

Marriage To The Mafia Boss -

. Chapter 118 - The Failed Plan

‘Han Zheng, What are you doing in here? How are you?’ Grandmother Lin is welcoming him with an open arm before she hugs him so tightly.

‘I am fine, and I am missing your sweet-sour pork and everything for your cooking. Can I be bold to spend dinner in here?’ Han Zheng is giving her a warm kiss on her cheek. Regardless of the failed matrimony but he is growing up together with Emma.

‘Fine! I was going to ask you for spending dinner here. You look so thin now. Madame Yue, can you make an extra meal for dinner tonight? Han Zheng is joining us for dinner,’ Grandmother Lin is pouring tea for him.

‘I am busy with the company and as always no one comes and brings me some lunch boxes,’ Han Zheng is telling diplomacy to grandmother Lin.

At the same time, Emma and Vito are walking to the backyard lounge where everyone is enjoying the tea and evening view.

‘Em, Han Zheng is here, and he is going to join us for dinner. I have asked madame Yue to make his favourite dishes,’ Grandmother Lin is telling her granddaughter who is sipping a tea from her husband.

‘brother Han Zheng, please take care of your meal. Later I will remind Long Jin to pay attention to your meal,’ Lin Yan is telling him from the back when she comes to the lounge with Jack on their good outfit from their pre-wedding picture.

‘thank you so much for sister Yan care into my condition,’ Han Zheng is stealing a glance at the beautiful Emma with her round glasses who compliment her cute and beautiful face.

‘You all have to care for each other. After all, you all grow up together,’ Grandmother Lin is getting one of the pastries that already served by the maid.

‘Brother Han Zheng, you still remember sister favourite cake. Let me get her a slice of this strawberry cake,’ Lin Yan is trying to provoke her sister patience.

‘thank you brother Han Zheng for getting me the strawberry cake from the usual shop. I bet you always forget Lin Yan favourite cake, the hazelnut cake,’ Emma is talking back in front of everyone and attacking her little sister.

‘I get used to it, sister. brother Han Zheng attention and care always for you,’ Lin Yan does not back up from the attack.

‘I heard there is an attack in the Man corporation warehouse and some of the government warehouses also burned to ashes. I am really admiring Mr Mancuso for staying here and did not need to care and worry for his corporation,’ Han Zheng tries to shift Lin Yan attack to Vito.

‘Nothing to admire, Mr Luo. It is my job to take care of my wife. If I neglect my wife then I really not fit to take care of my corporation,’ Vito is answering his word while eating the whole slice of strawberry cake from his wife’s hand.

Vito is exchanging her strawberry cake into the watermelon lychee cake. Emma is smiling to see her husband jealous intention by exchanging the cake.

‘Emma, do you want me to get you the strawberry cake again? Mr Mancuso is having the same taste like you,’ Han Zheng is asking her again.

‘I am fine with their watermelon cake also. It is taste marvellous and their cake standard always impeccable. How are you? Are you still taking your cold medication?’ Emma is asking him about his condition.

‘Are you sick Han Zheng?’ Grandmother Lin is asking him out of worry.

‘I was sick when I had a business trip to New York. But Emma was there and took care of my old illness. I am getting better already, grandmother,’ Han Zheng is informing her about his condition.

‘Good to hear. Your mother is away with your father for treating her illness. She asked me to pay attention to you. Em, can you help me to oversee your brother, Han Zheng?’ Grandmother Lin is instructing her to look after Han Zheng as part of their family.

It was Lin Yan scheme to tear apart the harmonious relationship between Vito and Emma by poisoning Grandmother Lin with her scheme. It is because she feels bitter about the reality of her husband condition.

Jack is really dirt poor, and he was a chauffeur for some rich person in New York. He was at the party to guide Ren Hao after meeting with his boss.

Lin Yan does not want her sister to have a good life as the wife of a rich person in the C City. Vito assets are everywhere in the C nation. He is the number one richest person in the world at the moment with his net almost equal to three times the whole money compiled in the world bank.

‘I will, grandmother. I will make Brother Han Zheng drink his green smoothies every day,’ Emma is making comments to make her grandmother happy.

Emma is resting her head on Vito’s shoulder while hugging his arm. She understands at the moment, he is producing really sour black vinegar with the lowest quality.

‘Madame. the dinner is ready on the table,’ Madame Yue is informing them in the courtyard.

They are going to the dining room to eat the food that is already served on the table. Vito is escorting his wife and they are sitting in the pair.

Han Zheng is sitting on the seat opposite of Emma on the table while grandfather Sun is opposite of Grandmother Lin on the end of the table.

He is observing the whole situation and see his grandson irritating facial expression on the table. However, he is trying to hide his feeling by serving the food for his wife.

They are eating the food so happy and he is keeping her happy with the food. apparently, Madame Yue is making stir fry vegetables with the lotus root.

Vito is taking the dishes to the small plate before he puts them in front of her.

‘Stop!’ Han Zheng is walking around and taking the plate filled with the vegetable in front of Emma.

‘You are her husband and you do not know about her allergy to lotus root. She can get an anaphylactic shock after eating the lotus root,’ Han Zheng is moving the plate and changing the whole plate.

‘Madame Yue, how can you serve the dishes with the lotus root in the stir fry?’ Grandmother Lin is calling the cook in her house. It is impossible for madame Yue to make this tiny mistake.

‘Madame, I did not make any stir fry mix vegetable tonight. the only vegetable dish I made is the stir fry wombok with a shitake mushroom as it is Miss Emma favourite. I raise Miss Emma with my cooking, and I will not make a stupid mistake by cooking lotus root. In my kitchen, I never store a lotus root,’ Madame Yue is telling the head off the house.

‘I believe madame Yue. This is only a small mistake and no need to make it bigger. Come on and continue to eat the food,’ Emma is telling them to go back to their seat. Vito is changing his facial expression as black as the bottom of the pot.

He can't accept anyone who dares to kill his wife under his own nose. It is not Lin Yan, and it means someone else tries to get into her to be out in the hospital and kidnap her.

Apparently, it is the masterpiece of Sun An. He wants her to get hop into the ambulance that is going to deliver her into his arm.

But he did not take any consideration about Han Zheng into his planning. He is smashing the bottle of brandy into the floor for his failed plan.

Vito is making a tally for his cousin mischievous act and starts again to burn his asset. He is sending a message to Jones to burn the mall owned by Sun Tong.

This is only for warning if he dares to touch his family member especially Emma. No one can even think about his wife.

Jones is laughing to see his boss text message when he drives to the biggest mall in the C city. He is parking a little bit away from the mall and walk there to the loading area.

Jones manages to sneak into the basement from the loading dock and find their motherboard for electricity.

He makes sure to create an effect of burning because of an electrical short circuit. Jones is putting a device and detonating it after he walks away from the mall.

EXO is disconnecting the fire alarm in the mall and their sprinkle system to make it malfunction.

It won't take a long time before a big fire burned down the whole mall. The insurance will find fault in their mistake as their fire system malfunction and the current management neglected to check the safety of the mall.. Jones is smiling to remember about this as a warning from his boss.
