

My Wife Is A Secret Assassin

Chapter 196: Turmoil of Emotions

Samantha started crying when she heard his words, every word he said was piercing through her heart but she was still not ready to accept it.

Even when Chance himself said, he manipulated her, she cried but she didn't wish to believe the last beautiful months she spent with him were all a lie.

Later, when she saw Chance question Edwin about, he doing the same with Carol, she hoped he only said all of this to make Edwin realize his mistake.

Right now, she was going through a turmoil of emotions and her mind was a mess. She was having all kinds of mixed feelings. She couldn't take a side.

Then she heard them confronting Edwin as to why he killed Lucas heard and all the information on Berlusconi gang that Lucas shared.

Edwin's words that Chance will die if he will try to chase that mafia group, affected Samantha too.

Just like everyone else, she too worried about Chance's safety.

Even after finding out this truth, her love towards Chance remained the same and she couldn't help but worry about him, although she had many questions in her mind.

Later, she saw Chance kill Edwin with her own eyes, which widened in shock.

This was the final confirmation to her that Chance was indeed Grim Reaper and there was no misunderstanding here.

This was an undeniable truth.

Then she saw Jack come out of his hiding and confronting them.

Here, many of her questions were answered. She realized Chance's female friends have no idea about all of this.

Then her name was suddenly mentioned as Jack asked about her. Samantha was hoping Chance would be honest now and his love towards her all this while was true and not an act to reach Edwin.

She then only heard David saying, it is a long story and he will tell him the truth later.

On one hand, she was upset as she still didn't know the whole truth but on the other hand, she was happy as they didn't say Chance pretended to be in love with her.

Then she saw Chance's friends convince him to give up on Berlusconi gang and to leave this world.

When she heard Isaac's words, she calmed down, "Yeah Chance, think about Samantha. If anything happens to you, how will she take it? I saw the fear in her eyes even with the thought of losing you. Please, let's stop here"

This confirmed that she means a lot to him, David too asked Chance to think about her and after hearing her name, Chance decided to stop.

At this moment, she went through a turmoil of emotions.

The Grim Reaper, her nemesis, who did so much to reach Lucas' killer, was ready to give up on all of this when he thought about her.

Tears rolled from her eyes, as it was enough confirmation that he didn't fake their relationship.

Except for hiding his identity, rest all was true.

Samantha was not able to deduce anything out of it but she was sure of one thing, the thought of Chance not being in love with her made her more upset than him being her nemesis, the Grim Reaper.

She realized she loves him so much that she would continue to love him, no matter what.

Even if he is the person, she loathed the most in her life, she still loves him.

Her love towards Chance was stronger than her hatred towards Grim Reaper.

Then she saw them busy with disposing off the dead body. Taking advantage of their distraction, she headed back to the party as she didn't wish for him to know that she knows everything.

Once she reached there, she went to the washroom and washed her face. After calming her heart, Samantha went back to the party like nothing happened.

"Hey Carol, thanks for the keys" Samantha smiled at her.

"No worries, hope your surprise plan worked" Carol too was friendly with her.

"Yeah, and please remember the promise, don't mention to guys about it" Samantha requested the three women.

"Don't worry, Sam. These men have a lot of secrets which they never share with us. So, we are going to do the same" Mia winked at her.

Later, after a while the four men came back to the party, seeing Isaac's face and Chance's knuckle which were bleeding, Carol got worried but Samantha pretended like she was worried too and treated Chance's wound.

Later after they left the party, Samantha pretended like she slept in the car and Chance carried her after they reached his home.

Hugging her closer to him, Chance slept on the bed with her, lost in some deep thoughts.

Tonight, his friends asked him to quit being an assassin and to give up on the Berlusconi gang but he was not sure if he really wished to. Looking at Samantha, he thought should he really give up everything for her.
