

My Billionaire Ex-Wife by H. D. Cynthia Chapter 9

Chapter 9

'Jessica somebody posted our performance at LURE on YouTube. It is now a top-trending video!' Hannah called Jessica in the morning and told her the big news.

'Wed better stay low-key' Jessica said smilingly, and then walked into the bathroom to wash up.

'You stayed too low-key all the time. That's why the Thomas family bullied you for such a long time!' Hannah shorted and said, "Tu leave you be. Time for breakfast now.'

Jessica hung up the phone. She was somewhat distracted when she looked into the mirror.

Jessica recalled how she and Lucas got married. Their first night together was an accident. After that, Lucas offered to marry Jessica. Jessica knew that Lucas felt sorry and his offer only served as a remedy.

After that Jessica tried to tell Lucas about her family background more than once, but Lucas always said he didn't care. He just wanted to get back to work.

Later, Jessica accidentally heard Olivia complain to Rebecca about how low-born Jessica was. Olivia even teased Jessica in front of Olivia's girl friends. Finally, Jessica didn't feel like explaining anymore.

How ridiculous!

In Thomas' villa, Olivia also noticed the video on YouTube. Unlike Hannah, Olivia wasn't happy at all. In fact, she was about to blow up Jessica had been out of sight for a few months. But when she came back, she suddenly became popular on the Internet. She was even known as the new goddess? Olivia couldn't believe it.

"Mom, I don't know her, either. Why don't we ask for her number later and introduce her to Lucas? Don't you want him to remarry?" Olivia nodded at Rebecca's comment on Jessica.

Jessica and Hannah walked in front of Olivia and Rebecca. Hearing their conversation, Jessica and Hannah smiled at each other.

Jessica wondered how Olivia would ask for her number later.

In terms of social status, Hari's family was second only to the Thomas family in Los Angeles. Tonight, almost all the upper-class people in LA showed up.

After Jessica
walked in, she saw many familiar faces. Apparently, those people were astonished to see Jessica.

After all, Jessica was just an ordinary person. After leaving the Thomas family, she was a nobody. Yet this nobody somehow showed up at an upper-class banquet. Everybody would be surprised.

Once Olivia walked into the hotel, her friend Lia pulled her over and whispered into her ear, "Olivia, look over there. Isn't that your brother's ex-wife?"

"What are you talking about? How could that bitch be here?" Olivia hated it when others mentioned Jessica.

Lia chuckled. She pointed at Jessica and said, "Look! Doesn't that woman in a red dress look like Jessica?"

Olivia looked over and found that it was the pretty lady she saw at the entrance. She could not help but sneer. "No way. Jessica is not as pretty as..."

As soon as Olivia said that, she saw Jessica turning around. When recognizing Jessica, Olivia froze. "Why is Jessica here?"

What right had Jessica to be there?
