

Chapter 511 The Possible Culprit

Hearing the voices, Lois looked back and asked in surprise, "Are they fighting inside?"

At that time, Trevor was using his phone. Obviously, he wasn't surprised that they were fighting.

Shaking his head, Trevor explained, "Actually, my cousin knows that I have no knowledge about antiques. So, he tried to trick me with that shop owner. But now that they lost so much money instead of getting some money from me, they would definitely quarrel!"

Hearing Trevor's explanation, Lois burst out laughing.

"You are so mean, Trevor. You knew their plan and tricked them into compensating you eighty million dollars. I'm sure they are regretting it right now."

All the girls looked at Trevor at the same eighty million dollars. I'm sure they are regretting it right now."

All the girls looked at Trevor at the same time and smiled.

However, Lois's smile was more innocent and genuine than the other two.

Tasha's smile was one of elegance and calmness.

A gentle smile appeared on Luisa's face as she stared at her boyfriend with admiration.

She had a thoughtful look on her face, as if she was already preparing for the serious test that she had to take.

Since the three beautiful ladies were all looking at him, Trevor felt a little embarrassed.

Fortunately, a phone call from his father saved him from this embarrassing situation.

To answer the phone, Trevor went to a quiet corner.

Once he picked up the phone, he said, "Hello, Dad. I have something to tell you."

In a depressed voice, Ronald replied, "You want to tell me about the test that your grandpa gave to you and Luisa? If that's the case, I have already heard about it. Even I was scolded because of you."

After saying that, he continued, "Don't worry too much. Your sister Evie will take care of her. Luisa will be able to complete her test!"

Hearing this, Trevor made a mental note to call his sister to talk about this matter. He wanted to ask her to take good care of Luisa.

Although the test conditions weren't that strict, it wouldn't be easy to achieve the goal.

Therefore, he felt relieved when his father took the initiative to mention it.

After that, Trevor told Ronald about the setup Lenard made to swindle money from him.

Furrowing his eyebrows, Trevor asked, "Dad, do you think he is the one behind the attack?"

It was the question that the two of them had discussed several times.

All the clues they had found pointed out that the person behind the attack was from the Sanderson family.

They would definitely tell Elwood about it if they weren't worried about his health. They were afraid that the old man wouldn't be able to handle the news.

For now, it was just a secret between the father and son.

Hearing his son's words, Ronald pondered for a while and analyzed, "As far as I know, Lenard doesn't have the ability to do that! The person behind the attack hired the pirates with one billion dollars. Lenard is just a distant relative of the Sanderson family. So, it won't be easy for him to take out this large amount of money in one go. Plus, that Lenard is only good at playing some tricks. He isn't too scheming. Besides, I don't think he has the guts to hire someone to kill!"

As his father's analysis was reasonable, Trevor nodded his head and asked, "Maybe someone told him to do that?"

For a moment, Ronald was silent. Then, he said, "It's possible. We will investigate it secretly. The island is our own territory, Trevor. So, no one can hurt you there. Don't be too stressed. Just go and have fun. Sooner or later, we will find out the snake hidden in the shadow and then we will chop it into pieces. It won't be long."

After having a fierce quarrel, Lenard came out of the antique shop in dejection.

Gritting his teeth, Lenard said, "Damn it! This isn't what my cousin said! I have to ask him about it!"

Immediately, he took out his phone and dialed a number.

"The trick you told me to use didn't work at all! That brat even made us compensate a lot of money and left!"

Just like that, Lenard told everything that had happened to the person on the other end of the phone.

After hearing everything from Lenard, the person on the other end of the phone fell into silence. It took him a long time to reply in a hoarse and low voice, "Don't worry. I'll Chapter 511 The Possible Culp...

 +90 Points at most make it up to you for your loss. But...I need you to do something for me next..."

 I want no ads >