Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 1193

Chapter 1193 Her gaze was very clear, and her eyes were also full of conviction and firmness.

Everett looked at her for a while before he said, "But this path will be more difficult than you could ever imagine.

Living under spotlights means all our words and actions will receive attention. We will barely have any privacy and freedom.

IT

"While we enjoy the compliment and honor, we will also face countless acts of maliciousness and defamation. Being insulted and surrounded by rumors are norms.

“If you don’t have a strong and powerful spirit and a staunch heart, you will fall at any time and never get back up again.

“Even so, are you also willing to continue?”

Everett asked very seriously.

Ninian looked into his eyes. His profound eyes seemed to look tired and fed up, as if he had been through a lot of hardships.

She suddenly felt slightly sorry. She even ignored all his questions, but said, “How did you hold up then?”

People might not know, but she was Everett’s die-hard fan.

She had been with him all the way, so she naturally knew how much defamation and maliciousness he had suffered

A newly debuted contestant from a talent show was transformed into an actor. He made dramas and movies from small supporting roles to the main roles. He won all the awards.

The journey was so difficult that it was almost a miracle.

If he was someone from the working class and poor family, he loved the acting industry, and he was willing to sacrifice everything for it, that was fine.

But why would Everett persist in the entertainment industry in spite of his family background and personal ability?

Her question clearly made Everett startled for an instant. But that lasted for a moment only. He looked away very quickly before he flashed a smile and said, “Because of my belief.”

“Belief?” Ninian curiously asked, “To become the best actor?”

Everett looked at her and smiled. He did not speak, as if he agreed.

If Zayn were here, he would know that Mr. Craig had only one belief, which was Ninian.

If he did not stand under the spotlight, how could she see him?

The nineteen-year-old girl already forgot that she also had a hobby a few years ago, which was to fangirl over celebrities.

When she talked about her favorite actor with her friends, her bright eyes even seemed to glow and shimmer.

How could he be willing to let her eyes be filled with other people? Therefore, he wanted to be the most outstanding and dazzling person so that he could replace other people to be seen by her eyes

Luckily, he had succeeded.

He did not just make her catch him on screen, but he also made her fall for him.

After Ninian went back to her apartment, she got in touch with her agent, Amber.

Since she decided to continue in the entertainment industry, she had to plan her career and firmly progress.

After Amber learned Ninian's intention, she was clearly thrilled. The call was filled with her cheerful laughter. "I knew a long time ago that you will definitely continue.”

Ninian asked in surprise, “Why?”

“My sixth sense.” Amber smiled and said, “An excellent person like you will not easily give up once you’ve made up your mind.

This is also why I dared to stake it all to sign the contract with you and agree with all your requests.”
