

My Wife Is A Secret Assassin

Chapter 193: Courage

One Month Later

The girls went for shopping, Mia, Abigail and Carol were helping Samantha choose her wedding dress.

In these years, Samantha became closer to them and genuinely enjoyed their company.

Chance, David, Bill, Isaac, Lucas and Jack were hanging out at Isaac's place as it was the weekend and their women left them alone.

"I can't believe in the next one month, Chance too would be getting married" Lucas exclaimed, looking happy.

"And that too to Danger-Ace" David added, after laughing.

"Hey, my daughter already quit that world, call her Samantha." Bill reminded David.

"So did our man" Jack patted Chance's shoulder proudly.

"Yeah, after I was back, he didn't need to be in that world anymore" Lucas proudly smiled.

"It was not only for you. Sam left it and she wanted a peaceful life, so I too decided to quit." Chance explained.

"Chance, do you ever wonder how Sam would react if she will ever find out the truth of you being the real Grim Reaper?" Isaac asked him.

As even now, Isaac pretends to be the Grim Reaper in front of Samantha. She too stopped bothering herself with him and they actually became good friends.

"She will definitely kill him" David said, answering to Isaac's question.

"No, she will leave him forever" Jack made a guess.

"I think first of all, she will slap him hard" Lucas too took a guess.

"My bet is on revenge; she will take her revenge against him" Isaac too shared his opinion.

Bill was smiling hearing their guesses, while Chance was thinking deeply about something.

"Sir, what do you think your daughter will do when she finds out the truth?" David asked Bill as he didn't make a guess yet.

"I don't need to guess. I know exactly what she will do. I know my daughter very well." Bill proudly said.

"I hope you didn't already tell her the truth?" David joked with Bill.

"Of course, not. I didn't, she still doesn't know the truth" Bill honestly said.

"Then what will she do after knowing the truth?" Everyone looked at him curiously.

Bill looked at Chance, who was the most curious of all, "What do you think she will do?" Bill asked him instead.

"I honestly don't know" Chance calmly said.

"I'll tell you, what she would do." Bill declared and everyone paid utmost attention to Bill's words.

"She will..."

"No, don't tell me" Chance stopped Bill, "I don't want to know"

"Chance, you alright?" David worriedly asked.

"I am not" Chance left from there and went out to the gallery, to smoke a cigarette.

"I had no idea, you smoke" Bill, who followed him commented.

"I quit smoking years ago... but..."

"But?"

"Since the last few days, I started smoking again. I guess this wedding is taking a stress on me" Chance said.

"Are you really not aware of what you are going through or you are in your denial mode?" Bill asked him.

Chance was silent for a few minutes.

"Chance, I could see you stressing for the last few days..." Bill patted his shoulder, "I know what is going on with you"

"I don't want to lose her. I can't live without her, dad" Chance looked at Bill and honestly said, "I am fine with deceiving her but I can't see her hating me"

"All those scenarios they mentioned earlier, I am sure one of them is going to happen and I am not fine with any of those scenarios. I know I wronged her but..." Chance looked helpless.

"Call me selfish, call me a cheat, a scoundrel, anything. I don't care, I just want her" Chance informed Bill.

"Hmm, I understand, the decision is finally yours" Bill patted his shoulder and before leaving, he said one thing, "She is also deceiving you as she never revealed about her complete past to you. I am sure, she too must be going through the same pain as you"

Bill then left from there after saying the words that affected Chance the most.

That's when Chance realized how guilty Samantha too must be feeling for keeping him in the dark.

'She too must be going through the same agony as me. Even more now, as the wedding date is coming closer' he thought.

'Fuck, Fuck, Fuck, you are so selfish Chance, you only kept thinking about yourself and didn't bother what she must be going through'

'How can I do this to her?'

'Should I just tell her the truth? Is it time now?'

'How can I start our marriage by keeping her in the dark? No matter what, I'll convince her to stay with me. I won't let her leave me. I have to tell her the truth. It is time'

Chance threw his cigarette away and headed out after having some conflicting thoughts going on in his mind.

His friends asked him where he is going.

"I am gonna tell her the whole truth, now." Chance declared and left.

"Fuck, I want to see her reaction, can I come with you?" Lucas sadly pouted as he was missing on the drama.

"No, let them be alone" Bill smiled in victory.

"Sir, what do you think Samantha will do after knowing the truth?" David asked him.

"I don't have to think, I know my daughter way too well and I know what exactly she will do" Bill confidently said.

"Please tell us" David requested.

"She will..."

Chance drove towards the Bridal salon where the women went to select a dress for Samantha.

'Fuck, I never thought of the guilt she must have been going through. I only thought about my guilt. What is wrong with me?' Chance drove as fast as he can with all these thoughts and when he arrived the salon, he saw the four women heading in the other direction, discussing something.

His sight fell on Samantha, who looked very happy.

It hurt him to break her heart like this but he decided to be honest, Chance was not sure when again he will gather this kind of courage.

...