

My Villainous Wife

Chapter 83 - Buy This Place So We Can Live Together

At this time, Xie Na who was already inside the office was pacing back and forth. She was worried sick of her president and friend who disappeared from the club last night with a handsome snack.

She was worried that Yan Xiaoran was completely eaten by a wolf and only her bones were left.

She didn't know who was Alexander and their past together and thus, she assumed that Yan Xiaoran must have been too drunk and dragged the hunk away after seeing his handsome face.

Like everyone else in the club, Xie Na was also astonished by Alexander's good looks and masculine stature that could make other men feel inferior in front of him.

He was like an Alpha in surrounded by a horde of sheep and omegas. His presence was too great and overwhelming.

Hopefully, her boss's fragile body could take that man's vigor and leave with her life.

"Why is she still not here? It's almost 9 am!" Xie Na tapped her foot on the floor and would always glance at the clock in the wall and the elevator to see if her boss has arrived.

Meanwhile, the person she was waiting for had just left the bathroom.

Apparently, after Alexander said that he wasn't jealous, his actions were quite different as he proceeded to kiss her hungrily that they ended up on the couch for another round of heaven.

Yan Xiaoran zipped the back of her skirt that was above knee-length. Her fair and slender legs were quite eye-catching that even the man who was leaning on the door of her walk-in closet couldn't stop staring at her.

Alexander just lazily stood by the door with his arms on his chest and watched her change.

Is he angry? Yan Xiaoran thought as she was uncomfortable with his eyes that seemed to drill holes in her head.

She's heard of the stories of every girl who was in a relationship and they all said that their lovers would always get jealous and angry when they dress less and beautiful outside and would always force them to wear more.

Wondering if he was the same as the males in the story, Yan Xiaoran took a glance at him and smiled.

"What do you think?" She asked him as she also crossed her arms across her chest.

But because she was a woman and her shirt was slightly tight, when she crossed her arms, the shape of her chest was quite visible and it was the first thing a man would look at.

A frown graced his face but it disappeared as soon as it arrived. He walked to her and seriously said, "You look beautiful."

I could die... Alexander kept that thought to himself.

She was slightly surprised but was glad and a bit disappointed with his reaction. Maybe because she wanted him to act possessively to her and tell her to change, Yan Xiaoran pouted and felt that she wanted to change into another set of clothes after seeing Alexander's reaction.

Yan Xiaoran was slightly dejected and moved to open one of her closets to change her clothes when Alexander chuckled behind her.

He pulled her hand and put it somewhere else.

Yan Xiaoran was at first clueless what he was doing and when she felt that warm and hard thing in her hand, she blushed so hard that she pushed him away.

"Alexander!" She glared at him, "Are you an incubus? Are you planning to kill me?!"

Yan Xiaoran couldn't believe that even after last night and earlier on the couch, Alexander still has a lot of energy left in him.

She closed the closet and went out. It was better to get out of here sooner than later or else, she would be trapped in his arms again.

"Where are you going?" Asked Alexander who followed closely behind her. He looked exactly like a puppy following his owner.

"I'm going to the office," she said as she put on her shoes before raising her head to look at him, "Shouldn't you leave now and go home?"

"But this is my home?" Alexander said as if he found her question weird.

Even if she did kidnap him and chain him up somewhere, there's no way he would call it his home. Besides, Alexander was rich through and through. His mansion back in the mainland was extremely beautiful and she could tell that it was worth a couple of a hundred million to build it.

"No, I mean... This is my house. Surely, you don't plan to live here with me, do you?" She asked him to be sure. Her eyes were twitching as she wished she could get a straight answer from him.

And as expected, Alexander smiled as he replied to her, "That's a good idea. Living with you will make it easier for me to repel any man who wanted to see you."

Yan Xiaoran felt an incoming headache.

"Alexander..."

"Hm?"

"Please be honest with me."

"Alright."

"Did you not book a suite before coming here?" She felt helpless as she asked him.

Yan Xiaoran sighed.

"I'll ask someone to arrange a suite for you to u--"

"There's no need to." He cut her off and took out his phone. He dialed someone's number and looked at Yan Xiaoran before telling her: "I'll just buy this place so we can live together."
