

Chapter 276 Don't Let Him Ruin Luisa's Life

However, Trevor didn't reply. After parking the car, he got off and stepped away.

Then, he turned his head toward Howe.

"You blocked my way on purpose. My dash cam captured everything. You deserve it."

Hearing this, Howe felt rage flare in his chest.

'How dare this pathetic loser talk to me like that?'

He gritted his teeth and shot Trevor a death glare.

His car was insured.

On the other hand, he was sure that Trevor's Bugatti was only rented.

Howe scoffed.

"I really wonder where you get the audacity to act all high and mighty, Trevor. You totaled my car, and you can't even afford the repair fee. How can you still be so arrogant?"

Trevor flashed Howe an icy stare. He was dying to reveal his true identity to him, but he held himself back.

However, Howe thought that Trevor was only pretending to be calm. Howe called the insurance company right away and distortedly explained the situation.

his true identity to him, but he held himself back.

However, Howe thought that Trevor was only pretending to be calm. Howe called the insurance company right away and distortedly explained the situation.

Trevor also contacted his insurance company and asked them to come to the scene as soon as they could.

"Do you think you can muddle through in this way? And why did you even call the insurance company? Your car is rented. Do you really think they will pay for the damages?"

Howe mocked Trevor.

Trevor ignored him and walked away without saying anything.

Seeing this, Howe gnashed his teeth together in hatred.

'You poor bastard. I'd like to see how long you can pretend to be somebody.'

Howe stamped his feet and followed Trevor to the hall.

'You can't run away under my watch, Trevor. I'm going to give you the worst day of your life today.'

The two walked into the wedding hall.

Luisa was entertaining guests for her cousin.

When she saw Trevor, she greeted him with a smile,

"Trevor, where have you been? I've been waiting for you.

You can sit with me today."

Howe was jealous to see this.

He and Trevor walked in together, but Luisa only noticed

Trevor.

It didn't look like she even saw him.

Why?

Before Howe could come up to Luisa, some of the members of the Burke family sauntered over.

Seeing the many relatives and friends of the Burke family, Trevor was a little nervous.

While he was lost in thought, Mona, who took the lead, looked over.

Thanks to the carefully designed suit by Danna, Trevor looked distinctive today.

Mona's eyes lit up. She thought that her cousin had finally chosen well.

She hurriedly asked Rodney, "Uncle Burke, look at that handsome young man beside Luisa. Is he from a rich family?"

Rodney followed the direction of Mona's sight and saw the back of a boy in a suit.

But the next second, the boy turned around. Rodney instantly recognized his face.

Rodney knitted his brows, shook his head, and replied flatly, "No. He's just a classmate of Luisa's, an ordinary person."

After saying that, he glared at his daughter but didn't say anything more.

After all, Trevor was the one who called the best doctor before to save his daughter.

Rodney might be snobbish, but he wasn't ungrateful.

Rodney kept his thoughts to himself. However, the young man in a crutch behind him interjected, "Mona, that's Trevor Sanderson. He's a poor loser. Look at him. He seems to be wearing an Armani suit. But the logo is not right. I guess it's a knockoff."

The one who was speaking was none other than Balfour. The first time that he met Trevor, he decided that he didn't like him.

When the Harper family, one of Jork's top ten clans, exacted their revenge on Balfour, not only did they break his leg. They also forced him into hiding for a long time. Balfour didn't expect that one of the first people he was going to see upon his return was Trevor.

What a bad luck!

Balfour's words caused an uproar among the members of the Burke family and their relatives.

They thought Trevor was from a rich family. As it turned out, he wasn't.

The Burkes began to criticize Trevor.

"I've told you that he doesn't look like a rich young man at all. He's only pretending to be rich."

"And he wants to be with a young lady like Luisa? Well, he might be penniless, but his confidence is extraordinary."

"Rodney, he doesn't deserve Luisa. You should keep an eye on him. Don't let him ruin Luisa's life."

