Chapter 391: Sean Suddenly Kissed Her

0 4 minutes read

Amber smiled carelessly.

She reached out and found Sean's shirt in her luggage and then went to the bathroom.

The shirt on Sean was already in the trash can. His upper body was naked, and the scars were lying hideously on his fine back, which was very terrifying.

Amber lowered her head subconsciously, stared at her toes, and handed the shirt over.

"Here you are..."

In the next second, she was pulled into the bathroom and was pressed against the wall by Sean.

His black eyes were as dark as the sea, and he stared at Amber firmly, "Director White, the turmoil of the paternity test had just passed. Are you so anxious to get me into trouble?"

"Do I look good when I cooperate with you to clarify your scandal?"

Sean rarely had such a gaffe.

Amber blinked, "Sean, Shi Muzhou and I are old classmates and we are on good terms."

"The media is very clear about our relationship. Even if they see us appear together, they will not misunderstand."

"Last time at the opening ceremony of Luoshenwan, I walked the red carpet with Shi Muzhou. Remember?"

Sean sneered.

Amber always explained her relationship with other men in such a way!

Only Amber and the person concerned knew the truth.

Sean lowered his head to look at Amber. She was looking up at him. The bathroom was dimly lit, and Amber's neck was long and fair-complexioned, making a seductive curve in the air.

His naked upper body was close to her. After he lowered his head, Amber's fair-complexioned face was right here under his nose.

Sean could even feel her slender and curvaceous figure. She was not like a woman who had a three-year-old daughter.

Sean's eyes darkened. He suddenly reached out and lifted Amber's chin. The look in her eyes was blank. Sean suddenly leaned over and kissed her.

Amber's eyelid twitched.

He pressed her against the wall hard. Amber couldn't break away or move, so she could only let Sean kiss her.

Her lip seemed to be bitten, and her eyelashes trembled in pain.

After letting go of Amber, Sean glanced at her up and down. Probably due to the lack of oxygen, her face was flushed.

As soon as he let go of Amber, she subconsciously stretched out her hands and posed to guard against him.

Sean was displeased.

Was he a lecher in her eyes?

Three years ago, when she tried to marry him, why didn't he see Amber guarding against him like this?

Sean grabbed the shirt and put it on.

He buttoned up his shirt meticulously, and the faint smell on the collar came to his nose. Amber probably had washed the shirt for him.

The lemon-scented laundry detergent and the fragrance on her were almost integrated.

Amber's eyes were calm. She was one step ahead of him and wanted to go out, but was stopped by Sean. His tone was deep, "Amber, you'd better distance yourself from the men you shouldn't be with!"

"The Smith family can't be disgraced by wantons."

Amber retorted, "Mr. Smith, are you talking about your second sister-in-law?"

His second sister-in-law was addicted to gambling and was pestered by gamblers.

She often hit the headlines too.

Hearing this, Sean glanced at her.

In front of him, Amber had always been submissive. This was the first time she spoke to him in such a sarcastic tone.

The corner of his mouth was raised, "Her husband died! But yours hasn't!"

"Really?"

Sean raised his eyebrow

What did Amber mean by this?

"Sean, I don't think there is any difference between me and her!"

Sean sneered.

Oh, right.

The second sister-in-law was a widow, and Amber was not much different from a widow.

She meant she hated to be neglected or overlooked?

But Amber had many lovers. Couldn't they satisfy her!

Sean buttoned the last button and tucked the hem of his shirt into his trousers.

Amber ignored his charm, and whispered, "Sean, can you stay with Cindy in the hospital for a day? I have something to do."

"Where is your best friend? Where are Cindy's other fathers?"

Amber smiled, "Sean, they have no responsibility to look after Cindy."

"You are Cindy's father. You should be with Cindy when I am not around."

Stepfather was also father.

Sean understood.

But it didn't mean he was willing to look after Cindy.

When he was about to refuse, he suddenly thought of Shi Muzhou.

If he didn't look after the child, would Amber leave her to Shi Muzhou?

He was the most unprincipled entertainer. What if he showed up in front of the media with Cindy and repeated what he said to him to the media?

Sean glanced at Amber, neither agreed nor refused.

Amber regarded this as his tacit consent.

Hearing they come out of the bathroom, Shi Muzhou stopped teasing Cindy.

At a glance, he saw Amber's slightly red and swollen lips.

With a joking smile on his face, he said, "Tsk, Amber, did you answer the nature's call in there?"

"Mr. Smith, you are interested in watching her do that?"

Cindy turned her head and said with a chuckle, "Dad, shame on you."

Sean smiled, "She is my wife. It is legal, isn't it?"

"You are at the proper age for marriage. Are you going to be a bachelor for a lifetime?"

The atmosphere was tense.

Amber didn't seem to feel it. She walked to Shi Muzhou with her handbag, "I have to run errands."

"Give me a ride."

"I'm not leaving!" Shi Muzhou refused without thinking about it, "I'm playing with Cindy. I just came here and I haven't finished the lemonade!"

Amber insisted, "You are a public figure. If you get Cindy involved in your rumors, I won't let you go!"

“If you insist, I’ll call your agent!”

Shi Muzhou’s expression changed, and he quickly jumped off the bed.

After the two left, the ward fell silent. Cindy couldn’t see, sitting on the bed quietly.

Sean walked over and picked her up from the bed.

“Dad?”

“Yes.”

Sean answered naturally.

She had gauze on her eyes, and her mouth was similar to Amber’s.

“Do you want to go out to play?”

Cindy was tempted but hesitated, “But I can’t see.”

Sean thought for a while, strode out, and said as he walked, “I have a holiday manor. It is a good place to avoid the summer heat. It’s bustling and has much delicious food. We can eat lunch there.”

Chapter 392: Even Mom Can’t Use It

“If you like it, we’ll stay there for one night.”

“What about mom?”

“If you’ve made up your mind, I’ll call your mom and ask her to take the doctor over.” Sean rubbed Cindy’s head and asked in a low voice, “You still need a drip, don’t you?”

It was so boring to stay in the ward. Sean couldn’t stand it.

Although Cindy knew it was not okay to leave the hospital at this time, she hesitated and left with Sean.

Sean liked to drive fast. The manor was not in the city. Before leaving, Sean installed a child seat on the co-driver’s seat.

Cindy liked it very much. She chose a pink one for herself.

The pink child seat was incompatible with the dark interior trims of the car.

He subconsciously wanted to remove it.

But Cindy was already seated, touching it, and asked with a smile, “Dad, will your co-driver’s seat be my exclusive seat?”

“Even mom can’t use it!”

Forget it.

Sean sighed.

Maybe he owed Amber and deserved to be tormented by her daughter.

Sean ignored Cindy, directly started the car, and drove out.

Soon, his phone rang.

He squinted and answered it.

Lin Man's voice was shallow, with a touch of warmth, "Sean, I want to see Cindy. Can I come?"

Sean froze.

He took a look at Cindy and frowned deeply.

"Lin Man, I'm taking Cindy to the holiday manor. If you have time, you can join us."

There was a silence on the phone. After a long while, Sean heard the sound of packing things. "Sean, Cindy just had her operation, and you took her out of the hospital?"

"Does Amber know?"

"Do I have to inform her before I do anything? That's ridiculous." Sean said in a flat tone, "Are you at the hotel? I'll come and pick you up."

"I don't know how to look after children, and I might need your help later."

Lin Man said okay.

It only took him a few minutes to reach Ritz-Carlton. When Sean arrived, Lin Man was already waiting downstairs. She stretched out her hand and was about to pull open the door of the co-driver's seat, its door rolled down.

Cindy's little face, covered with gauze, appeared in front of her.

Lin Man froze. When Sean looked at her, she smiled and opened the back door.

After getting in the car, Lin Man asked in a low voice, "Why are you going to the holiday manor suddenly?"

Sean held the steering wheel and said, "To avoid the summer heat and have fun."

Lin Man did not speak anymore. She lowered her head, unpacked the Haagen-Dazs she bought, and handed it to Cindy.

Before she could say anything, Sean suddenly reached out and took it over.

"Sean, that is for Cindy."

Sean raised his eyes, "Amber said she had a fever last night and can't eat such cold things."

"I feel a little hot. Let me eat this."

He felt hot?

Lin Man pressed her lips.

From the moment she entered the car, she realized that the air-conditioner was on, but the temperature was not low.

This temperature was the most suitable for Cindy, right?

In the past two years, Sean changed a lot.

Although he said he hated Amber, he didn't actually hate her that much. Although he did not admit that Cindy was his child, everything he did for her was showing he loved her.

Lin Man suddenly smiled, "Okay."

"When we get there, I'll buy other snacks for Cindy."

"Thank you, aunt Lin."

Cindy tilted her head and whispered, "But mom won't let me eat what other people give me."

"Why?"

"Because there are always people who are trying to harm me!"

Although Cindy's tone was not hostile, Lin Man's face turned livid with embarrassment.

"Cindy, how can you be so impolite?"

Sean snapped. Cindy, who was sitting in the child seat, smiled, "Aunt Lin, I'm sorry. My mom said that I couldn't see because I ate something other people gave me."

"You're not angry with me, are you?"

"Of course not."

Lin Man gritted her teeth and said with a smile.

It fell silent in the car. Cindy curled in the child seat and closed her eyes.

Her eyes were covered with gauze, so Sean didn't know she was asleep.

Lin Man noticed that Cindy's breathing stabilized. She said to Sean in a slightly raised voice, "Sean, you should call Amber and tell her."

"After Cindy's eyes were hurt, she became more sensitive."

"She might get angry if she can't find Cindy in the hospital."

Sean sneered.

She would get angry?

Didn't she insist on making him look after Cindy?

So Amber should be mentally prepared for the way he looked after Cindy!

Besides, why didn't she inform him when she fooled around with other men?

She cuckolded him so many times. She was not afraid that he would also get angry?

Sean drove the car and didn't mean to call Amber at all. Lin Man took her phone out and whispered, "It's not convenient for you to call while driving. Do you remember Amber's phone number?"

"I'll call her."

Sean looked in the rearview mirror and met Lin Man's eyes.

They were so clear that he could almost see the bottom.

He sneered.

After spending a lot of time with Amber, he also became paranoid.

Sean licked his lip, shook his head, and said a phone number.

Lin Man's fingers stiffened.

She called. Amber did not answer. Then she called again.

When it was about to hang up automatically, Amber answered it.

"Hello?"

Amber's voice was good. Through radio waves, it reminded people of her pretty face.

"Miss Lin, what's the matter?"

Lin Man licked the corner of her lips, feeling a little nervous, "Amber, Sean asked me to make the call. We are taking Cindy to his holiday manor..."

Amber was silent.

It suddenly became silent in the car because of her silence. Sean subconsciously turned his head and glanced at Cindy.

She tilted her head, motionless, looking like she was asleep.

"Amber, don't worry. I promise to take good care of Cindy..."

"Don't worry? I was quite at ease, but when I heard your words, I was not."

Chapter 393: She Is My Daughter

0 4 minutes read

She was not at ease?

Why?

Even if Lin Man had no children, she could do better than Amber. Amber left Cindy in the hospital after she just had the operation!

Who knows what she was doing outside?

She was the least reliable person in the world.

Sean sneered, and heard Amber's voice again, "Is Sean there? Put him on the phone."

Lin Man pressed her lips, and her voice was slightly aggrieved, "We are on speakerphone. Sean can hear you."

As if it was not her who satirized Lin Man, she said directly, "Are you on the way to the manor?"

Sean said yes.

Amber's voice was a little sullen, "Sean, you should have told me that you were going to take Cindy out when I left the hospital!"

"Then why didn't you tell me what you were going to do?"

Amber, "I'm going to deal with some personal affairs, but the person you took out was my daughter!"

Sean could tell that Amber was already a little angry, but she kept holding back her anger since she talked to him.

Sean's narrowed his eyes. Where was Amber? What was she doing?

"You know Cindy is your daughter?"

"Amber, you left her to me, so how I look after her is my business!"

"If you have a problem with this, you can take your daughter back. I will never stop you!"

Amber paused, "You guys be safe. Cindy just had the surgery. She should avoid certain food. I'll send it to your phone later. When I'm done, I'll pick her up."

"Thank you for looking after my child."

Sean froze.

He thought that Amber would quarrel with him...

Unexpectedly, she accepted him taking Cindy out of the hospital so calmly.

Sean lowered his eyes. Before he figured out how to answer, Amber had hung up the phone.

He suddenly pulled over.

"Lin Man, I'll make a call. You stay in the car with Cindy."

Lin Man held her cell phone and nodded.

Sean opened the car door and got out, standing not far from the car and calling Xu Lin.

“Find out what Amber is doing now.”

Xu Lin was a little confused, “Mr. Smith, Director White’s daughter just had the operation. She is probably looking after her in the hospital...”

“Cindy is with me!” Sean licked the corner of his lips with a gloomy expression, “Cut the crap. Just do as I said.”

Xu Lin hung up in fright.

Sean was a little irritable. It was almost noon, and it was very hot outside. After he hung up the phone, he got into the car directly.

Sitting in the car, he didn’t have the slightest intention to continue the way.

He felt that things were out of control.

Why did he care about what Amber was doing?

She was just a slutty woman whom he was forced to marry. Why should he care about her?

His beloved woman was sitting in the back seat. He should drive to the holiday manor, leave the child to the service staff and then take Lin Man to do whatever they wanted!

Sean was annoyed. Lin Man sat in the back seat silently.

About five or six minutes later, Sean’s cell phone rang.

He glanced at the number on the phone and picked it up.

Xu Lin’s voice was a bit anxious, “Mr. Smith, Director White is in the Smiths’ mansion.”

“Huh?”

He was looking after her child while she was slandering him in front of his parents?

The temperature in the car dropped instantly.

But Xu Lin hadn’t finished speaking, “Before she went there, she saw a lawyer...”

Saw a lawyer?

Amber was going to file a lawsuit? To sue Lin Man?

By using the evidence that was not considered evidence?

Sean suddenly sneered, “Who is she going to sue?”

Xu Lin swallowed and said in a low voice, “She is not going to sue anyone. She saw a divorce lawyer.”

Sean wanted to tell Xu Lin to help Amber hire a famous lawyer, but after he heard this, these words were stuck in his throat.

Amber met with a divorce lawyer?

Who was going to divorce?

Sherman?

Or Lu Xiangxiang?

Lu Xiangxiang was still single, right? It was Sherman?

It had been so many years since Amber called him father. She wanted to intervene in his business?

Amber was crazy, or she thought Yolanda would listen to her?

Sean frowned.

Xu Lin continued, "Mr. Smith, did you have a fight with Director White?"

"The Smith Group's stock has just stabilized. It is not a good time for divorce."

Sean did not speak. Xu Lin swallowed, "Maybe you should buy a bunch of roses and apologize to Director White."

Apologize to Amber?

Was he insane or Xu Lin insane?

In Amber's eyes, he was a hot property. Would she be willing to divorce him?

Amber deliberately went to see the divorce lawyer. She was trying to bluff him!

Couldn't her lovers give her sweet talks and flowers?

Sean hung up the phone angrily.

He took a deep breath and glanced out of the car window.

He saw a flower shop by the side of the road. A bunch of wrapped red roses was placed at its door, which was particularly eye-catching.

Sean fixedly looked at the bouquet of roses. After watching it for a long time, he suddenly got out of the car.

Lin Man looked at him without speaking.

Sean took out his wallet and gave the florist a wad of money. Then he walked back to the car with the roses in his hands.

In the next second, the car door was opened, and the bouquet of roses was too big to be put into the car. He held it with one hand, and reached the other hand to Lin Man.

Lin Man hesitated, put her hand in Sean's big palm and got out of the car.

"Sean?"

Sean handed the roses to Lin Man and asked in a low voice, "Do you like it?"

Lin Man kept silent.

Sean knew that in their current relationship, it would be inappropriate for him to give her flowers.

But Xu Lin's words just reminded him.

Having been with Lin Man for so many years, he seemed to be a very unqualified boyfriend. He had not even bought flowers for her.

Sean narrowed his eyes. He looked at Lin Man as if there were stars in his eyes.

"Lin Man, I have given you many things, but I have never given you flowers."

"The shop owner said that there are 1,111 roses, which represents one heart and one mind."

Chapter 394: Your Wife Is Amber

0 4 minutes read

"They are for you."

The light came behind Lin Man and made her look a little gloomy.

"Sean, you are married. Your wife is Amber."

Sean was a little touched.

If Amber were Lin Man, she would not remind her that the person he loved was Lin Man.

It was impossible for him to give Amber roses.

The only person he loved was Lin Man from beginning to end.

If Amber wanted to divorce him, he would agree without hesitation!

He would never regret it anyway, but Amber would.

"Its just a bunch of flowers."

But when you look at me, you are like looking at someone else.

Lin Man pinched the palm of her hand, "Sean, I said, I didn't come back to ruin you and Amber's life!"

"The flowers are beautiful! Give them to Amber!"

Lin Man said and took them, and whispered, "Sean, I will hold them for you! We are not going to the manor. We should go back to Amber and give her the flowers."

"My mom is allergic to pollen."

Suddenly a childish voice came. Cindy woke up sometime. She sat up straight.

"There have never been flowers in our house."

“And my mom said that flowers are the genitals of plants, not good things. Aunt Lin, if you like them, dad can buy you more bunches.”

“Don’t worry, dad, mom won’t mind.”

“A few bunches of flowers can’t ruin our life at all.”

These few words were not like the words of a small child. Sean and Lin Man’s faces instantly turned livid.

Cindy curled in the child seat and asked in a low voice, “Dad, have we reached the manor you said?”

Lin Man’s hands, holding the flowers, stiffened.

These more than a thousand flowers seemed to have become a hot potato. She frowned and didn’t know whether she should throw them away or hold them.

“We are not going there.”

Sean took the flowers from Lin Man, opened the trunk, and threw them in.

Then he asked Lin Man to get in the car.

He turned the car.

Sean planned to go back and ask Amber how she usually taught her child.

How could a child say those words?

He drove fast and didn’t notice that they were followed, let alone the picture of him sending Lin Man flowers had been captured by the reporter.

It took him more than half an hour to drive back to Ritz-Carlton.

“Lin Man, I have to go back to the old mansion. I will bring Cindy to pick you up in the afternoon. Then we will go to the manor.”

...

In the study on the second floor of the Smiths’ old mansion.

In front of Amber and Tomas, there was a chess board.

Tomas frowned and suddenly gave a wry smile, “Amber, are you so anxious to leave the Smith Group?”

“Dad, I’ve won. We made a deal. If I win, you will allow me to quit.”

Tomas changed the subject, “What are you going to do?”

There was a touch of blankness in Amber’s eyes, “Maybe a doctor.”

“It’s a busy job. You have Cindy. I can give you an investment, and you can start a small company.”

Amber shook her head, “Dad, don’t bother.”

“I want to create a career on my own.”

“Within fifteen working days, I will give over charge of my office to my successor.”

Before she finished speaking, Tomas’s cell phone rang.

He paused and clicked into it. It was a new message.

Sean held a bunch of roses and handed them to the woman standing opposite.

Tomas’s face became gloomy in an instant.

He clicked into Microblog. The news that Sean sent Lin Man 1,111 roses had already become a trending topic.

#Sean Smith Brought His Daughter to Send Flowers to a Mysterious Girl Who Was Likely to Be His Daughter’s Stepmother.#

The picture was different from the one Tomas received.

In the picture, Sean and Lin Man were standing beside the car. Cindy was sitting in the child seat with gauze on her eyes.

Tomas’s breathing raced and his face turned red in anger.

“Dad?”

Amber hurriedly poured a glass of water for Tomas and whispered, “Dad, calm down. Have some water.”

Tomas slammed the water glass away. Then it broke apart at Amber’s feet.

He showed the picture on his phone to Amber, “Amber, is this why you want to resign?”

Amber’s eyes fell on the phone screen.

Her eyes were dark.

“Dad...”

“Before you came, I received the company’s morning newspaper!” Tomas patted his thigh angrily, “You are all hiding Lin Man’s return from me!”

“You think I wouldn’t know it?”

“Did that bitch make Cindy infect with toxoplasma?”

Amber paused, looked at Tomas, and said in a low voice, “Dad, you are not feeling well. I will get you medicine.”

She took a step but was stopped by Tomas, “Amber, you care about that bastard’s father, but that bastard doesn’t care about you!”

Amber smiled.

“Dad, don’t interfere in this matter.”

“Cindy’s infection had nothing to do with her. She just came back to participate in the designer exchange contest.”

Tomas pressed his lips and said in a low voice, “My medicine is on the bedside of the bedroom. I’m a little out of breath. Go get it for me!”

Hearing this, Amber hurriedly turned and walked out of the room.

Tomas made a call directly.

“I asked you to get rid of Lin Man not to send her to the trending topic!”

The person on the other side said in a low voice, “Mr. Smith, when I arrived, your son just picked her up and left.”

“However, he sent her back just now! Don’t worry. I have already warned her, and she promised to leave Tong City immediately.”

Tomas didn’t look better. He hung up the phone and cursed.

He had a bad premonition that he might lose Amber, his daughter-in-law, soon.

Tomas sighed. Then Sean’s voice rang outside the door.

He frowned, stood up from the chair, and looked down beside the railing on the second floor. Sean put Cindy on the sofa and asked a maid to cook her something.

“Make a Clam Steamed Egg.”

“No, Lotus Steamed Egg!”

Cindy’s eyes had just been operated on, so she’d better not eat seafood.

He cared about Cindy...

Although he refused to admit that Cindy was his daughter, they were still related by blood.

Tomas’s eyebrow twitched.

This consolation stayed in his heart for less than a minute.

Sean’s phone rang suddenly. It was Lu Yi.

Chapter 395: You Will Have a Happy Life With Amber

He answered it.

“Sean, some of the designers hired from abroad will be sent back by uncle.”

“Do you know this?”

A bad presentiment rose in Sean's heart.

His father was going to send the designers back?

After Amber reached the Smiths' mansion, something like this happened?

She came here to make complaint?

She knew she couldn't get rid of Lin Man, so she asked his father for help.

What a clever woman.

Sean held the phone tightly. Then he hung up abruptly, left Cindy on the sofa, and strode out.

The maid asked, "Young master, where are you going?"

Sean looked gloomy.

He left quickly, and Tomas didn't even have a chance to speak to him.

Cindy was left in the living room, sitting on the sofa alone and looking pitiful.

Sean called Lin Man as he drove, but she didn't answer it.

The anxiety in his eyes was getting thick.

Tong City was Lin Man's home. No one had any reason to stop her from staying here.

Since Amber married into the Smith family, she had been used to giving orders and dominating others?

Hump, that was really impressive!

Sean drove fast and directly reached the airport.

When he arrived, Lin Man was preparing to board the plane.

She was still wearing the dress she wore when they separated. It was white, with a little dust on the hem. Sean recognized it at once.

He reached out, grabbed her wrist, and pulled her out.

She was wearing a gauze mask. The exposed skin was red and swollen, looking very hideous.

"Lin Man?"

Lin Man shook off Sean's hand subconsciously, and reached out to cover her face, tears glistening in her eyes. She quickly lowered her head to conceal her fragility.

Sean's eyes were deep. He frowned and unable to say a word.

"Sean, why are you here?"

Lin Man's voice was a bit hoarse. She had probably cried before coming to the airport.

"Lin Man, I thought that even if we were not lovers, we were still friends."

“Why are you leaving Tong City without telling me?”

Lin Man blinked, and pressed her lips slightly. Her mood hid under the mask, but her eyes could convey her emotions.

“You shouldn’t have come.” Lin Man sounded frustrated.

Even she, herself, could not tell if she was really frustrated or she was playacting in front of Sean.

A tear slipped from her eyes, and she couldn’t hide her embarrassment. She raised her head and said in a sad voice, “Sean, we were over since the day you married Amber.”

“It was me who couldn’t let you go. It was me who reappeared and stirred up your peaceful and happy life.”

“Sean, you should go back and continue your life with Amber.”

The mood in Lin Man’s eyes was complicated, “Explain to Amber and the media that the bunch of flowers was not bought for me.”

“Amber will believe it.”

Sean held Lin Man’s hand tightly. Lin Man let out a low cry in pain but he still did not let go of her hand.

“Lin Man, those flowers were bought for you.”

“I won’t explain to Amber. We never had a peaceful and happy life.”

“You are from Tong City. No one can drive you out of here. Come back with me.”

Lin Man broke into tears instantly.

Soon after Sean left, Amber walked out of the bedroom with Tomas’s medicine.

Before she reached the study, she saw Cindy downstairs.

She was sitting alone.

Amber froze for a moment, and met Tomas’s gaze, “Dad, Sean was here just now?”

Tomas nodded with a livid face.

He took the medicine from Amber’s hand, “Go downstairs and take care of Cindy.”

Amber went straight downstairs.

It was almost noon. The maids had got the lunch ready. Mrs. Smith was out to play mahjong.

Cindy had the habit of taking a nap after lunch. As soon as Amber coaxed Cindy to sleep, she received a call from Xiaoshen.

“Director White, you... you are going to divorce Mr. Smith?”

Amber was stunned for a moment. She hadn’t told anyone this yet. How did Xiaoshen know?

“Huh?”

“The media caught a picture of you going to the lawyer’s office, and the picture of Mr. Smith and Lin Man talking at the airport is also on the internet.”

“Netizens has dug out Lin Man’s identity, saying that it was you who drove Lin Man out of the country...”

Amber was silent. Xiaoshen continued, “Director White, if you are not really divorcing Mr. Smith, you’d better clarify it quickly.”

“The news will have a bad impact on the Smith Group’s stock...”

Amber was not in the mood to read the news.

“The PR department will be in charge of it.” Amber licked the corner of his lips and said in a low voice, “And soon, I won’t be the Smith Group’s marketing director anymore.”

Xiaoshen was shocked. She bit the corner of her lips and was speechless for a while, “You... have resigned?”

“Yes.”

“You directly contact the PR department. Lu Yi probably has made the clarification plan.”

Xiaoshen was stunned. Did this mean Director White had long been ready to divorce?

Amber didn’t care what Xiaoshen was thinking and hung up.

The news spread quickly. Although Amber didn’t want to hear about it, it came to her ears.

Several young servants in the mansion used Microblog.

Even the story that Lin Man was Sean’s old sweetheart was dug out.

Mrs. Smith, who was playing mahjong outside, rushed back home after learning the news.

When she saw Amber, the flustered expression on her face instantly disappeared. She stood in the shadow of the lamp, and said in a hostile tone, “Why are you here?”

For some reason, Amber felt that Mrs. Smith’s expression and Yolanda’s expression were similar for a moment.

Amber sneered. Mrs. Smith said bitterly, “Amber, was it you who caused the chaos on the internet? Are you trying to ruin my son?”

“Why do you come here frequently?”

“You hoodoo, from the moment you appeared, Sean has been tortured by you.”

“Did you have anything to do with what happened at Paramount?”

“You won’t be done trying until you get Sean killed, will you?”

Mrs. Smith became angrier. Suddenly, she slammed her handbag towards Amber.

Amber dodged, but her arm was scratched by its metal buckle. The pain came from her arm. The next second, warm blood ran down her arm.

Chapter 396: I Helped You Marry Into the Smith Family

Amber's eyelashes trembled. She reached out and covered her arm.

"You actually dodged?"

Amber raised her head and looked at Mrs. Smith firmly. She was expressionless, and the look in her eyes was calm and terrifying.

Mrs. Smith was suddenly frightened. The words she was going to say was stuck in her throat.

"Mom, I'm here to resign."

Resign?

Mrs. Smith didn't believe it. The Smith family was fabulously rich. If Amber was willing to resign, she would have resigned long ago.

She rolled her eyes, then turned upstairs, found the previous divorce agreement, then stuffed it into Amber's arms.

"Then sign the divorce agreement. The scandal has grown in intensity. 5% share of the Smith Group is already a great grace for you."

"Be smart!"

Mrs. Smith's tone was mean. At this moment, her face in the dark was exactly the same as that of Sean.

"The Smith Group will suffer losses. If the situation becomes worse, you won't get a dime."

Amber raised her hand, and threw the divorce agreement into the air.

Mrs. Smith's face instantly became more gloomy.

"You!"

"Amber, Sean hates your guts now. If it weren't for you, he would have been with Lin Man three years ago."

"I helped you marry into the Smith family. Even if you don't sign this agreement, you won't get any benefits from Sean either."

Amber snorted without any emotions.

Mrs. Smith's eyes darkened.

"Mom, it was not me who came between Lin Man and Sean but Lin Man who came between Sean and me."

“Lin Man, you, dad, and Sean. I don’t owe any of you.” Amber curved the corner of her mouth and whispered, “You should have known this three years ago.”

“But it doesn’t make any difference. You don’t care who your daughter-in-law is. You only care if your daughter-in-law can save Sean.”

Mrs. Smith’s expression changed.

Mrs. Smith was afraid of losing her son. Amber was right. She wanted her daughter-in-law to save Sean.

Back then, she agreed to Amber and Sean’s marriage because Amber’s bone marrow could match with Sean’s.

Mrs. Smith took a deep breath.

The sound of footsteps came from the stairs. Mrs. Smith turned her head. It was Tomas.

The floor was a mess. He saw it at a glance.

Leaning over and picking up a piece of A4 paper, Tomas glanced at the content on it casually. Mrs. Smith turned pale with guilty and was unable to speak.

“Ruyun.”

Mrs. Smith raised her head and looked at him.

With the light behind his back, Tomas’s back bent slightly.

Mrs. Smith pressed the corners of her lips, and did not answer.

“You drafted this divorce agreement?”

Mrs. Smith glanced at Amber who was standing aside indifferently.

She frowned, and the hatred in her heart kept growing, almost occupying her mind.

“Yes!”

“Can’t I do that?”

Tomas, “Why?”

“Three years ago, Amber was infamous. If it weren’t for her bone marrow, I wouldn’t let her marry Sean at all.”

“Unexpectedly, she even entered the Smith Group with your help.”

Mrs. Smith’s eyes were filled with coldness, and the corners of her lips curved contemptuously, “She and Sean lived in two separate places for three years. Instead of giving birth to Sean’s children, she spent our money to raise her little bastard. It isn’t too much for me to draw up a divorce agreement!”

The blue veins on Tomas’s forehead stood out. Amber thought he would get angry, but he resisted his anger and even smiled.

“What you said makes sense.”

“But you are wrong about two things.”

“Amber has never spent a penny of the Smith family, and Cindy is not a bastard.”

He was resorting to sophistry!

Tomas thought she was a fool?

“By the way, you don’t have any right to distribute the shares of the Smith Group.”

They had been married for decades, but he did not hesitate to embarrass her for Amber?

Mrs. Smith’s heart seemed like being placed in hot oil, but apparently, Tomas hadn’t finished speaking.

He looked at Amber and said, “Amber, I will also draw up an agreement for you.”

“After you and Sean are divorced, you don’t have to donate bone marrow to him anymore. Because you are raising our Smith family’s child, I will give you 8% of the Smith Group’s shares...”

“Tomas, are you insane?”

Mrs. Smith interrupted Tomas.

8% of the Smith Group’s shares were not different from a golden mountain.

Most importantly, she didn’t have to donate bone marrow to Sean?

“Why don’t you think of Sean? You want me to lose all my children?”

Tomas sneered, “It doesn’t make much difference whether we have such a son or not!”

“I am doing it for your son. He will regret divorcing Amber one day!”

After this, Mrs. Smith no longer dared to make Amber divorce Sean.

Amber said, “Dad, you know better than anyone. My intention of marrying Sean was not for the money of the Smith family.”

“Even if you draft the agreement, I won’t sign it.”

Amber smiled, “Cindy is a child who needs a good example. I am not disabled. I can make money on my own.”

“I will work hard to give her a good life.”

Tomas was silent. Mrs. Smith couldn’t help but turned to look at Amber.

Amber seemed to be really not interested in everything about the Smith family.

Before the two could react, Amber had already gone upstairs and taken Cindy down, “Dad, Cindy’s eyes have not recovered. I’m taking her back to the hospital.”

“The driver... will send you back.”

Mrs. Smith said a little awkwardly. Perceiving Amber's sight, she raised her head high and said with an arrogant face, "Why are you staring at me like that? It's not easy to take a taxi here. Now you are the focus of the media. If they see you leave in a taxi, our Smith family will be disgraced!"

Amber nodded and said, "I know."

She knew Mrs. Smith was high maintenance. Maybe she didn't hate her anymore though her tone was still very mean.

...

Sean didn't go back to the old mansion, but sent Lin Man to the hospital.

He sent her to the Second Hospital.

The second hospital was a little closer to the airport. Lin Man took off the mask. Her face was swollen, and her features were almost distorted.

Chapter 397: Have Your daughter Accepted Miss Lin

The doctor applied a green ointment on Lin Man's face.

The news about them created a sensation. Many people looked at Lin Man and Sean with questioning eyes.

Lin Man lowered her head, subconsciously trying to cover her face, but was stopped by the doctor, "Don't wear the mask. It won't help the wound heal."

Lin Man's hands froze.

Coming out of the doctor's office, Lin Man ran into reporters.

Sean and Lin Man were surrounded by reporters. Their questions were incisive.

"Miss Lin, it's said that you and Mr. Smith had been in love for many years. Now, you met again. Does it mean that you and Mr. Smith have got back together?"

"Mr. Smith, you brought your daughter to give flowers to Miss Lin. Does it mean you two would get married soon? Has Miss Lin already been accepted by your daughter?"

"Ms. Lin, did you come back for marrying Mr. Smith? In your eyes, is the position of Mrs. Smith yours?"

"Miss Lin, are you trying to ruin other people's marriage? Don't you feel ashamed and guilty?"

Sean's eyes darkened. Were these people sent here by Amber?

Otherwise, why did they arrive when he and Lin Man got here?

In order to force Lin Man to leave, Amber had already started to do whatever she could, right?

Sean held Lin Man's arm tightly. Lin Man subconsciously leaned towards him.

Her eyes widened, and the tears in her eyes were about to run down.

“Sean...”

“Mrs. Smith is here.”

Someone in the crowd shouted. Sean was faster than anyone else. He passed through the crowd and saw Amber standing at the elevator door with Cindy in her arms.

She was in a black dress, like a black rose blooming in the middle of the night, cold and quiet.

The reporters in front of him swarmed to Amber.

“Mrs. Smith, did you show up here because you got the news that your husband and his lover are here?”

“So, you are here to catch the adultery in the act?”

“Mrs. Smith, how will you divide your property after divorce? Mr. Smith cheated on you during the marriage. You will get a lot of shares, won’t you? When you married Mr. Smith, you had known this would happen, right?”

Amber’s expression remained indifferent. She even suddenly stretched out her hand to knock off the microphone in front of her.

“Do you journalists have no professional ethics? Don’t you see me holding my baby and she has gauze on her eyes?”

The reporters were scared by Amber’s momentum. She stood there like a sharp blade.

“Get out of my way!”

The reporters refused to step aside. Amber lowered her eyes, getting the phone out of her pocket with difficulty, and directly called the police.

One of the reporters suddenly snatched over the phone in Amber’s hand and then said in a shameless voice.

“Mrs. Smith, don’t do that. We just want to ask a few questions. After you answer, we will leave. If you call the police, this matter will become big. Is there really something shady between you and Mr. Smith?”

Amber’s pupils contracted, “You are threatening and intimidating me. If I want, you will be put in jail!”

“I have been there...”

Before the reporter finished speaking, Sean grabbed his collar from behind and then glanced at the employee ID card on his chest with gloomy eyes.

“Bright Entertainment? How dare you threaten my wife?”

As soon as Sean finished speaking, the security guards came up and drove all the reporters away.

Probably because the reporters didn’t get any useful information from them, they intensified the rumors of divorce between Amber and Sean on the Internet.

Sean followed Amber into the ward and said, "You can't stay in the ward anymore. Get things packed up and go to Central Hospital."

"Dad, didn't you say that you would take me to the manor?"

Cindy interjected, "You sent me to my grandparents' house and left."

"How can you go back on your words?"

Sean paused, strode to the bed, and said, "We're leaving for the manor now."

"I'll call the private doctor of the Smith family and ask him to go there with us. We will stay on the mountain for one night."

Amber glanced at Sean. He was actually quite good to Cindy.

In the future, Cindy probably wouldn't have many chances to spend time with Sean. After hesitating, Amber nodded.

Sean leaned over and picked Cindy up. He stood in the center of the ward, "Amber, this is the last time I put up with you."

"If Lin Man is hurt again, I wouldn't let you go!"

The smile on Amber's face slowly disappeared.

"Then what will you do?"

What would he do?

He would choose to divorce her!

Since Lin Man came back, Amber caused chaos again and again.

Did Amber consider him a saint who would forgive her every time?

Amber suddenly said, "Sean, you neither divorce me nor keep a distance from Lin Man. Are you planning to imitate the nobles in ancient times who have countless wives and concubines?"

"Or do you want me to watch you bringing Lin Man into the Smith family?"

"Heh."

Sean sneered, "Amber, stop questioning me in such a voice dripping with sarcasm!"

"What you enjoy now all belongs to Lin Man."

After speaking, he strode out of the ward with Cindy in his arms.

Amber reached out and rubbed her heart. Sean had done so many things for Lin Man. She thought she had become accustomed to it, but unexpectedly, she still felt heartache.

After a while, Sean suddenly came back. He asked, "Director White, what are you doing? Come on."

He stood in a place out of the ward light, covered in dust, but his eyes were extremely bright.

“I have something to do. You and Cindy go up. When I’m done, I’ll get to you.”

The corner of Sean’s mouth twitched.

She had something to do?

What was she going to do again?

To meet her lover?

Knowing that he gave Lin Man roses, Amber was worried about being replaced by Lin Man. So she was in a hurry to discuss with her lover how to maximize her benefits?

Sean sneered and disappeared directly at the building entrance.

He got out of the car, opened the door of the co-driver’s seat, put Cindy on the child seat, and glanced at the trunk.

Chapter 398: Amber Will Be Upset

0 4 minutes read

Lin Man sat in the car with her eyes closed. She seemed to be asleep.

Sean called her, and Lin Man responded in a hoarse voice.

“We’re going to the manor. Do you want to join us?”

“No, Amber will be upset.”

The implication was that she wanted to join them but she dare not because of Amber.

Sean frowned and said in a low voice, “It’s okay. I’ll be pleased if you go with us.”

After speaking, Sean got into the car. Cindy stayed quietly in the co-driver’s seat silently

When the three of them arrived at the manor, it was completely dark. As soon as Sean arrived, the waiter led them into the private room, where all kinds of dishes were piled up on the table. Sean went out to smoke and asked the waiter to look after Cindy for him.

As soon as he went out, Lin Man spread her hand that had been clenching tightly.

The photo in her palm had been wet with sweat. In the photo, the smiles of Amber and Sean were extremely dazzling.

A trace of ferocity flashed across Lin Man’s eyes, and then disappeared immediately.

Earlier, the reporters appeared suddenly, so Sean gave her the car key and asked her to get back into the car.

She saw Sean’s wallet by accident.

That photo was so glaring. Even though she only saw a corner of it, she still recognized it.

When Sean was not there, she stuffed the photo back into his wallet.

As soon as Sean got out of the box, he lit the cigarette. A few minutes later, the phone in his pocket rang.

Although there was no note, the phone number was extraordinarily familiar to him. It was Gu Jinyan.

Sean thought of the picture. The affectionate looks in it made him panic.

He reached out and answered it. Gu Jinyan's voice came out of the phone.

"Sean, my friend is back. Where's your picture?"

Sean's eyebrows were slightly knitted, "I am in my holiday manor."

Gu Jinyan laughed, "You are being scolded on the Internet, while you are actually in the mood to have fun in your manor?"

"Why, you go there with your little lover?"

Sean neither admitted nor denied, "You mean my daughter?"

Daughter?

Gu Jinyan thought about this word carefully and suddenly laughed.

"You are with Amber there?"

After speaking, Gu Jinyan paused and said in a low voice, "I will take my friend over. When I arrive, he will directly verify the authenticity of the photo for you."

"Okay, I'll have someone arrange your room."

After that, Sean hung up.

He had finished smoking, but he stood there for a while before turning back.

After Lin Man putting back the photo, she raised her head and saw Cindy. Her eyes were covered, which made her look like Amber more.

Her small mouth looked like a petal, which was very beautiful.

Lin Man's eyes flickered, "Cindy, what do you want to eat?"

"Sashimi?"

Cindy shook her head. Whether it was Lin Man or the waiter who fed her, she refused to open her mouth.

"Aunt Lin, my mother told me not to eat the food others feed to me."

Lin Man's eyes were cold, and said, "What if you are hungry? Does Amber want to starve you to death?"

"My father is not someone else. He will feed me after he comes back."

Lin Man looked at her. Cindy couldn't see her gloomy eyes through the gauze.

Sean pushed the door in. Lin Man changed her expression.

"Sean, Cindy doesn't want me and the waiter to feed her. She wants you to do that."

It must be Amber who taught her to guard against Lin Man.

Amber insisted that it was Lin Man who made Cindy infect with toxoplasma.

Sean's eyes deepened, and he whispered, "Lin Man, Cindy is a kid. Don't take it to heart."

"She was scared and couldn't see. After she recovers, she will be close to you."

With that, Sean sat down.

He reached for the wallet. Lin Man's heartbeat raced.

The corner of his eyes fell on Cindy's face.

She was a good-looking girl with a rosy mouth. She noticed Sean's gaze and smiled sweetly, "Dad, I want egg custard."

Sean's movements paused. His eyebrow raised slightly.

Cindy looked like Amber.

However, when Amber was young, she may not be so cute.

Maybe she was born to be scheming.

Sean reached out and put Cindy on his lap, then reached for the egg custard in front of him.

"Hungry?"

"Yes."

Hearing this, he fed Cindy directly.

Cindy swallowed the food and whispered, "Dad, the doctor said the gauze on my eyes can be removed the day after tomorrow."

"By then, I can eat by myself."

Sean smiled and looked at the little girl in his arms who was speaking in a serious tone. He said in a perfunctory tone, "Well, that's great."

Seeing this, Lin Man was amazed by how naturally the two got along with each other.

After dinner, Sean took Cindy to the backyard to play.

There were many children's games in the manor, but Cindy couldn't see.

Fortunately, there was a swing.

Sitting on the swing, Cindy laughed, and the whole yard was full of her laughter.

“Dad, higher!

Infected by Cindy’s laughter, Sean also had a smile on his face, “Grasp it firmly!”

Others’ attention was drawn to them.

Feng Chen and Lu Xiangxiang were among them.

As soon as Feng Chen approached, Sean saw him. Sean stretched out to stopped the swing, “Mr. Feng.”

“Mr. Smith, you are having a good time.”

Sean smiled slightly and handed Feng Chen a cigarette. He glanced at Lu Xiangxiang and said, “You are on a business trip with your secretary again?”

Feng Chen stood under the flower vine with a smile, and the light from a distance reflected on his face dimly, dyeing his lips with a coquettish charm.

“What about you? Having fun with your daughter and wife here while talking about business?”

Even if they were really on a business trip, in the manor, most of their time would be spent on having fun.

Lu Xiangxiang got impatient. She stepped away from Feng Chen, walked to the swing and then picked Cindy up from it.

Chapter 400: He Was Amnesiac Not Stupid

0 4 minutes read

Lin Man nodded with a smile.

Closing the door of the suite, Lin Man quickly put on her clothes. Then she stayed for a while before coming out of the room.

Walking on the corridor, Lin Man seemed to have her heart gouged away.

Gu Jinyan was here. The thing Sean asked him to help with must be related to Amber.

The moment she saw that photo, she knew that Sean must have had some suspicions about his past.

He was amnesiac, not stupid.

Lin Man’s mind was chaotic. She turned a corner and went to the hall.

Lin Man had been here with Sean. She knew the private room that Sean and Gu Jinyan often stayed.

At this time, Sean had already seen Gu Jinyan.

His friend hadn’t arrived yet. Gu Jinyan opened a bottle of red wine and shook the goblet. He smiled and asked,

“Where is your photo?”

Sean threw his wallet to Gu Jinyan. Gu Jinyan was smoking, with his expression hidden in the white smoke.

Gu Jinyan opened the wallet suspiciously, and the picture of Sean and Amber suddenly jumped into his sight.

The teasing smile on his face froze. He turned his head to look at Sean seriously, "You want to authenticate this?"

"Can't I?"

"Yes." Gu Jinyan said, "Although I don't know much about computers, it doesn't look like a synthetic one, does it?"

"Look, you were smiling so happily."

Sean knew Amber was scheming and that Gu Jinyan always took sides with Amber.

Therefore, he did not take what Gu Jinyan said to heart.

"Don't you have any doubts?"

Doubts?

About what?

Sean licked the corner of his lips, and suddenly remembered the time Lin Man applied the wrong medicine for him and made him allergic.

But Amber knew so well what kind of medicine he could use.

Amber was suspicious.

If she hadn't investigated him, how could she know that so clearly?

Moreover, that watch.

Amber admitted that it was a token of love between him and Lin Man...

Sean shook his head and asked in a low voice, "When will your friend arrive?"

"He will be here in ten minutes."

Outside the box, Lin Man's blood seemed to be frozen.

Sean was waiting for someone to authenticate the photo of him and Amber?

She had to stop him. If he knew the past between him and Amber... She would be over.

Sean hated others deceiving him the most...

Lin Man took a deep breath and turned upstairs.

If Amber's daughter suddenly had an accident, Sean would not be in the mood to deal with the photo.

Lin Man walked quickly, arrived at Sean's room, and took out a computer from the drawer.

The manor provided computers. Even if Sean didn't need it, the hotel would prepare it for him. Lin Man turned on the computer, and her fingertips kept dancing on the keyboard.

...

Gu Jinyan's friend arrived.

"Sean, this is Lin Ye."

Sean and Lin Ye shook hands. After the three of them were seated, Sean handed his wallet to Lin Ye.

"Lin Ye, check this photo out. Is it synthesized? Are there any traces of PS?"

Just as Lin Ye took the wallet, the entire box was plunged into darkness.

The box was dark. Sean frowned and turned on the flashlight on the phone.

Gu Jinyan cursed.

"What's going on? Why did the power go out suddenly?"

"When the manor was first built, didn't you boast that it would never trip?"

Sean suddenly smiled, "Yes, there are many facilities in the manor which consumes a lot of electricity, but the designer used other technologies."

"I don't know this, but I know that the circuit is controlled by a computer. It is trip-proof, but not hacker-proof."

"Lin Ye, did you do this?"

The three people joked. Lin Ye smiled, "Even if I want to hack this, I need a computer."

Sean stood up, "Sit for a while. I'll see what's going on."

The people in the manor were either rich or influential. Sean was worried that someone dangerous had sneaked in.

This was the Smith Group's manor. If the guests had accidents, he was confident to settle them, but it would have an impact on the manor.

As soon as Sean walked to the control room, the power was restored. The sudden light stung his eyes, so he subconsciously raised his hand to cover his eyes.

After getting used to it, he frowned.

He was a little upset and asked the manager who rushed in, "What happened?"

The manager paled and said in a low voice, "There was a small problem with the circuit."

"The power went out for a short time, and I have sent people to appease the guests..."

Sean nodded.

He felt a little irritated. His phone rang. It was Amber.

Sean raised his eyebrow and answered it.

“Sean, where are you and Cindy? I’m in the manor.”

Sean asked in a low voice, “Where are you? I’ll pick you up.”

“The parking lot.”

Sean said, “Wait there, I will get to you right away.”

After hanging up the phone, Sean walked out of the lobby directly from the side door, out of the manor, and walked to the parking lot. Amber’s black dress integrated with the night. Her smiling face was especially tempting.

The manor was on the mountain and the wind was very strong. Even in summer, it was a bit cool at night.

Amber rubbed her arms, and Sean strode towards her.

Seeing this, he took off his jacket and threw it on Amber’s head.

The smell of Sean that was mixed with the smell of tobacco came into her nose.

Amber reached his jacket down and asked in a low voice, “Where is Cindy?”

“Why didn’t she come with you?”

Sean said in a low voice, “She is sleeping. I have something to do. I will send you to her room first.”

Amber said okay.

The two walked side by side. There were lights outside. The road Sean chose was paved with pebbles. Amber was in high heels, walking slowly and unsteadily.

Sean stared at her coldly.

Did she wear these shoes on purpose? He naturally wouldn’t wait for her.

She wanted him to hold her and support her with his hand, didn’t she?

She seemed like couldn’t live without him!

He wouldn’t support her with hand, let alone hold her!
