

Marriage To The Mafia Boss -

. Chapter 68 - The Instigator

‘I bet this is sent by Luo Han Zheng from the dragon restaurant. Let’s eat,’ Emma is sitting down and get the chopstick. She can see all sorts of her favourite dishes on the table.

‘Ai Jia clean up and throw it on the rubbish!’ Vito instructs his assistant to clean up the food on the table. He really does not like it to see another man provide food for his wife.

‘Why? Nothing wrong with the food. We can just eat it,’ Emma is refuting her husband instruction which sends Vito’s change his expression into one tone darker.

‘it is not the food fault but the message behind the food. If we accept this time and what will be the next time?’ Vito is telling her with his cold stern voice.

‘Ai Jia already accepts this food means that I already accepted this food. Forget it if you do not want to eat. Ai Jia comes to join me to finish this food,’ Emma is instructing her husband assistant who is not reluctant to refuse this Michelin star cuisine.

Vito looks at her happy face while eating the dumpling on the lounge. It makes him getting drowned more in jealousy. He takes his phone and texts his assistant.

‘BUY DRAGON RESTAURANT, NOW!’

Ai Jia almost choked on the snow dumpling in his mouth to read his boss text. He really starts it again because of his wife love the food and he buys the restaurant, not the food. His assistant can’t really put his head around his boss way of thinking.

AI Jia did not dare to refute his boss instruction when he forward the text to Andrea. He forward the text to the legal department director to get everything sorted. This time, he did not want to suffer alone so he delegate it to the whole company.

Wen Liang is coming with the bag of food from Luo Han Zheng for the doctor team in the Man Hospital. He did not know the relationship between Emma and Luo Han Zheng.

‘Cousin, I got more food from President Luo on behalf of Emma to offer gratitude for taking care of Madame Lin. Thank you cousin-in-law,’ Wen Liang is telling more words while he chows down the food.

‘You’re welcome, you can eat more food. This restaurant is serving the best food in the city,’ Emma is eating the food on the table. The only person that has a sour face only Vito. He really angry and did not want to touch the food on the table. The worse part is Emma seems to ignore him and keep eating the food.

Yi Yue is managed to escape death and she gets visited by the instigator of the whole story. She gets up weakly and looks at him on his face.

‘I supposed with this kind of condition, you did not manage to get him within your grasp!’ Sun-Min is talking down toward her.

‘I am not yet failed. I will make sure to get him under my charm. Please be patient!’ Yi Yue is begging the person.

‘You are useless! Stay low until the election finish,’ Sun-Min has given her a warning before he left the room.

‘Proceed with the second plan!’ Sun-Min talks to his subordinate on the phone. He can’t let his nephew get his smooth way as the head of the Sun family. He has to become one when his incompetent son really not fit to become one of the candidates.

Sun-Min is going back to Grandfather Sun to be on his side as his personal aide. He became obedient to survive until now in the side of Grandfather Sun, his own uncle. This time, he has to get the throne and make sure to change this family to be the top underworld organization in the world.

He will make sure to get his nephew to surrender the Mancuso clan to his hand. The most notorious mafia clan in the world and their business is kind of everywhere in the world.

In the Luo corporation, Luo Han Zheng assistant is informing his boss regarding the food deliveries to the Man hospital to Miss Emma. As the hospital policy to adhere to their client confidentiality, the assistant only can relay the message and food to the hospital staff. However, Luo Han Zheng was already contempt to get the short text message from Emma.

’Thank you for the food.’

‘Boss, there is Miss Lu Xi visit yesterday and this morning. Do you want me to get her to your office, sir?’ His assistant is reporting about her presence in the lobby without telling his boss the correct situation of making the scene.

Luo Han Zheng knows this person will make another obstacle in his way to get his target back. He is taking off his kimono and change it with the clean business suit after putting down the phone.

‘Take her to my mansion on the outskirts city. You know what to do!’ Luo Han Zheng is instructing his assistant with a cold stern voice. His assistant knows exactly his boss really does not like the nagging type. Her perfect woman always is Miss Emma Lin, who can restrain his boss and unleashed it at the perfect time.

‘Yes, sir. Anything else?’ His assistant nods to his command.

‘Tell everyone that I am going to visit the new project for the Southbank River as scheduled,’ He is getting his car key and phone. He is going to the lower ground to get into his car while his assistant is escorting Lu Xi to Han Zheng’s private mansion.

Han Zheng is getting some flowers and visit his wife in the hospital. She is still not yet conscious of a comma. He still needs to show a perfect husband image with the wife lay down in the hospital.

It is not long before his father lawyer come and get her thumb seal to include her name signature on some legal document, include their divorce paper.

Han Zheng did not show any remorse on his face when he left the hospital to Man Hospital. It is the time for visitation when he brings a big bouquet of flowers and fruit baskets to visit grandmother Lin.

Apparently, she is still in ICU, so all his gifts only can be kept in the ward. He already feels contempt to see Grandmother Lin with Emma on her side from far away. She looks so beautiful in her simple dress with a cardigan. Her short hair was tucked behind her ear with the glasses.

Vito wants to kill Han Zheng to witness him spy on his wife. No one can touch or see his wife especially this bastard. If his phone is not interfering with his dark wild imagination, there is already a blood pool on this hospital floor.

‘Speak!’ Vito did not bother to look at the name on the screen before answering the phone.

‘Can you become polite to speak with your grandfather? Where are you?’ Grandfather Sun is asking his grandchildren.

‘I am still in the hospital. Why? The meeting is not starting until tomorrow,’ Vito is speaking on the phone toward his grandfather.

‘Can you come for dinner? I need to brief you with something important,’ grandfather is asking his grandson to tell some stuff regarding his life.

‘What time? I might come along. If it is fine for you,’ Vito is telling his grandfather.

‘Why? Where is my granddaughter-in-law?’ Grandfather Sun wants to meet with Emma in reality.

‘Grandmother Lin is having an accident. I just finished patch her up and Emma will be with her to give Wen Liang time to rest,’ Vito is reporting to his grandfather.

‘Why did you not tell me about my sweetheart? Which hospital? I am going to see her,’ Grandfather Sun is getting work up with the news of grandmother Lin.

‘Grandfather, what did you say? Stop it! Let me get clear about something,’ Vito gets work up with his grandfather idea about dating his grandmother-in-law.

‘Where are you? Man hospital? Wait for me!’ Grandfather Sun is closing the phone connection before Vito can even refute anything. He wants to grab Han Zheng when he found him already left the corridor of the ICU.

Andrea is coming with AI Jia to brief him on some business. They are going into his office where his usual expresso already serves on the desk. He is swirling the coffee to hear for the report from Max when Andrea is sitting on the chair in front of Vito’s desk.

‘Boss, your intuition of miss Qin Yi Yue is correct when someone is working with her. The main instigator is someone from the Sun’s family, but they are really professional to cover their track. She is going back to the house rented by a mysterious guy and paid with cash. Miss Qin Yi Yue is getting saved by this man from the brothel house when her parent tries to sell her over their gambling debt. She is moving to Australia where this mysterious guy invests in her to help him smooth some of the business dealings,’ Max is reporting it to his boss.

‘Do you know his identity, Boss?’ Andrea is drinking his latte and looks at his boss with his naïve face. He really likes to annoy his boss when he is well aware of his boss heart condition.. AI Jia tells him all the story about his boss jealousy behaviour because of the delivery of food from his competitor.
