

Marriage To The Mafia Boss - Chapter 35

. Chapter 35 - The Blame Taker

‘Are you serious?’ Vito is sitting down on their bed. He is putting his body into the head bed. Vito feels his wife is having some secret in her that she is not ready to share. He will wait until she is ready to share with him.

‘I have to go and visit my grandmother in Indonesia. I believe Ai Jia can help me to take care of my holiday. It seems no one contacts me from yesterday absence,’ Emma is looking at him and forget about her naked body in front of Vito.

‘Alone?’ Vito is questioning his wife.

‘I am more than happy if you can come with me, but if you are busy then I can go by myself,’ Emma is telling him about her plan to visit her maternal grandmother.

‘When do you want to go? I will ask my plane to be ready,’ Vito is getting his phone on the table.

‘Can we ride a commercial plane? I do not want to be looking too flashy as my maternal family, not a rich family?’ Emma explains to her husband.

‘As you wish, my dear. I need to take Ai Jia and Max with me for my work, do you mind with that?’ Vito is looking at her for approval.

‘I do not have enough money to bring them. I only can afford to pay two tickets for us as we are flying last-minute then we are going to pay the extravagant price on our ticket,’ Emma is putting a blow of breath because of his idea to bring his staff. This is the first time for Vito to go toward a third world country, so he needs to bring his assistant and his private security team. If Vito is telling her to bring the whole team then she will leave him in the C country.

‘You do not have to pay anything. Is my thigh not thick enough for you to hug?’ Vito is looking coldly toward her when he amuses her way of thinking. It seems his wife still do not want to use all his resources.

‘It’s not that. I just do not feel nice to use your money for my family,’ Emma is circling her finger on his hand.

‘Your family is my family. Everything that I have belongs to you also,’ Vito is putting his face closer to her before stealing a kiss from her peach colour lips. She is smiling toward her husband when she is going to the bathroom to take shower.

Vito is making a phone call to his assistant in the office. Ai Jia is assisting Andrea to send the letter of intent to the person who makes a ruckus in the morning and sue them for defaming Dr Emma Lin and hospital name as the part of Man Corporation. Andrea is not going to settle remedies but sue them with the maximum penalty. No one can blackmail the Mancuso clan and if Andrea let this slip. The Mancuso family will be a laughingstock for the whole world and Vito will not accept that. Either he needs to make them pay or he get kill by his boss.

‘Yes, boss?’ AI Jia is answering the phone.

‘Get ready to come with me and Max. We are going to Surabaya today,’ Vito is telling his assistant to get ready.

‘Yes, boss. I will prepare the plane and pick you up from the hotel,’ Ai Jia is answering his boss in front of puzzled Andrea.

‘We are not using my private. Book the earliest plane to Surabaya. Do we have C airlines under Man Corporation?’ Vito is asking his assistant about his company portfolio.

‘Yes, sir. Are you sure to take the regular airlines and your own private plane, boss?’ Ai Jia is getting shocked by his boss preference. He can’t wait to be buried alive. His boss is a clean freak who will not share his surrounding with other people and yet, he is going to take a commercial airline.

‘Yes, we need the earliest one even you need to make the CEO arrange or make a whole new route for our trip. I want it to happen soon,’ Vito is telling his assistant.

‘Boss, how about if there is an only economy seat left?’ Ai Jia is asking his boss response as he really does not want to see his boss do mass-murdering inside the eight-hour flight.

‘Do you want me to skin you alive? It has been so long for me not practising my knife skill,’ Vito is telling his assistant who like to test his patience. He can’t sit in the economy due to his long leg and his assistant want him to get close with a stranger within eight hours flight. This is not a discussion for him.

‘Let me find your seat, boss. Why are we going to a foreign city? Do you have a secret deal behind our back?’ Ai Jia keeps asking him the question. However, Vito decides to end the connection and join his wife inside the shower.

Ai Jia is getting busy finding them the whole ticket for first class. Andrea is looking at his boss busy assistant and stops him.

‘Is my name included in his entourage?’ Andrea is asking him.

‘Not that I knew off. He did not tell me to take you on the text,’ AI Jia is showing his phone from their boss.

‘Book me also or I leave to Vatican City, and you can take over my job,’ Andrea is blackmailing naïve AI Jia to take him with them. He wants to meet with the first lady of the Mancuso family.

‘Andrea...’ Ai Jia feels hopeless. If Andrea resigns and becomes a priest then all his job will be down to his plate. He will become a zombie with all the jobs in front of him. Ai Jia is putting Andrea name into their group as intended.

He is going back to the Lin family house to retrieve his madame passport. The butler from the Lin family is handing her passport at the same time when Lin Yang arrives back home. She sees the assistant of Vito with the passport in his hand. In the car, there is Andrea and the driver.

Max already sent some of his bodyguards to the airport and check with the airport security for his boss safety. Vito life and his security measure are different compared to the normal businessman because he holds supreme power to maintain power in the underworld. Many of his opponents want his life in return for his position, so he needs to take extra precautions about his security.

The butler is packing their suitcase to be ready while AI Jia is already arranging Emma as the doctor who follows Mr Vito Mancuso for his business trip. He is keeping her identity secret as the wife of their owner. AI Jia and Andrea are going to get them. Vito is wearing a casual navy shirt with dark blue pants while Emma is wearing navy cropped pants with a white blouse from a famous Italian designer. Vito is holding her while she gets her bag outside the room. However, her husband stops just in front of some foreign handsome guy next to Ai Jia.

'He looks so handsome but not as handsome as my husband.' Emma looks at him while saying it inside her mind.

'What are you doing in here?' Vito looks sharply into him.

‘Good afternoon, madame. My name is Andrea Ricci, and I am one of your husband right-hand advisors. So, we will meet a lot and he can’t work without me,’ Andrea is giving out to shake her hand. Emma is going to shake his hand when Vito smacked hard his hand until Andrea scream in pain. Vito did it quickly and hard toward Andrea right hand.

‘She knows you already. What are you doing in here?’ Vito is asking coldly with his cold expression.

‘I am going to follow my boss. I follow you to the end of the world,’ Andrea is rubbing his hand. He is underestimating the power of his boss.

‘Who let you come with me? I need you to stay here in this corporation,’ Vito told him while he walks to the elevator with his wife on his arm.

‘Ai Jia told me that you need me and buy me a ticket. I have to follow his word as your direct order because he is your assistant,’ Andrea is shifting the blame toward Ai Jia who want to hit his head to the wall. He can’t refute his boss when he looks at him sharply.

‘How about the case?’ Vito looks at Andrea regarding his wife’s case. Vito is well aware of Andrea way to deal with the case.

‘All done and dusted. Can I join you, pretty please?’ Andrea is keeping his hand together and begging his boss. Vito is nodding to agree with his request. At least, if he is going to suffer then he has someone to join him in the misery. They are going to the international airport and ready to fly with the C airlines.. Ai Jia is taking care of everything for them.
