Chapter 1791 Lian Is Here

She still had a lot she had to do. She hadn't fulfilled her promise to her mother, nor had she seen her Lian.

Was she going to die like this?

She looked down at the small bite on her forearm, but her body had already healed that cut by this time. There was no trace of it left.

Qiao Mu could not help feeling bewildered, but she was still apprehensive. Even though the wound had disappeared on the surface, in reality that corpse poison might have already entered her body.

In the end, Qiao Mu simply absent-mindedly gulped down several pills before jumping off the bloodfire phoenix with a whoosh.

She had been limiting her movements earlier because she feared getting scratched.

But since she had already been bitten now, then what did she have to fear?

Qiao Mu was seething with fury.

As if sensing her mood, the advanced-level zombie shrunk back for a moment before charging forward again. Qiao Mu clenched her fists when she saw that the zombie had already restored its rotting arms and fingers.

That zombie abruptly extended its arms, and countless small zombie birds flew out from beneath its armpits. They flapped toward Qiao Mu to encircle her.

Qiao Mu covered the bottom half of her face with her sleeve, yet suddenly, she heard a familiar voice calling out, "Qiaoqiao."

An apparition appeared beside her and stood in front of her without a second word. A pitch-black flame soundlessly ignited the ground.

"Mo Lian." Qiao Mu's moist eyes reddened instantly. It was fine when she didn't see him, but when she did so now, even if it were an illusory apparition, she could feel how much she missed him in her heart. She couldn't stop her emotions from overflowing. It seemed like Mo Lian's apparition couldn't say much as he only turned around to gaze at her deeply.

With a wave of his hand, sacred fire ignited the earth, flickering upwards. It only took a moment for that flock of noisy zombie birds to get burnt into ash.

The black fire subsequently transmuted into a pitch-black sword before skewering that advanced-level zombie's brain in the next second.

There was a faint clang.

A light silver core dropped out from this advanced-level zombie's brain. The color was extremely pure and transparent, not the slightest bit like how nauseating that zombie looked on the surface.

Mo Lian turned around and embraced her with his arms. "Qiaoqiao, I'm worried about you. I will be back very soon..."

The last word trailed off and vanished into the air. His figure passed through her body and brushed her cheek like a light breeze.

The little fellow had stretched out her petite arms in a hug when she saw that his apparition had dissipated. Even though she knew in her heart that the apparition of his divine conscious couldn't last too long because he was thousands of miles away from her, it was another thing altogether to see for herself that he dissipated in less than a minute.

Qiao Mu wrinkled her petite face aggrievedly as she muttered in misery, "Mo Lian, you might not see me again in the future." "Master!" The sapling Qiuqiu's voice entered her ears like heaven's chorus.

Afterwards, she felt her body lighten as she got pulled into Paradise Planet.

On the other side, You Hui had been sprawling on a tree trunk in fear of alerting Mo Lian's apparition. He finally heaved a sigh of relief when he suddenly saw Qiao Mu vanish on the spot.

A trace of an opening mystic domain was lingering in the air. Even though You Hui was at his last gasp, his whole body started trembling in rapture.

It, it was a mystic domain. It was the presence of a mystic domain! That little lady... had secrets.

Chapter 1792 Digging His Own Grave

Hahahaha! He had inadvertently discovered the little lady's colossal secret.

You Hui squinted his blurry eyes as he propped up his body to climb down from the tree trunk.

If the news were to get out, he could already imagine how tragic the d*mned brat's ending would be after being pursued by assassins from all over Shuntian Prefecture.

"Ha, haha! Cough cough cough!"

You Hui dragged his heavily injured body inch by inch toward the foot of the tree, yet his heart tensed at a phoenix's sudden shriek.

Just as he barely twirled his defensive ring in time to activate a defensive barrier, he felt a hot wave hitting his body.

His defensive barrier got completely shattered, and You Hui fell off the tree with sprawling arms and legs.

"Ah, cough cough. Cough." You Hui's organs had basically churned upside down after taking these several hits, and he spewed out a mouthful of fresh blood. His sight got red and blurry, and he could only see less and less.

All of a sudden, he seemed to detect something flying toward him on the horizon.

If You Hui still had his eyesight, he would definitely be seeing red clouds filling the entire sky, with the raging flames shooting toward him like meteors.

He propped up his tattered body, and his eyes flashed with a strong hatred as he tried to crawl out inch by inch from the wall of fire.

This d*mn brat had a mystic domain-Qiao Mu had a mystic domain on her. Even if he couldn't announce this to the entire world, he should first tell his father...

He dug through his inner world to find a jade messenger talisman; however, he heard a light whizzing sound of something flying through the air just as he took out the former.

All of a sudden, he felt his neck turn cold.

He looked down in surprise and saw that a flying dagger had run a bloody hole through and out the back of his neck.

"Cough, ugh, uh." You Hui reflexively wanted to suppress the bloody bubbles that started foaming at his throat. He tried his hardest to see who that blurry figure was.

Qiao, Qiao Mu, she was Qiao Mu. She had come back mostly likely because she remembered that she still hadn't dealt with this small fry yet.

These, these methods were so heartless. She didn't even bat an eyelid after killing someone...

You Hui died while nursing a grievance, laying on the ground resentfully without getting up again.

The Startled Swan Dagger pierced You Hui's body with seven and eight bloody holes before returning to Qiao Mu's hands again.

Not a single trace of blood had been left on the shiny dagger, which was still abnormally bright and beautiful.

Qiao Mu's petite face was ghastly pale as she pressed her lips together and picked up that silver-colored core. After seeing that the phoenix's raging flames were burning You Hui to ashes, she coldly retracted her gaze.

"Let's go." Qiao Mu called back the bloodfire phoenix before being brought back into Paradise Planet.

This time, she could feel spiritual energy exuberantly surging through her body, and she couldn't stop herself from spewing a few more mouthfuls of blood.

She was originally supposed to find a quiet place to cultivate the moment she sensed that she was about to advance into the spiritual realm. This was in order to gather the spiritual energy of heaven and earth.

After being delayed like this, Qiao Mu did not know if there were going to be any repercussions.

Additionally, Paradise Planet was not very stable at this moment. The scenery before their eyes looked like they got stacked, distorted and blurred. It was as if space got warped and was slowly tearing them apart.

"Master, don't worry. This Paradise Planet is transforming into a spiritual domain alongside your advancement. Eat, eat this first."

With that, a small, green and fuzzy fruit landed in Qiao Mu's hand.

Chapter 1793 Qiuqiu's Sacrifice

Qiao Mu caught the fruit and looked around her. "Qiuqiu, where are you?"

She didn't hear from Qiuqiu anymore, but the water child stumbled toward her as the space they were in shook.

It clutched to Qiao Mu's skirt with two transparent arms and urged, "Masta, Masta, quickly eat it." Qiao Mu also knew that she was in critical condition right now. An advanced-level zombie had bitten her arm. Under these circumstances, she was going to zombify in less than 15 minutes. However, she could clearly sense that there seemed to be an intangible force inside her body suppressing the corpse poison.

Even though Qiao Mu was puzzled, she had no time to ponder over it, and she quickly swallowed the fruit at Little Water's urging.

"Where did this fruit come from?" Qiao Mu hastily asked, "Where is Qiuqiu? Why didn't Qiuqiu come out to see me?"

The water child immediately hung its head and whimpered, afraid to answer her. "Where is Qiuqiu??" A bad premonition slipped past Qiao Mu's mind. She quickly caught the water child in her hands and questioned sternly, "Quickly tell me the truth."

"Waa, just now, just now when that thing bit Master. Qiuqiu had Little Earth and I help hasten its growth. So that it could flower and bear fruit faster!"

Qiao Mu's heart sank to the bottom of her stomach. "And then? This is a sacred fruit?"

She remembered Qiuqiu telling her that it could flower and bear fruit. The resulting sacred fruit could make her cultivation soar by at least two levels.

So she had always thought that Qiuqiu's fruit could at most be used for level advancement.

But it turned out that it could also detoxify corpse poison?

"Then how about Qiuqiu?" Qiao Mu couldn't stop her voice from turning grave in her anxiousness.

Qiuqiu was only in the late-toddler stage right now. Forcibly hastening its growth right now would certainly do it no good at all.

Qiao Mu gave the water child such a scare that it burst out in tears. "Qiuqiu, Qiuqiu fell unconscious. Li-Little Earth is taking care of it."

Hearing this, Qiao Mu's eyes reddened. She struggled to utilize her inner sight, wanting to go see Qiuqiu.

Yet the water child hastily latched onto her and pleaded, "Master, Master. Please advance first. If you continue on like this, the spiritual energy will explode inside your body." "No, I must first take a look at Qiuqiu." Qiao Mu asserted while clenching her fists.

Qiuqiu had been steadfastly taking care of and helping her ever since her rebirth. Qiuqiu had given her too, too much. How could she just look on unfeelingly when it was in danger?

“Master.” The water child hung on to her and wailed, “Master, you’re bleeding from your skin. You have to block your senses and immediately enter closed-door cultivation. Master, you cannot drag it on any longer!”

How could Qiao Mu possibly heed the water child’s words right now? She anxiously delved in with her inner sight.

Sure enough, the sapling in her dantian looked luxuriant. Even though it wasn’t a towering tree, it was clearly visible that its growth had been forcibly hastened to the adolescent stage. Compared to its previous toddler stage, it had advanced by an entire stage.

However, Qiuqiu was in critical condition right now. Its roots were wilting rapidly, and its leaves were also slowly curling up and falling.

Little Earth was currently wrapped around Qiuqiu’s roots, trying its hardest to nourish and nurture it. But by the looks of Qiuqiu’s worsening condition, it was evident that Little Earth, which was only in the late-toddler stage, could not catch up to the rate that the sapling was withering at.

“Qiuqiu, how do I help you? How do I help you??” Qiao Mu’s eyes reddened at once as tears gushed out uncontrollably.

Chapter 1794 The Bottom of the Glacial Pond

Qiao Mu’s heart was in pain, and she panicked seeing that Qiuqiu looked like it was about to die the next second. She seemed to see a yellowed and age-old scene drifting past her eyes.

Once upon a time, there was a little girl who drifted in the void while clutching on to a broken withered tree. It had been for so long that she had lost all sense of time.

Just like this, the human and the tree only had each other for company.

“Qiuqiu!”

The sapling shrunk in the blink of an eye, looking even worse than the wilted state she first saw it in.

Qiao Mu was at a loss as she shouted frantically, “Qiuqiu, wait for me. I’ll go find black spirit jade for you inside the glacial pond. You will definitely get better after absorbing it.”

“Master! Master!!” The water child was simply about to go crazy. It saw its little master dashing through the distorting Paradise Planet toward the glacial pond behind the peach orchard.

“Master!” Before the water child could teeter along to the bank of the glacial pond, its little master had already jumped in with abandon.

The water child also dove into the glacial pond in haste. It could only paddle its short limbs with all its might to catch up to its master up ahead.

Weren’t the little master’s strokes too fast? She swiftly swam like a fish toward the bottom of the glacial pond the moment she entered the water.

Even the heaven-engendered sacred water which could fuse with any body of water found it astonishing

This swimming speed seemed almost inhuman.

Qiao Mu arrived at the bottom of the glacial pond like an arrow. At this time, a red figure had also swam up to her with all its might. "It's not here."

Qiao Mu looked at the figure in confusion. This youth looked about 14 or 15, with a red pattern between his brows, while his bright red short hair was especially eye-catching.

"Fiery?"

"Mhm." All divine beasts could transform, let alone the sacred beast bloodfire phoenix. But the beasts didn't really like taking on human forms under normal circumstances, as their power and speed would get inhibited somewhat.

"Come with me, it's here." The bloodfire phoenix had relied on devouring the black spirit jade at the bottom of the glacial pond to break out of his egg. He was naturally well aware of the black spirit jade's location.

Qiao Mu hated herself right now for her laziness in the past. If she had known before this where the black spirit jade was located at the bottom of the glacial pond, then things wouldn't have needed to get so complicated. She could just retrieve it with her spiritual conscious without having to dive in.

"Master." The bloodfire phoenix turned back to look at Qiao Mu and was astonished to find that she was just beside him.

The bloodfire phoenix couldn't help but be surprised.

Afterall, the little master didn't make a sound when making strokes in the water, as if she had completely become one with the glacial pond.

She swam rapidly like a fish in water.

"It's right underneath the sand here. There's a lot of black spirit jade buried there."

Qiao Mu quickly swam down after him and brushed away the white sand. Sure enough, she saw a lot of black spirit jade.

Moving quickly, Qiao Mu threw more than half of the black spirit jade into her inner world in one move before swimming back up to the surface.

"Master, there is actually a hidden door beneath this black spirit jade..." Yet the bloodfire phoenix couldn't help but sigh lightly when he saw that she was engrossed with swimming up to the surface and did not give him her attention.

His little master was not going to hear anything he said to her right now. Currently, she was totally focused on Qiuqiu.

However...

The bloodfire phoenix followed her up to the surface. He creased his brows when he saw blood beading from her arms.

Chapter 1795 Auto-Restoration

Master's body wasn't going to hold out much longer. Her condition now was not much better than the sapling's. What she needed to do right now was to advance to the next level and not do her utmost to suppress it.

After leaving the glacial pond, Qiao Mu immediately summoned a large pile of black spirit jade. She grabbed one and started absorbing it while closing her eyes.

As the sapling had fallen into a coma, then naturally, she could only absorb the jade's energy in its stead. She hoped that it could help.

On the other hand, the water child was anxiously pacing back and forth at her feet. It turned to shout at the bloodfire phoenix, "Why aren't you persuading Master." A tremendous amount of spiritual energy was flooding Master's body right now, but she was suppressing it without advancing. Not only that, she was also continuously absorbing the black spirit jade's energy. Did she want to die from making her body explode?

The bloodfire phoenix creased his brows and clenched his fists. As he wavered, he suddenly saw a furry tail popping out behind Qiao Mu before whacking the back of her neck.

Miss Qiao was already at the end of her tether and thus got knocked out by this unsuspecting hit.

The water child instantly broke out into curses from alarm. "D*mn Chirpy, what are you doing??" Yet the little fat squirrel simply scooped up Qiao Mu's body with its paws and threw her onto the snow leopard's back. "Quickly bring her to where the spiritual energy is most concentrated." The snow leopard galloped off with a whoosh while carrying Qiao Mu. Because their dimension was being distorted out of shape, the snow leopard had a difficult time. It had to intermittently avoid getting sucked into spiritual energy vortexes.

Soon, the snow leopard set Qiao Mu down at the foot of the longeval tree.

The spiritual energy was most concentrated around the longeval tree. That tree was still standing erect amidst the distorting forces in this dimension, still blooming multicolored longeval flowers.

"Chirpy!!!" The water child was going to go crazy. It charged over to stop the little fat squirrel.

Yet Chirpy's two tails nearly slapped the water child flying. "Do you guys still not understand? Why Master's wound disappeared on its own? That's because she has a peculiar restorative power inside her body. In other words, her body will automatically restore itself and help her advance even if she falls into a coma right now."

Because this restorative power will only develop in the direction most beneficial to the little master.

For example, right now. After falling into a coma, the spiritual energy that was practically about to burst out of Qiao Mu's body automatically flowed toward her dantian's mystic niche.

"The changes happening here might not just be a warping of space due to upgrading a mystic domain to a spiritual domain." Chirpy's furry face formed a solemn expression. "It must be because the star domain in Master's dantian is undergoing an extreme metamorphosis." "It's not because of leveling up to the spiritual realm?"

“No! It is not just for this reason.” Their little master really worried them to death, while she was still in confusion about what was happening at all.

So, the best option was to knock out their panicking little master?

When Chirpy knocked out their master, did it think about what their little master was going to do to it after she woke up, ha ha...

“Come on, place these black spirit jade around Master.” As spiritual energy gushed in, the intangible black spiritual energy inside the jade would be guided into the little master’s body.

That way, it should be able to nourish Qiuqiu’s frail body.

As Qiao Mu was in a coma, she was completely unaware that all the spiritual energy that Paradise Planet had just begun to produce was flowing unceasingly into her body.

Her breathing was extremely stable.

Chapter 1796 Coma

Even though she lay there without moving, her complexion was slightly rosy, as if she had fallen asleep.

The group of differently-sized beasts tactfully circled around her. They gazed at her worriedly and exchanged bewildered glances.

“Say, will that auto-restoration really work?” “The sacred fruit Qiuqiu put its life on the line to bear will make Master fine right...”

Even though the group of little beasts were mulling over this, they actually had no confidence in their words.

If their master was okay, she should have woken up by now.

In fact, Paradise Planet’s spiritual domain had already completed its transformation three days ago.

Their master’s body had also already stopped absorbing spiritual energy the day prior. Their master had basically absorbed all the concentrated spiritual energy in Paradise Planet. It was not just one or two day’s worth of work to restore everything to normal.

They had originally thought that their little master was going to open her eyes once Paradise Planet’s transformation was complete. Yet who knew that things would turn out contrary to their wishes. Their little master did not wake up, still in a deep slumber.

“It’s all your fault! It must be that you hit too hard with your tail!” The water child griped furiously.

The little fat squirrel was disconcerted. “Impossible, I controlled the amount of force I put in. Masta wouldn’t have gotten hurt.”

“Phooey! You can split even a mountain into two with your tail, let alone Master in her frail state? It must be that you hit her without controlling your strength properly!” The water child lambasted.

Chirpy instantly wilted.

Frankly speaking, it was starting to lose confidence too. Did it strike the back of Little Master's neck too heavily at that time?

Several days later, the spiritual domain inside Paradise Planet had finished stabilizing, and tranquility returned.

The spiritual energy inside the spiritual domain that Qiao Mu had consumed also regenerated at an extremely slow pace.

But Qiao Mu still did not wake up. Right now, she was lying under the longeval tree with closed eyes and a tranquil expression.

The bloodfire phoenix and other beasts were worried. After all, their little master was still unconscious after almost half a month.

Even so, her complexion was very peaceful, without showing any pain.

Her pulse and breathing was also rather steady, and it really looked like she was only sleeping. "Should we bring Master out to see a doctor?" The water child asked worriedly.

"What can those quacks do?" The bloodfire phoenix derided, "Whose medical skills in Wengka City can be better than our little master's?"

"Then we just leave Master in a coma here?"

The bloodfire phoenix mulled it over before answering, "Let's wait two more days. If Master still doesn't wake up, I'll bring her out to see those quacks."

were

jare

The group of beasties were actually well aware that seeing those quacks wasn't going to be much use.

After evolving into a spiritual domain, Paradise Planet was suffused with spiritual energy. It actually made for a very blissful environment.

But none of the beasts could be happy when their little master didn't look like she would wake up.

"How is Qiuqiu." Only the sacred water and sacred earth could examine Qiuqiu's condition at any time.

"Absorbing the black spirit jade helped it a lot. Qiuqiu's body has also grown a bit. It looks much better than half a month ago."

The bloodfire phoenix and the rest all nodded after hearing this.

Hence, they waited an enervating two more days.

Chapter 1797 Plans

Just as they discussed having the bloodfire phoenix transform into his human form and carry their little master out to see a doctor, Qiao Mu suddenly opened her eyes wide. She stared up above her.

Multicolored spherical flowers entered her sight.

After being saturated in spiritual energy, the differently-colored flowers on the longeval tree had turned even more translucent.

Meanwhile, the water child nearly wept from joy. "Master, Master you're awake!!"

Qiao Mu scrambled up and subconsciously inspected her intact arms and legs. She murmured in confusion, "I'm not dead."

"Bah, bah, bah. Of course Master won't die." The water child piped up while wiping away its tears, "But you were unconscious for a full 16 days, Master."

Only after sweeping her gaze around did Qiao Mu discover that all the big and little ones, from the giant ape to the white snakelet, had congregated in a circle around her.

"I've made you all worry." Qiao Mu picked up the water child. "How is Qiuqiu?"

When she utilized her inner sight just now, she saw that Qiuqiu was still in a withered state. Right now, it was probably so debilitated that it couldn't even form any doppelgängers.

Forcibly catalyzing a growth spurt had damaged Qiuqiu's main body. They would need a large number of black spirit jade to nourish it back to health.

At the moment, the black spirit jade she had on hand was far from enough.

"Don't worry, Master. Qiuqiu is in a stable condition. Given time, Qiuqiu will definitely be able to skip and jump about again like in the past."

zes

"Master, Qiuqiu is very useful. Qiuqiu's leaves not only allow people to sense mystic energy and increase their mystic energy, but when normal people eat it, they can also strengthen their body and health and prolong their life."

"Also, also, Qiuqiu can blossom and produce fruits later. If Master eats the divine fruit, your cultivation can raise at least two levels!"

Qiao Mu seemed to hear the little fellow's incessant chattering echoing in her ears. Her nose tingled from wanting to cry, and she subconsciously bit her lips.

"What should I do to help it?"

"Besides finding a lot of black spirit jade to nourish the little tree, is there some faster way?" Qiao Mu pressed while creasing her brows.

Qiuqiu had once said that its main body was sustaining the entire star domain. All the mystic energy in the star domain was intimately related to it.

Moreover, all the mystic energy in the star domain had transformed into spiritual energy.

Leveling up inside Paradise Planet was going to consume a large amount of the star domain's spiritual energy. This would then heavily burden Qiuqiu's main body.

All she could do was find a way to make up for

“Besides black spirit jade, pure spiritual energy formed between heaven and earth will help Qiuqiu the most. If Master encounters a large-scale spiritual domain and refines it for Qiuqiu’s use, the large amount of spiritual energy inside can accelerate Qiuqiu’s recovery.”

“Okay.” She remembered Elder Xu of Sunlight Academy mentioning that the winner of the Six Prefectures’ Academy Ranking Competition would earn the privilege of entering Blinsheet Island.

Three spiritual domains had been unearthed on Blinsheet Island so far. These were all tonics that Qiuqiu desperately needed.

Qiao Mu narrowed her eyes and made her resolve.

“Master, what have you been doing in the last six days? Why didn’t you wake up after the first ten days of leveling up to the spiritual realm?”

Qiao Mu turned to look at the group of beasties. “Why don’t I bring you all to a place.”

All the big and little beasts naturally nodded their heads.

A single thought was all it took for Qiao Mu to relocate along with the beasts to a beach that extended into a vast sea.

Chapter 1798 Profiting from Disaster

“Look, what do you guys think about this sea?”

“Isn’t it too vast?” The water child, which had been drooping its head while clinging onto Qiao Mu’s arm, couldn’t resist waving its arms in joy. “Master, Master, I like it here. I like it here a lot.”

This place was brimming with a dense water spiritual energy. For the sacred water, this was simply its ideal habitat.

“Mhm, go along.” Qiao Mu lightly shook her arm, and the water child subsequently drew an arc in the air before plopping happily into the sea.

Everyone watched as it turned into a small ice ball when it entered the water. It then drifted along on the surface of the sea in response to the breeze and waves, looking extremely content.

“Master slept for so many days because you were opening up a sea inside your star domain?”

Qiao Mu nodded, yet she followed up with a shake of her head. “It’s not completely because of this reason.”

After saying this, she fixed her gaze on the sea while standing on the beach. A dark red light flitted across her eyes.

It was only an instant, but a meaty fish suddenly flew out of the water and jumped to Qiao Mu. She snatched it up into her arms.

The fish seemed to be a bit dizzy. It didn't even struggle in Qiao Mu's arms, merely foaming at the mouth.

"Perhaps you guys won't get it if I experiment here." After all, this sea was also considered a new planet in her dantian's star domain.

Theoretically speaking, as long as she mobilized her spiritual conscious, she could basically use spiritual energy to grab anything she could "see."

In order to make it more impactful for the puzzled beasts, Qiao Mu brought them out of Paradise Planet with her.

When she came out, she saw that the tree on which You Hui had been sprawling on previously had already broken in half.

She cast the beasts a sideways glance before concentrating her gaze, and a red light swiftly passed through her eyes.

Everyone suddenly saw the remaining half of the tree get uprooted with a loud crack before getting thrown over that earthen wall.

The group of beasties stared at her, flabbergasted. They clearly saw that their little master had not utilized a single wisp of spiritual energy, yet she could inexplicably uproot a tree like this?

Qiao Mu was still holding the fish, which was gasping for air, in her arms. She turned to the beasts and explained, "I seemed to have gotten a superpower-psychokinesis."

This psychokinesis should be considered a mental power. It was rather closely related to the spiritual conscious.

At the moment, her limit was moving this small half of a tree a distance of 100 meters.

Ou

She did not need any spiritual energy as support nor did she need to expend even an ounce of her strength. She only needed to use a portion of her spiritual conscious, but since she still hadn't grasped the gist of it yet, she needed a lot more practice.

Afterwards, everybody returned back to the sea.

The white snakelet wriggled around excitedly. "Master, that means you actually profited from this disaster."

Qiao Mu nodded. "You could say that."

Consuming the sacred fruit not only allowed her to expel all the corpse poison, but it also gave her body immunity.

She had taken her own pulse.

After breaking through to the spiritual realm, she had directly jumped to the entry rank of level-three spiritual cultivation. Her quasi-celestial skeleton constitution had also officially transmuted into a celestial skeleton.

Besides, the most important thing was that her body was now immune to corpse poison.

In other words, she shouldn't have to fear getting bitten or scratched by zombies in the future.

Of course, she wasn't a masochist. It was best if she didn't get hurt in the first place.

Chapter 1799 Fish Orchid Planet

Dinner was that big fat fish!

They cooked it on the beach and buried the fish bones after eating it...

In any case, the star domain had the ability to purify anything, so it would automatically break down trash.

"Masta, Masta, you haven't given this sea a name yet!" Chirpy tactlessly drew Qiao Mu's attention.

The group of beasts could feel a headache coming on upon thinking of their little master's weird naming tendencies.

"This newly accessible planet's name is Fish Orchid Planet." Qiao Mu asked, "We'll call this sea Orchid Sea, okay?"

"Okay!" The group of beasts nodded simultaneously. They collectively felt that this name was excellent compared to those dreadful names from before.

After finishing dinner, Qiao Mu undid the sealing sphere and released the Scarlet Sky Breaker ship from within.

Frankly speaking, Qiao Mu was a bit floored by the sight. A small model ship drifted out onto the beach from the transparent sphere and instantly transformed into a three-story ship that could brave the wind and waves.

The three-story ship navigated the sea steadily, with one or two dumb fish occasionally racing along the sides.

That old senior did not lie to her. This was indeed a treasure.

After everyone boarded the three-story ship, they discovered that not only was it very spacious, it was decked out in extreme luxury.

The hallway, doors, and windows were inlaid with gems of all colors, and there was no lack to the variety of food and drinks.

Most importantly, there were boatmen too.

Of course, it was impossible for them to be human. The boatmen were agile golems with around level-eight to level-nine mystic cultivation. They naturally weren't as agile and amazing as Big Treasure, but there was absolutely no problem at all with them carrying out these simple tasks.

Qiao Mu was planning on circumnavigating the sea to measure the distance.

However, she decided to give up when she had only gone halfway because she felt that there was no end in sight.

“Did I tell you guys? Time on this Fish Orchid Planet progresses at a different pace than the outside world?” Qiao Mu suddenly spoke up.

The beasts all naturally shook their heads.

“I’ve done calculations. One day on Fish Orchid Planet equals approximately two hours in the outside world.”

“That’s why if you guys need to enter closed-door cultivation, cultivate on Fish Orchid Planet. That way you will be able to get twice the result with half the effort.”

Yet Qiao Mu didn’t wait for the beasts’ shocked responses as she left the star domain with a wave of her hand. She returned outside, back to where she had moved the broken tree. When she observed that there were no abnormalities, she walked out from the earthen wall.

At this time, a faint sigh suddenly came from behind that broken tree laying on the ground.

A person furtively peeked out from it. When he saw that there was no one, he patted his chest repeatedly to catch his breath.

He turned around and then froze up all of a sudden.

That person widened his eyes and looked disbelievingly at Qiao Mu, who had somehow gotten behind him. She was looking at him expressionlessly.

“How did you?” Before that person could finish his question, ice-cold nails gripped his neck.

“Who sent you over to monitor this area.”

“I-I don’t know what y-you are saying.” That person panicked, unable to maintain his composure. He hastily protested, “I-I was just passing by. I was passing by.”

“Passing by?” Qiao Mu sniggered before sinking her nails into his throat.

Chapter 1800 Qiaoqiao Returns to the Team

You say you were passing by this deserted and out-of-the-way area?

Qiao Mu scoffed and sank her nails deeper into his throat. “Who sent you.”

“I-It was Br-Br-Brother Gou.” For some reason, that person broke out in a cold sweat when facing this innocent and pretty little lady.

His instincts warned him that he would probably die an ugly death if he did not divulge the truth.

“Who is Brother Gou.” Qiao Mu tightened her grip on that person’s neck.

“Br-Brother Gou, cough, cough, cough. I-I don’t know. I only know that Brother Gou i-is a big-bigwig from the Divine Province Continent! H-He’s not someone our You Clan can offend.”

“You are a disciple from the You Clan.” Qiao Mu stated coldly.

That You Clan disciple suddenly felt his blood run cold, and he couldn't help shivering at these cold and callous words.

“I-I, a-am a disciple of the You Clan.” He braced himself and admitted his identity.

“What did you see just now?” Qiao Mu interrogated him calmly.

The You Clan disciple's eyes flickered before he shook his head strenuously. “See what? I didn't see anything.”

“You weren't surprised seeing me appear out of nowhere?” If he wasn't pretending, then he really didn't see it.

But would Qiao Mu truly think that he didn't see it?

Then there was only one possibility. He was pretending!

By pretending that he hadn't seen anything, was he planning to hurry back and tip them off?

A mocking smile crossed Qiao Mu's lips. She then exerted a slight force into her grip, and a crack could be heard. The next instant, that You Clan disciple slumped down with his head hanging Qiao Mu tossed him to the ground in passing before walking out of the alley.

The instant she stepped out of the alley, the residents nearby heard a huge boom.

Everybody rushed out from their houses to peer at the depths of the small alley. However, there was no figure to be seen. Light from the fire lit up the backdrop behind the alley, and it was hard to see anything clearly.

After leaving the alley, Qiao Mu ran over to the You Clan Estate inside Wengka City.

The You Clan had crossed the line by forcing her into a practically hopeless situation.

If the sapling didn't sacrifice itself to change the course of events and save her, what would she be like now?

Turned into a zombie? A monster that was neither human nor ghost?

When she thought of all the dread and terror she had suffered, she wanted to seize the patriarch of the You Clan and give him a violent beating.

Qiao Mu soon arrived at the entrance of the You Estate. Yet before she could go kick open the doors, she heard Qi Xuanxuan and company shouting one after another.

“Qiaoqiao?”

“Qiaoqiao!”

Qiao Mu turned around and saw Qi Xuanxuan and the little fatty dashing madly toward her.

Qi Xuanxuan hugged her at once as she patted her back in anger and anxiousness. "Where did you run off to? Did you know that everybody was worried about you?"

It had already been half a month. They had long combed through the entire Wengka City in their search for Qiao Mu.

Yet they were unable to find even a single hair that belonged to her during this time.

As time passed, that uneasiness in their hearts started amplifying. It made them ill at ease, unable to sleep or eat well.

Even though this trip had been extremely perilous for Qiao Mu, she also made a great haul.

She followed up by squeezing Qi Xuanxuan's petite hands in return. "Everything is fine."
