

Marriage To The Mafia Boss

Chapter 112 - The Bogeyman

Sun An is waking up in a good mood today. He is looking for a sweet beauty in his side and a luxurious house. The only thing left for him to acquire is the power to put the icing on top.

He needs to secure his position as the leader and beat those lousy Vito Mancuso. He must be busy tackling the problem.

He is sitting on his bed and turning on his television. In the news, there is no news regarding the land sliding due to the tremor. Sun An makes sure to pin it out toward the Man corporation who has its share of projects on the mountain.

Apparently, there is no news on all the television. He is getting unhappy and reaching for his phone.

"Why is not on the news? Why is the government not lurking and breathing down into his neck?" Sun An is asking his right-hand man with a stern voice.

"What do you expect? Man Corporation shut them out and already settle the problem. However, Vito is not in the limelight, and no one knows about him whereabouts," his assistant is reporting to him.

"We can not do the next step if he is not under government scrutiny. Find out a way to attack him," Sun An is instructing him.

"Remember to visit your grandfather, sir. You have to keep them at their lowest guard then you can annihilate them," his assistant is reminding him about the plan before ending the phone call.

Sun An changes his happy expression into a grumpy old man. He is walking around his room to think about the counterattack.

He is getting angrier and kick Mimi from the bed to wake her up. The startled Mimi is opening her eyes slowly and sitting down with her empty expression.

She is waiting for his instruction. Sun An is really annoyed at the moment and choose to leave her alone in the room.

He is wearing his clothes straight away. The television is filled with the news about Lin Yan and her secret foreign husband.

Sun An looks at the familiar face and goes to get ready. He will make sure to use him really wisely.

He is changing into his usual casual clothes and driving the car into his grandfather mansion. He arrives in the mansion to find out his grandfather absence in the mansion.

He is making a phone call to his private phone to meet him and pay respect to his elder. He did not say anything regarding his parent.

Grandfather Sun is having his afternoon tea with Jack and Lin Yan. They are getting ready to attend their press conference.

The agency is making a huge and grand press conference for Lin Yan marriage rumour. They are holding it in the five-star hotel ballroom.

Lin Yan is getting picked up by her agent and taking jack for a little makeover before the press conference. This is a new thing for Little Jack.

Sun An is calling his assistant in the car. He wants him to arrange the swapping of good quality rice with mouldy rice. They have to make it look like Man Corporation is responsible for all of this problem. His company can benefit from the good quality rice.

"Have you changed my father company brand from Sun Tong to Sunan Corporation? I am the new chairman in the company," Sun An is asking him about the latest report for the company.

"I am taking the lawyer letter to the health facility to get his signature or his thumbprint. As soon as the paperwork gets signed then the company change can be initiated," his assistant is telling him.

"Good. Now, I can have time with my grandfather, and I will make sure to make them pay for everything," Sun An is closing the connection and driving to the Lin mansion.

He is driving into the Lin mansion when his car accidentally bumps into the confused sick lady on the street. Sun An is swearing after managing to stop the car.

Lu Xi is delirious and runs away from the apartment with her sleeping clothes barefoot. This is fortunate that Sun An manages to stop his car in the nick of time.

Sun An is going to vent his anger toward the person who throwing her body into his car. He is getting out of the car and manages to see her small tempting body.

Sun An is carrying her into the passenger seat. He is going back home and calling his grandfather to cancel the visit.

He is asking his butler to get the doctor and get home with Lu Xi. His mood is getting elevated again to see the beauty on his side.

Her aura is different from Mimi who does not possess an elegant demeanour like her. she can become the madame of the house while Mimi is his concubine.

Lu Xi is still recuperating from the deprivation of sleep and some infection inside her womb. She has been sold to the porn production house where they exploit her.

Sun An is carrying her inside the house where she will sleep in the guest room. The butler with the medical doctor and team of nurses already waits for them to arrive.

This time, Sun An treat her gentle and different from Mimi. The butler is hiding Mimi in the master room.

The doctor is checking on her and put the IV line on her right arm. There are many visible bruises on her body and her right hand for the injection and bruises from the IV line.

Sun AN is asking one of the nurses to stay behind and nurture the lady. Her face is perfect to reign alongside him.

The doctor already made a treatment plan for Lu Xi and the nurse is staying with her. Sun An is going his study to work and check the progress of some of his projects in the US.

Ai Jia is bringing some food for his boss and lady boss. They are waiting in the office made especially for Vito as one of his offices.

Vito is carrying sleepy Emma into his bed inside his office. He still wore his scrub when he leads an online meeting.

Everyone in the Mancuso organisation is in awe to see their big boss is wearing a scrub. They are suspecting a movement of unknown source for a synthetic drug which can be affecting their drug circulation.

Synthetic drug is really dangerous, and it has come to the attention of legal law enforcement.

If they are not annihilating the circulation of the new synthetic drug, it will be a problem down the road for them.

Vito is listening about their idea and ambition when something arises in the surface. Vito is more concerning the person behind all of this new drug development.

It seems he is the same bogeyman who provoke the last chaos in the A country. This time, he has to use Jones to trace down the whole mess.

He only listens and promises to do something soon. However, he already has a gut feeling they are the same person.

"Jones are you there?" Vito is calling someone with his special phone.

"yes, boss. What do you want me to do?" Jones is answering his boss. He is already back in the paycheck after his long due vacation.

"The last time, you have taken charge of the whole operation in the A country and South America. Did you manage to find the culprit?" Vito is asking him.

"The bogeyman?" Jones is asking his boss.

"Who else? Is your brain got burned with the amount of alcohol from your holiday?" Vito is getting impatient with him.

"You never changed boss. I am hunting him at the moment. He seems to go back to the C city. He is manipulating all the greedy people in the A country, He possesses' skill to be unnoticeable but accomplishes many things in the dark. He is lurking around and gaining his own profit," Jones is reporting to his boss.

"Do you need Max to trace him? EXO? I think he already start to move his pawn to start attacking me," Vito is telling his trusted aide. Vito guts feeling always right and he is never wrong regarding his intuition.

His life depends on his gut's decision. If he ignores his intuition then he will be finished a long time ago.

"I am a lone wolf. You know it. I will be moving and my hunting has already started. What do you want for the fake drug ring? My hand a little itchy," Jones is asking his boss.

"Burn it!" Vito is instructing him before he ended up the phone.

Vito is continuing his work when Ai Jia rushes inside the office with food in his hand.

He also gives out the latest problem in the soul kitchen for the worker and victim of the mudslide.. They do not know the solution to solve it when they are losing almost one tonne of rice.
