

Mrs. Gibson Your identity is Exposed Chapter 664

Robert did not back down at all. He directly confronted Murray head-on. For a time, the business resources were snatched away by the two companies, and the two of them fought in the business world. For a moment, they were in deep trouble.

A week had passed, and neither side had won. Sitting in his office, Murray was thinking about a solution with a frown.

Just then, there was a knock on the door.

Murray thought that the secretary had made some new progress and asked her to come in. He looked up and found that it was Julia.

Murray's face darkened. He looked at the carefully dressed woman in front of him. She was wearing a tender yellow dress, and there was a plain colored wreath on her head, which was very much like Melissa's style.

Murray was in a bad mood. This time, Julia was prepared. She dressed up like Melissa. Unfortunately, she was not Melissa.

"What are you doing here?"

Thinking of what had happened in the office last time, Murray became alert to Julia.

"I heard that something happened to the Gibson Corporation, so I came to visit you."

When Julia went to visit Marc, she happened to hear the servants discussing this matter, so she dressed up at home and came here.

Thinking of how she made a fool of herself in the office last time, Julia was fully prepared this time. She studied Melissa's every action, as well as Melissa's walking posture, just to get a good impression in front of Murray.

"What's the use of your visit?"

Murray's tone became more irritable. What had happened to him these days had been disturbing his thoughts. Even the top professional staff couldn't deal with it. What could a layman like Julia know?

"I know I can't help you."

Julia was not as charming and confident as she was last time. Now she looked pitiful. If others saw her, they would be softhearted.

was not softhearted. He had never fault last time. Are you had deliberately put on special makeup today, which

"I'm not angry."

never taken any other woman

"That's good."

voice became softer and

there's nothing else, beside him all the time. Murray felt very depressed. He stood up and walked not back down and chased after Murray. She said, "Didn't you say you were not angry?"

not want to

His eyes were cold, and his cold face seemed to remind Julia not to give up. There were more and more people around, family. Even your grandfather dotes on me a lot. Can't I become to squeeze out a few drops of tears

"Don't be like this!"

that something was wrong. He waved his hand, wanting Julia forward to hold an uproar among was married. They thought, face, but there was one thing that Julia her was huge, and Marc was also very caring for for the two points, Murray knew that he could not directly reject her so many people here. It is a disgrace

"I'm not afraid!"

was

didn't notice it at all my feelings? The last time I came to find you, you treated me like that, which made me to Murray, which made Murray even

Some of them even wanted to make a

Murray pulled his hand out and walked into the office without looking at Julia.

Only Julia was left, and the surrounding employees gathered around.

Not long after, the photos of Julia and Murray being entangled were posted on the Internet. Because Murray did not directly refuse Julia, many people thought they matched each other.

All of a sudden, the gossip about Murray and Julia spread quickly. Melissa knew it quickly.

She looked at the picture on Twitter, in which Julia was leaning against Murray, with satisfaction and enjoyment on her face, while Murray was leaning on his side. Anyone could see that he was unwilling. Melissa thought, how could the photo make a hit on the Internet?

The comment said that instead of rejecting Julia directly, Murray said something vague. The fans of Julia and Murray were all excited.

Melissa smiled faintly and got up, asking the secretary to send her to the Gibson Corporation.

At that moment, Julia was still surrounded by employees. Several employees were asking Julia some ambiguous questions with sparkling eyes.

Seeing the shyness on Julia's face, Melissa became even angrier.

Melissa stepped forward and grabbed Julia by the collar. Julia's yellow dress instantly changed shape.

"If you keep talking nonsense, I will not go easy on you."

Melissa's eyes were sharp and cold, which made Julia somewhat at a loss.

Julia said fiercely, "What are you doing? Let me go!"

She gritted her teeth and glared at Melissa.

Unexpectedly, Melissa didn't give in at all and still refused to let go of Julia's collar. Melissa said, "As the daughter of the Wright family, you came to the company of a married man to please him. People who don't know you might think that you are broad-minded and want to give each married man a home."

Melissa's words undoubtedly annoyed Julia. She pushed Melissa away and said, "What are you talking about? Don't slander me. Murray and I are just friends!"

"If so, then why did you tangle with him? You don't look like a daughter of a rich family at all!"

Melissa narrowed her eyes and looked down at Julia. In terms of momentum, Julia was much weaker than her.

Julia shouted, "You are talking nonsense!"

Unexpectedly, Julia refused to admit it. Her eyes narrowed as she shouted, "I don't know why Murray took a fancy to you. You grabbed my collar the moment you came up. You are just a shrew!"