

My Villainous Wife

Chapter 66 - Look At Me

Unexpectedly, Alexander's reply wasn't what the store manager and staff were looking forward to.

They all had a look of shock and disbelief on their faces.

Even the manager couldn't believe it that he thought his ears were playing tricks with him. However, the smile that played on Alexander's lips as his eyes looked serious was hard to ignore.

"Mr. Qu... what do you mean by that?" One of the staff bravely asked him after recovering from the shock.

"What other meaning is there?" Alexander didn't even glance at this staff's way when he replied.

Hearing how the store owner hauled out Zhao Liuyin out, Alexander felt good albeit thinking that hauling Zhao Liuyin wasn't enough to teach her a lesson.

Alexander never intended to know the identity of the other woman in the video since he already planned to destroy her without even knowing who she was after the actions that she showed towards his woman. But upon hearing the Zhao from her name, Alexander thought that it was indeed fate for worms to attract their horrible deaths.

He looked at the manager and asked again, "I'm going to ask you again... Where is the woman in the video?"

This time, Alexander pointed his long index finger on the figure of Yan Xiaoran who had her back on the camera. Although her face wasn't captured, Alexander didn't need a magnifying glass or an x-ray to know that the woman in the video had the same figure as his woman.

One of the staff meekly pointed a finger at the door that leads to the VIP room where the store owner and the other lady went inside.

With that, Alexander used his long legs to reach the door in no time.

Inside the room, Yan Xiaoran was still blushing hard after remembering what happened last night, and to tell it to her best friend, it caused her heart to race faster.

After listening to her, Alina felt hot and warm as well before asking the million-dollar question, "So... How long is he? Is he big or small?"

Faced with a hard question, Yan Xiaoran put a hand on her cheeks as she bit her lips before opening it to say the answer when suddenly, the door to the room opened and a man walked in with confidence.

Standing before them, Alexander wore a dark blue suit with his black hair combed back. His eyes that were filled with frost earlier were now looking at Yan Xiaoran with gentle eyes.

"Alexander?!" Yan Xiaoran felt so frightened, "Wha... what are you doing here?"

"I'm taking my wife out for lunch," Alexander said matter of factly.

Yan Xiaoran glanced sideways at Alina and her eyes were pleading for her to help.

Unfortunately, Alina decided to ignore her plea for help as she had her mouth open. She couldn't believe what her eyes were seeing. A damn fine godly looking man was standing before them. No matter what angle she looked at, the man screamed perfection.

"Ah... Mr. Alexander. Please do make yourself at home. I didn't know my friend here is already married so, I'll take my leave and let you guys be." Alina smiled before she stood up to walk to the door.

Yan Xiaoran wanted to stop her by pulling her hand but Alina glared at her. Her eyes were accusing Yan Xiaoran of keeping the fact that she got married behind her back.

However, how could Yan Xiaoran say that she wasn't married yet when the man had all his eyes on her.

Alina was almost at the door in a good mood when she heard Alexander's voice behind her.

"By the way, your employees committed a grave sin. I suggest you do something about that." Alexander didn't forget to comment about the poor staff who berated Yan Xiaoran and called her a murderer and criminal.

Alina raised her eyebrows in surprise but still said, "Don't worry, I know what to do."

How could Alina forget that her own employees were being disrespectful towards her best friend?

When Alina closed the door behind her, her eyes turned cold as she narrowed her eyes at her employees who seemed to have swallowed a leopard's gut.

The employees outside gulped loudly. They now realized that they dug out their own graves by uploading the video where not only the two women's voices were heard but also their own.

With just the two of them, Yan Xiaoran didn't want to look at him and decided to stare at the platter of cookies on the coffee table.

However, Alexander didn't allow her to avoid his gaze as he walked up to her and raised her chin to look up at him.

Forced to look at him, Yan Xiaoran wanted to cry but had no tears.

This was the first time they saw each other after last night's activity and with the narration, she did to Alina earlier, she felt guilty and embarrassed that she felt her cheeks warming up.

"Don't look elsewhere. I want you to look at only me always." Alexander suddenly declared.

Yan Xiaoran held in her nervousness. Alexander's presence was too great that she felt more awkward as time passes by.

In order to get away and disperse the awkwardness, Yan Xiaoran stood up and said, "You said you'll take me out for lunch, right?"

Their bodies were too close to each other but it seems that they didn't find it uncomfortable after last night and felt only a sense of familiarity.

"I'm hungry, let's go." She lied and held the hand that he used to touch her.

She tried to pull him but who knew that instead of Alexander being pulled by her, she was instead pulled backward.

Her back hit the hard surface of his chest as his arms were around her waist. His face was on her neck and they looked intimate in that position.

Yan Xiaoran then heard him say...

"After we go eat our lunch... Can we continue what we were doing last night?"
