

My Wife Is A Secret Assassin

Chapter 7: She Failed At This Mission

"Sure, for you"

"Thank you so much Sam, this means a lot but you have to be careful to not leave your fingerprints around, it can be dangerous."

"Sure"

Then Abigail arranged some gloves for Sam and told her what are some things she needs to look for.

Currently there was only two guys who were done with their searching and were waiting for their team to get a clearance for them to leave.

Abigail again approached them to distract them but they helplessly shook their heads and before she could say something they said, "Ma'am, will you leave us alone if you would check this place?"

"Yes sure, thank you"

Samantha was disappointed as she lost her opportunity.

"But we need a favor" The two Hawaiian cops informed Abigail.

"Yes"

"We would quickly grab a cup of coffee, you need to stay here till then and finish off your work before we are back and after that, we all will pretend this never happened"

"Done"

The two cops left and Samantha joined Abigail.

"Hey Sam thanks but I can manage as they allowed me to check this place" Abi told her.

"Awesome, can I too look around to help you?"

"Okay, sure"

Then Abigail searched the suite of Mario and Samantha tried to find the hard disk, after police investigation it won't be easy but she still tried.

After few minutes, Abigail and Samantha came out disappointed as they found no clues and the hard disk respectively.

Samantha quickly went to her room before the cops would come and after the cops came Abigail too left.

Samantha called Bill and told him she failed at this mission as she couldn't get the hard disk.

He consoled her it's okay as it happens sometimes and asked her to stay for another day in Hawaii as her return flight was booked for early morning on the day after.

She felt bad but she too couldn't do anything now so she just slept and decided to enjoy Hawaii.

As planned earlier she decided to go to the dinner with Chance as he was a decent guy and she doesn't mind going out on a date with him.

She was dressed up in a white short dress with short hands, she looked like an angel with her hair parted to one side and a few strands of her hair were in the front of her.

She checked herself in the mirror and was happy with what she saw, then she went to the pool area two minutes before 8 pm, only to see Chance already waiting for her.

He was dressed in a white shirt, black pants and a black coat and looked extremely charming, the two looked great together and Samantha too was happy to see him as he was already there, which showed what a gentleman he was.

"Thanks for showing up" He smiled at her.

"You thought I won't?"

"Honestly I was prepared to get stood up"

"It seems you have quite an experience of being stood up all the time"

Chance chuckled at her words, "Well, it never happened but I thought you would be my first stood up"

"Why?"

"Just a feeling"

Samantha indeed had second thoughts about this date but finally she decided to show up as she didn't have the heart to make him sad and came here.

Chance added, "I am glad, I was wrong"

Samantha smiled at him, "So? Let's go to the restaurant?"

"Yes"

Samantha walked towards the restaurant in the resort when Chance suddenly held her wrist and stopped her.

"Yes, but not the one in the resort"
