, Sean took out the wallet from his pocket and drew out a thick stack of money, "Director White, thank you for taking care of me, a disabled person, for so many days!"

Chapter 364: That Was How He Humiliated You

0 5 minutes read

"This is the three times salary of a nanny on the market. If it is not enough, call me!"

Saying that, Sean raised his hand and scattered the banknotes into the air.

The money swirled in the air and fell to the ground, spreading on it.

Sean clasped Lin Man's hand and pulled her out.

A banknote dropped on Amber's shoulder. Lu Yi's eyes were reflected by the light and looked gloomy.

He reached out and brushed the banknote off her shoulder, "I'll ask Sean to apologize to you."

After Lu Yi took a step, Amber stopped him, "No!"

"He was humiliating you! You have been taking care of him since he was injured. How could he do that?"

Amber pressed her lips. She lowered her head and glanced at Cindy who was sobbing in her arms, "Lu Yi, take Cindy to the hospital!"

"I don't care what he has done or what he is about to do!"

The corner of Amber's mouth twitched and she whispered, "I'm used to it anyway, and I don't have any expectations!"

“Lu Yi, I only have Cindy, and now only you can help me. Can you help me send Cindy to the hospital?”

Lu Yi fixedly looked at Amber. Her eyes were full of tenacity, as if nothing could knock her down.

After getting in the car, Amber held Cindy and sat in the back of the car. Cindy said with sobs, “Mom, does dad not want me anymore?”

Amber took a deep breath, and the breath in her chest was all bitter.

She held back her tears and couldn’t say anything.

Sean took Lin Man away.

Amber didn’t know how to tell Cindy that her father didn’t care about her at all. Even if she was blind, he would not feel bad at all.

The atmosphere was heavy. Cindy’s tone remained unchanged, but Amber heard a heart-piercing sadness in it, “Mom, am I going to be blind?”

“No.” Amber controlled her voice and said softly, “That won’t happen.”

Cindy gripped Amber’s shirt tightly, “Mom, I’m scared.”

“Cindy, you must be brave. Don’t be afraid.”

“We will ask the doctor. It must be caused by your disobedience! You will be fine if you are good.”

Cindy nodded slightly.

She curled in Amber’s arms obediently. Probably because she heard the pain mixed in Amber’s voice, she didn’t talk about her father or her own eyes anymore. Seeing this, Amber felt more distressed.

The ophthalmology department was on the second floor.

After getting out of the car, Lu Yi took Cindy, held her tightly, and strode forward.

There were a lot of people in the hospital. Many people were waiting in front of the elevator. Lu Yi turned in another direction and got on the safe passage.

The light inside was obscure. Lu Yi was in front of her, and his shadow was stretched so long. Amber chased him for two steps, and suddenly stopped.

Her tears were like a flood, completely out of control.

She had been waiting for eleven years.

But she never got what she wanted.

He didn’t know her, didn’t know his daughter. After being with him for three years, all she got was his hatred.

In the past three years, she had never despaired no matter when she worked hard alone or raised the child alone.

Amber wiped away her tears. When Cindy was sick, it was Lu Yi who helped her.

And it was Lu Xiangxiang who always kept Cindy company.

Amber wanted to give Cindy a perfect home, but in the end, she understood one truth, that was, nothing forcibly done was going to be agreeable.

Her feet seemed to weigh thousands of pounds. She couldn't move forward.

When Amber found Lu Yi, he had already found the doctor on duty.

Cindy was lying on the hospital bed in the office. The doctor opened Cindy's eyes and checked seriously.

Amber clasped her fingers tightly and was anxious.

Lu Yi stretched out his hand and patted her shoulder, soothing, "Don't worry. She will be fine!"

After checking Cindy's eyes, the doctor touched her head.

He didn't say a word. Amber was a little worried and asked, "Doctor, how is my daughter?"

The doctor pondered for a moment and said, "She is probably infected with parasites!"

What the doctor said was like a thunderbolt. Amber was dizzy and couldn't even breathe smoothly. She asked in disbelief, "What?"

"Come and see!"

The doctor opened Cindy's eyes, pressed her head, and turned on the light on the bedside.

Amber took a step forward, lowered her head suspiciously, and saw a thin line flashing across Cindy's eyes.

Amber's heartbeat suddenly raced.

Her pupils contracted violently. The thin line seemed to squirm...

Amber was scared, and slumped to the ground.

She suddenly sobered up and rested her back against the legs of the bed. She asked in a low voice, "Toxoplasma? The source of infection..."

Amber thought of the Pomeranian sent by Marcus.

"Madam, don't worry, your daughter's infection was found out early. Your husband said that it hasn't been long since your daughter suffered from decreased eyesight!"

"Her eye tissue hasn't been damaged. You should get her hospitalized and let her have a deworming treatment!"

Amber got up from the ground. At this time, she was not in the mood to correct the doctor.

She was so confused.

Cindy was probably infected by larvae, and then it spread to her body through the intestine.

It took time.

But it hadn't been long since Cindy raised the Pomeranian. How could she be infected so fast?

It was less than half a month!

Amber's face turned pale, like white paper. Lu Yi looked at her, frowned, and said in a low voice, "Amber, the doctor has said Cindy will be okay. Why are you so nervous?"

Amber licked the corner of her lips and said in a low voice, "Lu Yi, someone is trying to harm Cindy."

"Huh?"

Seeing Lu Yi's puzzled gaze, Amber told him her conjecture.

"Someone tampered with that dog."

Lu Yi took a cold breath.

Cindy was only three years old. He couldn't figure out who would try to hurt such a child.

"Why did you suddenly let Cindy have a dog? Didn't you disagree with that?"

Amber's lips trembled, "I don't know. Marcus sent that dog to Xingyue Bay suddenly."

"Cindy wanted it very much, and Marcus ensured that there was nothing wrong with it. He even showed us the dog's health certificate..."

Amber added, "At that time, Sean had just been discharged from the hospital. I wanted to take that dog for a check-up and get it a vaccine for deworming, but I was too busy and forgot it..."

Lu Yi, "..."

"That dog has a health certificate?"

Lu Yi sneered and whispered, "You said the dog was sent by Marcus? Could it be Marcus's revenge?"

Chapter 365: His Revenge

0 4 minutes read

"His revenge?"

Amber sneered unacceptably, "Not long after my mother died, his mother married my father!"

"Why did he retaliate against me? Besides, the White Group is going from bad to worse, and he really wanted to work with the Smith Group. He has no grounds for doing that."

Amber and Lu Yi went downstairs for Cindy's hospitalization. After confirming that her infection was not serious, Amber became calmer.

"Then who do you think the culprit is?"

When Lu Yi asked this, Lin Man's figure flashed across Amber's mind.

But she quickly ruled it out.

"I'll call Marcus and figure out the whole thing." Amber forced out a smile, "Lu Yi, thank you for sending Cindy to the hospital."

"It's getting late. You should go back home."

Lu Yi wanted to say something, but he only nodded in the end, "Okay."

After that, he left directly.

Out of the elevator, Lu Yi took out his mobile phone and called Tomas.

At that time, Tomas was about to go to bed. When he saw it was Lu Yi, he raised his eyebrow in surprise and answered it.

"Lu Yi, what's the matter?"

Lu Yi paused.

"Uncle, did I disturb you?"

"No, I'm still up."

Tomas said with a smile.

Lu Yi frowned slightly, "Uncle, I just sent Amber and Cindy to the hospital. Cindy is infected with parasites and her eyes were blurred... The doctor said that she might be blind."

The smile on Tomas's face disappeared instantly.

He held the phone tightly.

"You sent them to the hospital?" Tomas asked, "Where is Sean?"

Lu Yi lied, and his expression remained unchanged, "When I went to Xingyue Bay, I didn't see him."

"Uncle, Sean is dissatisfied with me, so it is not proper for me to stay in the hospital. Can you call Sean and ask him to keep Amber company in the hospital?"

The familiar suffocation came up to Tomas's chest again.

He took a deep breath, held back his anger, and said, "Okay, I will call him..."

After that, he hung up the phone.

Tomas fell to the ground along the edge of the bed. His blood was like flowing backwards.

He held the phone tightly.

He knew that after Sean was discharged from the hospital, they went back to Xingyue Bay. He had people guarding Hai Wan Xiang Xie to prevent Sean from coming back suddenly!

If he wasn't in Xingyue Bay and Hai Wan Xiang Xie, he must be fooling around outside!

"Tomas!"

Mrs. Smith opened the door and walked in. She was startled when she saw Tomas's pale face.

"Here, take your medicine!"

She quickly found Tomas's hypotensor, put it in his mouth, and gave him a sip of water.

Tomas looked a little better. He took a deep breath and said harshly, "Call that bastard!"

Mrs. Smith's expression changed,

"Amber complained to you again?"

Tomas snorted, glanced at her, and went out to call Amber.

When Sean received the call from Mrs. Smith, he was in Ye Se.

There was a glass of colorful wine in front of him, and he was accompanied by a beautiful woman.

As the heavy metal music fell in his ears, Sean's temples jumped. As soon as he lowered his head, he saw his phone screen lit up. Mrs. Smith's mobile phone number appeared on it.

Sean answered it.

Mrs. Smith's voice was almost inaudible in the loud music, "Sean, where are you?"

"What's the matter, mom?"

Mrs. Smith licked her lip and whispered, "Is Amber in the hospital? What happened to her baby?"

"Your dad has known it and was enraged!"

"You go to the hospital and don't annoy your dad!"

Sean's eyes darkened.

Was Cindy's condition so serious?

Could it be a terminal illness?

Sean asked in a low voice, "Is Cindy seriously ill?"

Mrs. Smith didn't want to mention Cindy at all, but to get Sean mentally prepared, she whispered, "Amber said she might be blind."

Sean's pupils contracted suddenly.

Might be blind?

The scenes in Xingyue Bay suddenly replayed in Sean's mind. At the time, he had never thought that Cindy's condition would be so serious!

Was this also Amber's revenge?

Sean hung up the phone, picked up the car key, and was about to leave.

“Sean!”

Lin Man stopped him. Her eyes were clear, which were in comparison with the dim lights in the bar.

“Are you going back? Is something wrong with Cindy?”

Sean pressed his lips, “I’ll go to the hospital. Amber is still my wife. I have to be around her, in case others would call me ruthless.”

Lin Man’s eyes darkened.

Sean had always been unfettered. How could he care about others’ ideas?

Obviously, he was making an excuse.

Lin Man grabbed Sean’s hand tightly, “Sean, you’ve been drinking. I’ll go with you!”

Sean suddenly drew his arm back. For the first time, he looked at her with a distant look, as if she was a stranger.

“No, you go back to the hotel. Cindy can’t be provoked at this time. She doesn’t like you. I will be safe on the road.”

The mood in Lin Man’s eyes fluctuated, and she clenched her fists tightly.

She stared at Sean’s back. His white shirt was smudged into an unspeakable color by the blurred light and shadow, and disappeared from her sight.

Cindy again!

That little bastard again!

...

After Sean arrived at the hospital, he didn’t rush to the ward, but fetched Cindy’s medical record.

After all, he was the largest shareholder of Tong City’s Central Hospital. Even the attending doctor came to see him immediately.

Cindy’s eyesight was measured. Originally it was normal, but the medical record showed that it was around 0.4.

After reading the medical record, Sean was shocked.

Cindy called him dad for almost two months.

He couldn’t remain indifferent.

He put the medical record on the table and said in a cold tone, “Could the child’s eyes be healed?”

The attending doctor was a little confused.

He looked at Sean and said in a low voice, "The child's condition is not that serious. Didn't your wife tell you?"

Sean's pupils were jet-black and deep. He looked at the doctor and made him feel very stressed.

The doctor swallowed and whispered, "Miss Smith is infected with parasites, but it was discovered early... After the treatment, her vision wouldn't be affected!"

Sean's pupils contracted again.

"Mrs. Smith knows something about the parasites... Didn't she tell you?"

Chapter 366: Sean Suddenly Laughed

0 4 minutes read

Sean suddenly laughed.

However, the anger in his smile was so obvious that the doctor couldn't relax.

Great!

Good for you, Amber!

He was fooled by her again!

Amber was doing whatever she could to get the Smith Group. Why did she make up such a lie! Was she trying to get his father and him killed and then get the right of inheritance?

Sean abruptly stood up from the chair. He rushed out of the office like a gust of wind. Before the doctor could react, he was already out of sight.

He held the medical record and went directly to the ward.

Amber faced him with her back, wiping Cindy's face.

The little girl was still up, staring at Amber with big eyes.

"Mom, where's dad?"

"Will dad come to see me tonight?"

Amber choked up. Cindy was infected with parasites because she didn't take good care of her!

Sean wouldn't come to see her either.

Her self-rejection was deep and strong. She almost hated herself.

She knew that Cindy would only think of Sean as her father!

A layer of tears covered Amber's eyes.

"Dad is busy. He may not come today..."

Cindy looked disappointed, "Mom, you and dad quarreled again."

"Will I see dad in the newspaper as before?"

"Mom..."

Cindy's words were like a fire, burning Amber's heart. It was scorching. Amber was a little out of breath in pain.

Amber pressed the corner of her mouth and reached out to stroke Cindy's head.

The door of the ward behind was suddenly kicked open. Amber turned her head in fright. Sean held the medical record in his hand and strode in.

Amber wiped her tears, "Sean? Oh, why are you here!"

Her expression was blank. Sean suddenly sneered, "You are really good at pretending!"

Sean was curious, wondering why she could manage to act as if nothing had happened after every time she had a quarrel with him.

"Director White, don't you know the reason?"

Amber froze.

He fixedly looked at Amber with cold eyes.

The only hint of surprise in Amber's eyes disappeared, "What do you mean?"

"What do I mean?"

Sean suddenly laughed. He took a stern look at Amber and said coldly, "Your daughter is okay. But why did you call my father and lie to him? You want to scare him to death?"

"Oh, right, maybe he would change his will and gave you all the shares before he dies!"

Amber was in deeper and deeper disappointment.

"With no effort, you can get the huge Smith Group! Director White, you have great finesse."

Sean's eyes were red and were dyed with disgust and hatred.

Otherwise, why did Amber do that?

Her daughter was okay. Why did she tell his father that her daughter was going to be blind?

Amber knew medicine, but his father didn't!

"Amber, my dad treats you so well. Why are you so cruel to him? You really want to get him killed?"

"Pop!"

Amber raised her hand and slapped Sean hard in the face.

Her palm was numb and painful. Five fingerprints quickly showed on Sean's fair-complexioned face.

The lights in the hospital were pale, and Amber looked paler under the lights.

It took Sean a long time to react.

He stretched out two fingers and touched his face. It was still tingling. Sean gasped in pain.

Amber was the wrongdoer. How dare she slap him!

There was a gloom over Sean's eyebrows. As soon as he clasped Amber's arm with one hand, Cindy on the bed suddenly yelled in a choked voice, "Mom, dad!"

"Don't fight!"

Hearing this, Amber turned her head subconsciously. Cindy had got out of bed.

Cindy was in a hurry to stop them, and her vision was blurred.

She walked hurriedly and was tripped over by the chair in front of the bed.

"Bang!"

"Cindy!"

Just by listening to the sound, she could tell how badly Cindy fell.

Amber pushed Sean away abruptly, walked to Cindy in two steps, and picked her up from the ground.

Cindy's forehead broke, and there was blood on her forehead.

She whimpered and curled in Amber's arms, crying, "Mom, why..."

"Um... Why do you always quarrel with dad..."

Cindy was out of breath from crying.

Sean stood not far away, looking at Cindy. A flash of light flashed across his eyes.

Cindy really seemed to be blind.

Could it be that Amber didn't tell the whole thing clearly and his father misunderstood?

As soon as this thought came up, Sean ruled it out.

Amber would make so many calls when she worked. How could she make such a mistake?

Sean didn't believe it!

He would never judge Amber wrong.

Maybe this was Amber's another battered-body trick. Wasn't she always very calculating?

It was not surprising that she would use her daughter.

Sean stood in a daze. Cindy's voice suddenly rang in his ear.

"Dad!"

“Dad...”

His pupils contracted, and he had already held Cindy in his arms. Cindy rested her small head on his shoulder, and he could even feel her heartbeat.

“Dad, I’m scared.”

The warm tears fell on Sean’s shoulder, and wetted his shirt, making him feel very uncomfortable.

He wanted to move. Cindy cried, “Dad, can you stay with me in the hospital?”

“I heard mom cry. She seems to be more scared than me...”

Sean froze. After Cindy’s head was hurt, Amber went out to call the nurse. When she said this, Amber happened to be back.

His gaze crossed the doctor and nurses and fell on Amber. Her eyes were red. She stood there, looking helpless.

Her hair was messy. One sleeve of her shirt was rolled up, and the other was not. She was in the slippers of Xingyue Bay, and looked disheveled all over.

The doctor and nurses were going to take Cindy away, but because of a move of Sean, they stopped.

“Dad, I don’t like aunt Lin, but if you stay in the hospital with mom and me and after my eyes recover, I won’t hang up on her again.”

“Dad, don’t quarrel with mom, okay...”

Chapter 367: It Is Not About Him

0 5 minutes read

Cindy cried sadly. Amber’s tears also ran down.

Sean stretched out his hand, rubbed Cindy’s head, and said in a low voice, “You eat too many sweets. That’s why your eyes are uncomfortable. You’ll be fine in a few days!”

“Really?”

Cindy took it with a grain of salt. Sean put her on the bed and said in a flat tone, “The doctor is here. If you don’t believe it, you can ask him.”

Cindy couldn’t see clearly. If Sean didn’t tell her, she wouldn’t even notice that there were other people in the ward.

Hearing Sean’s words, the doctor hurriedly said, “Yes, there is a small worm in your eyes. If you eat sugar again, your teeth will have worms too.”

“Come here, the doctor will deal with the wound on your head!”

When the doctor treated Cindy’s wound, Sean had already left the ward.

Amber received Tomas's call.

There was a little tentativeness in Tomas's voice, "Amber, is Sean in the hospital?"

Amber rubbed her face and responded.

Just a few people knew Amber and Cindy were in the hospital. Lin Man would not call Tomas, and Sean would not do that to bring himself trouble, either.

So it was probably Lu Yi who called Tomas.

Amber took a deep breath.

"Amber, is Cindy okay? I will come to see the baby with Sean's mother tomorrow..."

"Dad, don't bother."

Amber whispered. Tomas paused.

"Cindy will be fine after being treated for a few days."

"Sean said you are feeling sick again. You don't need to come."

Amber's voice was low, and Tomas found the strangeness in her tone almost instantly.

"Amber, did Sean say anything unpleasant again?"

"Put him on the phone!"

Tomas was going to be angry. Amber smiled and said in a low voice, "No, it's not about him."

"Dad, I have something to tell you."

Tomas suddenly had a bad presentiment, "Huh?"

"Cindy is sick. I may be unmotivated to work in the recent period. I will submit my resignation to Sean this evening..."

There was a sudden silence on the other side.

The corner of Amber's mouth twitched. The small piece of glass on the door of the ward reflected her dismayed expression.

Amber breathed a sigh of relief, "Dad, it's late. Good night."

Tomas suppressed his anger and asked, "Did that bastard say something mean to you again?!"

"Amber, you are capable at work. If it wasn't for that bastard, why would you suddenly resign?"

Amber felt a bit poignant.

"Dad, I have been a little tired recently. Besides, Cindy has been too lonely in the past three years. I plan to take her on a trip in a few days!"

"Sean has nothing to do with my decision."

Tomas was speechless.

Cindy was ill, and he couldn't talk to Amber for too long, "You take a good rest and leave the resignation aside before you think about it clearly."

"Whether it's taking care of Cindy or taking her on a trip, the Smith Group can give you a leave! Just leave the resignation aside..."

After Amber hanging up, the doctor had done dealing with Cindy's wound.

It was already very late.

Amber sat on the edge of the bed and rubbed Amber's head.

She didn't know what the doctor had told Cindy. Cindy stopped crying, and there was a slight smile on her pink face.

"Mom..."

"Huh?"

Cindy asked carefully, "Where is dad?"

The gentleness on Amber's face disappeared a little, "Dad has gone out. You go to bed... When he comes back, I'll wake you up."

The smile on Cindy's face faded, "I will sleep after dad comes back."

"Cindy, there's no telling when dad will come back. You sleep, okay?"

Cindy pressed her lips, raised her head, and stared straight at Amber's face, "Did dad go to Aunt Lin again?"

Amber was stunned.

She didn't know.

When Sean left, he was angry. He loved Lin Man. How could he take it out on Lin Man?

"Mom, my eyes are uncomfortable. Can you call dad and ask him to come back?"

"When my eyes recover, I will not bother him again."

Cindy said in a choked voice, "Mom, didn't you say that I am dad's child?"

"Why doesn't dad stay with me when I'm sick?"

A layer of mist covered Amber's eyes.

Her beloved daughter shed tears frequently after meeting Sean.

It was because of her incompetence. She could not even help Cindy achieve such a small wish.

"Dad is occupied by work. You go to bed. I will call him later and ask him to come back anyway, okay?"

Cindy looked at Amber with red eyes and asked, "Really?"

"Yes, I promise!"

Sean did not leave the hospital. In the parking lot of the hospital, he was holding a cigarette and sitting in the car that was filled with smoke. His expression was engulfed by the thick smoke.

Not knowing how long he had been in the car, Sean put the cigarette out in the ashtray, and then started the car.

There was really no need to waste his time on Amber.

With a faint pain on his cheek, Sean pressed the corner of his lips.

Amber was really cheeky. She had done so many bad things, but she could still be so confident and even slap him!

With this in mind, Sean got angrier and angrier.

Where did she get the courage to ask his daughter to keep him in the hospital?

Should the whole world revolve around her?

He deserved to be slapped by Amber if he went back.

Sean drove the car out of the garage but stepped on the brake before leaving the hospital.

The car stopped downstairs in the inpatient department. He raised his head and glanced upward.

Which floor did Cindy live on?

She was not in the SVIP ward anyway.

The shares in the hospital belonged to him, not Amber.

What if Amber called his father again after he left like this?

He hadn't completely recovered. He couldn't stand his father's whip!

Right!

Maybe Amber was calling his father. If he went up, he could catch her on the spot!

Sean licked the corner of his lips and drove back, holding the phone in his hand, and went straight upstairs.

Cindy was drowsy, but she hadn't fallen asleep yet. Amber was telling her a story.

Sean pushed the door in. Cindy's eyes lit up, looking in the direction of the ward door, and asked, "Mom, is it dad?"

Amber also looked back. Sean was wearing a white and clean shirt, and his legs were slender and straight in his trousers.

She bit the corner of her lips. When she was about to nod, Sean had walked up to Cindy in a few steps.

Chapter 368: I Would Wait for Dad

0 4 minutes read

“Yes, it’s me.”

Cindy covered her mouth, giggled contentedly. Her smile was innocent and clean.

Sean only felt that Cindy looked silly and gave her a slightly disgusted look, “Why are you still up?”

“I’ve been waiting for you to come back.”

These words seemed to have touched Sean.

He pressed the corner of his thin lips. Under the lights, he looked clean and charming.

It seemed that it was not a bad thing to have a daughter!

As soon as he had such an idea, his eyes dimmed instantly.

He wanted a daughter, but Amber kept occupying the position of Mrs. Smith!

He couldn’t have a baby with Amber!

Sean snorted coldly, and pressed the corner of his lips slightly. The ward door was knocked, and the nurse walked in.

“Mr. Smith, the ward is ready.”

Amber was stunned, “What ward?”

Sean’s eyes were deep. He leaned down, picked up Cindy, glanced sideways at the single patient bed, and sneered.

“Director White, do you want me to sit in the ward for a night?”

Amber was speechless.

The nurse took a step forward and whispered, “Mrs. Smith, Mr. Smith asked me to prepare the SVIP ward. The room has been cleaned up, and it is still the one you stayed before!”

“The child is still up. We can move now.”

Amber pressed the corner of her lips and nodded.

If Cindy’s ward could be better, she would certainly be grateful.

With Sean in the hospital, the doctors in the hospital would pay more attention to Cindy’s eyes. Maybe her eyes could be cured sooner!

Amber packed up the things and followed Sean upstairs.

The nurse didn't follow. Cindy couldn't resist her sleepiness, so she curled in Sean's arms, sleeping peacefully.

It was silent in the elevator.

Amber was still a little disheveled, but she was fair and beautiful. In the dim lights in the elevator, she looked like a princess in a fairy tale.

"Don't I deserve a 'thank you' after helping you so much?"

Sean suddenly spoke. Amber licked the corner of his lips and looked into his dark and deep pupils.

The mockery in his eyes was flickering.

Amber was speechless for a moment, and it took her a while to get her voice back, "Saying thank you would be insincere!"

"You can give me a gift in token of gratitude."

This was the first time Sean asked her for something. Amber paused and suddenly remembered the watch that she hadn't returned to him.

Amber blurted out, "You are almost healed. Tomorrow, I'll return to Xingyue Bay to pack my things, and I will bring you the watch."

Watch?

Sean suddenly remembered it. He almost forgot that the watch Lin Man gave him was still in Amber's hand.

Why did she suddenly mention his watch? Could it be that she was afraid that he would be angry and leave her and Cindy in the hospital after he was slapped by her?

So she deliberately mentioned it and tried to please him?

Amber was an excellent weathercock!

Sean despised such a move, and suddenly looked gloomy.

"That watch is mine. It should have come back to me long ago!"

"Director White, are you too poor to afford a gift?"

Amber smiled, tucked the messy hair on her cheeks behind her ears, and said in a neither humble nor pushy tone, "Yes. I don't have much money."

"Even if I really prepare a gift, I guess you would not like it!"

"I won't invite humiliation."

Sean was speechless.

Amber was the director of the marketing department. Her bonus was 300,000 dollars last month.

"Are you trying to tell me that the Smith Group can't afford the salary of a director of marketing?"

“Or our Smith family treats you shabbily?”

Amber, “...”

Sean always misinterpreted her meaning. She had been used to it.

Hearing Sean’s words, Amber pressed her lips, pretending that she couldn’t hear him.

Seeing her keeping silent, Sean asked.

“Can I take your silence as your acquiescence?”

“Sean, I didn’t mean that.”

As soon as Amber finished speaking, the elevator door opened. Amber took the lead to step out.

Sean snorted and followed.

It was getting late. Sean put Cindy on the hospital bed, and then took out an ointment from his wallet.

Amber was very familiar with it. It was the one she bought. Besides, it was expensive. She made some efforts to find this ointment.

Unexpectedly, Sean took this ointment with him.

Amber frowned and understood instantly.

Sean lived in Xingyue Bay for less than a week, and then left. Every day, he was of uncertain whereabouts. The injuries on him were still not healed. If he didn’t take it with him, how could he apply the medicine?

When she was thinking about this, Sean suddenly stuffed the ointment into her hand.

Amber unscrewed the lid and took a step in Sean’s direction. Sean didn’t pose any gesture to take off his shirt or lift his shirt.

“Sean? I’ll apply the medicine for you.”

Sean raised his head, and the light flickered in his narrow and dark eyes.

He raised his chin. His cheek was slightly swollen, and the fingerprints were clear.

“Director White, don’t you see my face is swollen? You should start to apply the medicine here, right?”

Amber held the ointment and pressed her lips tightly.

“Mr. Smith, don’t you think it will be too intimate if I touch your face?”

Sean suddenly stretched out his hand and grabbed Amber’s arm. He pulled her towards him, and her delicate and clean face instantly magnified in front of him.

Her breath sprinkled on Sean, gentle and warm, with the unique smell on her.

Sean’s expression remained unchanged, and a sneer appeared on the corners of his lips.

“So you changed touching my face to slapping me in the face?”

Amber was speechless.

Sean grabbed Amber’s hand and pulled it to his cheek abruptly.

The lights in the ward were dim, and they were not close to each other. His thin breath sprinkled on Amber’s face, and the atmosphere instantly became ambiguous.

Amber licked the corner of her lips.

The tip of her pink tongue swept across her lips, making her perfect lip dyed with a charming luster.

Sean’s eyes darkened a bit, and he stared at Amber’s lips firmly.

Her daughter was ill, and she was still in the mood to s*duce him?

Did glory and wealth overweigh everything else?

Sean sneered. What made her think he would fall in love with her?

Amber didn’t move. Sean relaxed, and the light in his eyes was stained with a thin layer of disdain.

“Director White, you slapped me. Shouldn’t you be responsible?”

Chapter 369: When Did the Smith Group Become So Strict With Employees

0 4 minutes read

“Anyway, you have to apply the medicine for me, in case you will forget who you are and do this to me again!”

Amber was suddenly relieved.

She licked the corner of her lips again, squeezed out a little ointment, and applied it on Sean’s swollen cheek.

His cheek was burning in pain. The ointment was cold, and it dispelled the discomfort immediately...

Sean’s eyes narrowed.

Amber was so skillful that she quickly finished applying the ointment.

The wounds on Sean’s back were already healed. After he took off his shirt, the pink scars were exposed in front of her. Sean needed to remove the scars.

After that, Sean lay on the edge of the bed and closed his eyes.

After such a long day, he fell asleep quickly.

Sean had always been a light sleeper. When he was half asleep, a sound of flipping the paper rang in his ear.

He suddenly opened his eyes. The lights in the ward were all turned off, and only the lamp beside the bed was on.

With her head down, she was lying prone on the table beside the bed, holding a pen, writing and drawing on the paper.

A sneer flashed across the corner of Sean's lips.

Staying up in the middle of the night, Amber was pretending to be dedicated in front of him?

Three years ago, he caused her to give birth to her daughter by doing a cesarean herself. Even if he got blood cancer, Amber would not donate her bone marrow.

He had such a deep affection for the Smith Group, and Amber knew it well.

If she pretended to be dedicated to her work, maybe he would really leave the Smith Group to her!

Sean snorted coldly.

He suddenly sat up from the bed, and this sudden movement scared Amber.

"Director White, why are you still up? It's so late."

"You don't have to go to work tomorrow, but I have to!"

Sean looked at the paper in Amber's hand, and said in a low voice, "Tsk, when did the Smith Group become so strict with its employees? Are you asked to work in the middle of the night?"

Amber's eyelashes trembled.

She had written down the outline of the file.

She handed it directly to Sean.

Sean didn't reach for it. The night was quiet, and the light inside was dim.

Amber pressed the corner of her lips and whispered, "This is the biggest project of the marketing department. If you don't read it, I will ask Xiaoshen to fetch it tomorrow."

Sean's eyes darkened. What did she mean?

She would ask her secretary to submit it to the president?

Did he have to read the project plan that Amber made?

That was ridiculous.

Amber suddenly reached out and handed the paper on the table to Sean.

Sean's expression was originally careless and mocking. From the corner of his eye, he caught a glimpse of a main word on the paper.

Resignation.

Sean lowered his head abruptly, and fixed his eyes on the word.

"Amber, what do you mean?"

Amber's look was calm, "Take it literally!"

"I won't be the director of the marketing department of the Smith Group. Please find a suitable person for it!"

Sean's eyelid twitched.

His father had great hope in Amber.

Was Amber retreating for the sake of advancing?

If his father knew, what would he think?

He forced her to resign?

His father would kill him!

Sean's eyelid twitched violently.

He did not reach for the resignation. Amber whispered, "Sean, you are afraid that I'll covet the Smith Group, aren't you?"

"We can sign another agreement."

Sean moved his gaze to Amber.

Was she going to put forward conditions?

What did she want? The shares of the Smith Group or something else?

Sean sneered. He would like to see what Amber was up to!

"What agreement?"

Amber's tone was flat, "No matter what happens in the future, I won't take any shares of the Smith Group, and I will never enter the Smith Group."

"But I have one condition."

Her gaze crossed Sean and fell on Cindy behind him.

"I hope you can give Cindy enough fatherly love!"

"You need to spend at least two days with her every week."

A touch of sadness covered Amber's eyes. Sean couldn't ignore it.

His pupils contracted.

She didn't want the Smith Group?

She didn't want shares?

She only wanted him to spend more time with Cindy?

Sean didn't believe it!

Amber probably knew that he had seen through her and would guard against her, so she was doing this deliberately!

She wanted to use all her chips to exchange opportunities to be together with him every day?

If he fell in love with her, she would have everything!

What a good plan!

"I disagree!"

Amber was stunned, "Sean, don't rush to refuse!"

"The two days can be accumulated!"

"As long as the time you spend with Cindy in a week reaches 48 hours, it will be enough."

This condition was really tempting!

Sean sneered and said, "It doesn't matter how long I spend with Cindy. The thing is, I don't want to see your annoying face!"

"This problem is easy to solve."

"I don't need to show up. When you have time, you can give me a call in advance and I will leave Xingyue Bay, or I can send Cindy to Hai Wan Xiang Xie!"

Amber thought for a while, and said in a low voice, "If you think two days are too long, one and a half days will do!"

Sean was silent.

He was actually surprised.

The worry and sincerity in Amber's eyes were enough to prove that she was serious!

Sean followed Amber's gaze and glanced at Cindy who was sleeping peacefully behind him.

Her face was pink.

Amber really loved this little brat!

Love me love my dog? So she also loved him?

Sean frowned deeply and thought it was impossible.

Amber was cunning. If she really loved him, she wouldn't have made so many efforts to marry him!

Couldn't she pester the person she really loved?

Sean's eyebrows were knitted tightly. Could it be that Cindy's real father was poor?

Sean said unhappily, "No!"

Amber licked the corner of her lips and looked at him fixedly.

“Amber, you are good at sparing a thought for yourself!”

“She’s not my child. Why should I spend time with her every week?”

“I will have my own children in the future. Are you suggesting that I have to stay with your child rather than keep my wife and my children company during my weekly breaks?”

“You wish! In comparison, the shares of the Smith Group are a better choice!”

Chapter 370: Being Guilty

0 4 minutes read

Amber froze.

Sean knocked off the resignation in Amber’s hand, and it swirled onto the floor.

Cindy is your daughter...

This sentence was stuck in Amber’s throat. She couldn’t swallow or spit it out.

Sean’s gaze fell on him, like a knife, cutting Amber’s fragile nerve.

“Amber, you are too impatient. I only asked you a few words. However, you made such a fuss to resign.”

Saying that, he leaned forward and approached Amber gradually, “Is this about your guilty conscience?”

Amber felt cold all over, as if being soaked in a basin of cold water.

She pressed her hand against Sean’s strong chest and pushed him back.

Amber suddenly bent down, picked up the resignation, and put it on the table.

“I won’t go back to the Smith Group. I have already told your father!”

“After Cindy recovers, I will take her on a trip.”

Sean was stunned for a moment.

Amber was very serious.

Maybe she really wanted to resign?

After being the marketing director for three years, she suddenly wanted to quit?

Sean couldn’t figure out what Amber was up to.

He should be happy to kick Amber out! She was full of cunning tricks. If she took the initiative to leave the Smith Group, it would be great news.

But when she did that, Sean couldn’t help being angry.

He couldn’t let Amber leave the Smith Group!

What if Amber left because she wanted to do bad things secretly?

In other words, Amber was quite high up in the management hierarchy. She knew a lot about the Smith Group's operating model and philosophy. What if she leaked the confidential information of the Smith Group?

Keeping her right before his eyes was the best choice.

Sean reached for the resignation, and torn it apart.

"I disagree!"

Amber was speechless.

"If I stay, you will worry that I covet the Smith Group. I want to resign, but you disagree. Sean, what do you want?"

Amber was afraid of waking Cindy, so she deliberately lowered her voice.

But there was a fit of strong anger in her voice.

Sean couldn't ignore it even if he wanted to.

"Then do things that won't worry me!"

Sean sneered and said, "Director White, you are smart. You know what I mean."

After that, he stretched out his hand, grabbed Amber's shoulder, and pulled her directly onto the bed.

Amber was unprepared, and fell into Sean's arms.

All the smell on him was the ointment. In the middle of the night, it made Amber feel distraught for no reason.

Cindy lay on the edge of the bed. Amber didn't want to be close to Sean.

So She moved subconsciously. Sean grabbed her waist tightly.

"Don't move!"

Amber didn't listen to him, and pressed her hands against Sean's chest, "Let go of me!"

Sean hugged her more tightly. He looked into Amber's eyes fixedly.

Blurred lights could easily warm people's hearts.

The corner of Sean's mouth curved. He reached out his arm and directly turned off the only lamp on the head of the bed.

The ward went dark instantly.

"Sleep!"

"I didn't come to the hospital to read your resignation!"

Amber hadn't given up struggling. Sean didn't have her in his heart, so she didn't want to be near him at all, fearing that her heart would be occupied by him again.

Sean suddenly grabbed her hand and held it in his palm. His voice sounded more and more threatening.

"Amber, are you going to do something else with me?"

Amber suddenly froze in his arms.

Sean sneered when he noticed her reaction.

Amber was unwilling to have sex with him?

Was she trying to keep her integrity for Cindy's biological father?

Or she knew he only loved Lin Man and wouldn't have sex with her?

Night concealed the gloom on his face. He lowered his eyes and sneered.

He wouldn't have sex with Amber!

He hated her and got upset when he saw her. How could he have sex with her? !

It was already late. Sean put his arm around Amber's waist, closed his eyes and fell asleep.

...

The next day.

Amber was woken up by the phone, and she was still in Sean's arms. Sean was sleeping soundly.

She was in a daze, reaching for the phone and answered it.

"Hello?"

There was silence on the phone. Amber glanced at the screen, and her sleepiness disappeared in an instant.

This was Sean's mobile phone.

The caller was Lin Man.

She knew that Sean did not have the habit of saving people's phone numbers. But she discovered that Lin Man was an exception.

Amber's heart contracted.

"Amber?"

There was a trace of stiffness in Lin Man's voice, "Are you with Sean? I'm in the hospital to see Cindy..."

Before she could finish her words, Sean woke up. He raised his eyes, glanced at the phone in Amber's hand, and asked, "Who is that?"

Lin Man heard Sean's voice which was a little lazy and low.

Just like he was on the phone...

Lin Man's brain went blank. Amber sounded lethargic, and so did Sean...

Did they sleep together last night?

Amber panicked and involuntarily moved back.

She got out of Sean's arms in an instant.

Amber arranged her messy hair and handed the phone over, "I thought it was my phone, sorry..."

Sean rubbed his forehead and took it without hesitation. When his eyes fell on the screen, his pupils contracted slightly.

"Lin Man?"

"What's the matter?"

Lin Man could hardly hold the mobile phone. She forced out a smile, "Sean... I am in the hospital. Where is Cindy's ward..."

Sean said, "The one I stayed before. Come here directly!"

Within a minute, Lin Man pushed the door of the ward in.

Amber was about to get out of bed. She held the edge of the bed with one hand and sat barefoot beside Sean.

The clothes on her were not very tidy. Lin Man froze, and even subconsciously took a half step back.
