

My Ex-wife Is Beautiful After Divorce Chapter 8 - Of Course, He Wouldn't Be Jealous

Chapter 35: Get Rid of the Woman at My Door

Qi Yu glanced at the phone and ignored it. Just as the call ended, there was a knock on the door. Qi Yu was stunned for a moment, but he still got up to open the door.

He didn't see anyone outside through the peephole at the door. Since there were surveillance cameras in the hotel corridor, there was nothing to be afraid of. Qi Yu opened the door.

Standing at the door was the woman from earlier. She had changed her clothes at some point, and it was a very skimpy swimsuit. The woman had a good figure, and her skin was fine as well. Her long hair was disheveled, and she leaned against the door frame, showing off her superior body figure.

"Director Qi, please can we have another talk?"

The woman spoke very slowly, and her tone was obviously hinting towards something more. Qi Yu understood. He looked her up and down, but in his mind, he was trying to recall what this woman's name was. She seemed to have introduced herself before, but he didn't remember it.

Due to the need for work, he had always been good with faces and names, but he couldn't remember this woman's name.

Qi Yu sneered, "Did Director Liu ask you to come here dressed like this?"

The woman slowly straightened her body, and her red lips curved slightly, "No, Director Liu doesn't know about this." Her eyes were seductive, "Of course, I wouldn't let Director Liu know about this either."

Qi Yu sneered, "What about the drugs? Does he know about it?"

The woman paused. She didn't expect Qi Yu to ask about this again. She pursed her lips, "I don't know what you mean. We don't know about any drugs."

Qi Yu grunted and didn't look at the woman again. He slammed the door shut. He had never liked people who pester and people who refuse to admit what they had done. Now that the woman outside was both, he didn't want to waste his breath on her. He picked up the phone and called Director Liu.

If this collaboration were successful, it would be a win-win situation for both parties. The Qi family had already shown complete sincerity to facilitate the collaboration, but it did not mean that he would be schemed against like this.

Director Liu quickly picked up Qi Yu's call and said with joy, "Director Qi, I've finally gotten in touch with you."

From last night until now, Director Liu had called him many times, but Qi Yu did not pick up a single call. Qi Yu's temper was not good, and everyone in the industry knew that, but he did indeed have the right to be arrogant.

Qi Yu did not waste any time with him and directly said, "Get rid of the woman at my door."

Director Liu was unable to react at first, "What?"

Qi Yu sneered, "Director Liu, you must have miscalculated to use this trick on me."

Director Liu was still playing dumb, but Qi Yu hung up the phone. He didn't talk much and didn't like lecturing. Under normal circumstances, he just needed to clearly express his attitude. As for the rest, as long as the other party was smart enough, they would know what to do.

Qi Yu returned to his desk and continued reading the files on his computer. After reading for a while, Zheng Chengyang called. He didn't pick up the first time, but Zheng Chengyang called again.

Qi Yu was a little irritated. It wasn't easy for him to have an off day, but he couldn't catch a break at all. He picked up the phone and snarled, "Speak."

Zheng Chengyang was somewhere noisy, so he didn't sense Qi Yu's impatience at all. He said that they were still at "the Ends of the Earth," that Song Nian was having a good time, and that she was standing on two rocks and taking many photos. He even said that it was a pity that Qi Yu did not come.

Qi Yu's voice was a little cold as he interrupted him, "You called me just to tell me this nonsense?"

Zheng Chengyang paused and immediately said, "No, of course not. The Old Madam called me just now and asked about our schedule. She said that she wants Miss Xu to come to pick us up when we return."

Qi Yu closed his eyes. "Okay, I got it. If she calls you again, just tell her that there's a change in our schedule. We can't confirm it yet. If there's anything, just blame it on me."

Qi Yu wanted to hang up the phone after saying this, but Zheng Chengyang quickly stopped him. He said hesitantly, "Boss, are you really not coming? Song Nian and Shen Chong are getting along very well. I'm afraid that the two of them..."

Qi Yu hung up the phone immediately. He didn't want to hear another word from Zheng Chengyang. He sat down and continued to read the documents on his computer. However, before he could read two lines of the documents, there was a commotion outside.

From its sound, it should be the woman from Fenghe Group. After a few words, he heard Director Liu's voice. It sounded like he was scolding someone. Then, the woman's crying came from outside.

Chapter 36: I Was With My Wife That Night

Qi Yu furrowed his brows. He didn't like it when women cried. He wasn't someone who cared much about women, and women's cries and tears were useless to him. They only annoyed him. Fortunately, Song Nian did not like to cry.

Thinking of this, Qi Yu quickly stopped himself. For some reason, he kept thinking about Song Nian today. In the future, this woman had nothing to do with him, so he should not think about her anymore.

The woman outside the door seemed to have thought of something and suddenly knocked on Qi Yu's door. She yelled for Qi Yu to come out and explain himself. Perhaps she was acting too crazy, so the hotel security didn't dare to come forward for a moment. They just let her knock on Qi Yu's door.

After this commotion, Qi Yu could not read his documents anymore. Qi Yu got up and opened the door. The woman's exquisite makeup was all messed up from crying, and she looked terrible.

When she saw Qi Yu Open the door, she pursed her lips and cried even louder. She did not quibble with Qi Yu about the drugs. Instead, she directly confessed to Qi Yu, saying that she had liked Qi Yu and had fallen in love with him the moment she saw him.

Director Liu's face was awkward. Actually, from the way he was pulling the woman, he seemed a little happy to see this happen. It seemed like he wanted his employee to tackle Qi Yu.

The woman's confession did not move Qi Yu. While the woman was wiping her tears, he said with certainty, "So you really did administer that drug."

The woman took a deep breath. It was useless for her to deny it now, "Yes, but I promise that the drug won't have any adverse effect on you. I took it myself. If it had, I wouldn't have taken it."

Qi Yu could not understand what was going through this woman's mind. He raised his eyebrows, "You should know that I'm married, right?"

The woman paused, opened her mouth, and was speechless.

Qi Yu chuckled mockingly, "So, how can you have the nerve to confess to a married man? You even drugged a married man to try to do something shady?"

The woman's tears fell again. She covered her face and said that she liked Qi Yu too much. She had liked him for a long time, so much so that she could not control herself and did something stupid.

Qi Yu did not want to hear this anymore. He looked up at director Liu, "From this, I can tell that the quality of Fenghe Group's employees has much room for improvement. I suggest that you strengthen the training of your employees."

After saying this, he raised his hand and was about to close the door, but the woman would not give up. She used her hand to block the door, and her eyes were red, "So you took the drug yesterday, right?"

Director Liu knew what she would say next and quickly pulled her back. "Shut up. Look at what you've done. If anything happens to the collaboration because of you, how are you going to pay for it?"

Qi Yu ignored Director Liu's words and explained with a chuckle, "I was with my wife yesterday. Is there anything wrong?"

The woman was stunned, and so was Director Liu. The two of them naturally knew that Qi Yu was married. Back then, the Qi family's wedding was very high profile, and everyone in the industry knew about it. However, they didn't know that Qi Yu had brought his wife on this business trip.

In front of Director Liu and the woman, Qi Yu took out his phone and dialed Zheng Chengyang's number. Zheng Chengyang picked up very quickly, and his voice was a little excited, "Boss, do you have any instructions for me?"

Qi Yu's voice was low, "When are you and Niannian coming back?"

Zheng Chengyang suddenly became stunned. He had never heard Qi Yu address Song Nian this way. However, Zheng Chengyang was smart.

After a few seconds of silence, he continued, "The lady boss went crazy over at the "Ends of the Earth." She didn't say when she was going back. What's wrong? Is there something going on at the hotel?"

Qi Yu smiled, "Nothing much. I'm just asking. If she's happy, she can play for a while longer. Take good care of her."

After saying that, Qi Yu hung up the phone. Director Liu and the woman had a variety of expressions on their faces. Qi Yu raised his eyebrows and looked at them, "Did you hear that?" He didn't want to waste any more time with the two of them, so he closed the door.

It wasn't until the door blocked their line of sight that Qi Yu's face turned completely cold. Looking at Director Liu's attitude as if he was watching a good show, he obviously wanted to use this incident as leverage. The divorce between him and Song Nian hadn't been announced yet, so he was still a married man in the public's eyes.

Even if he had been drugged and had to sleep with another woman, it would still affect his reputation. This had become obvious after Director Liu and the woman made such a scene at his door, and Qi Yu had become much more apprehensive.

Chapter 37: Don't Make It So Formal

After thinking through all these twists and turns, Qi Yu suddenly let out a sigh of relief. It was fortunate that Song Nian had gone over that night. However, if he wanted to resolve this matter completely, another issue would arise – the divorce between him and Song Nian could not be exposed for the time being.

No matter what the reason for their divorce was, no one could know at this moment.

Qi Yu frowned and returned to the sofa to sit down. At this time, Zheng Chengyang called again. Qi Yu looked at it and picked up, "What's up?"

Zheng Chengyang's tone was very serious. "Boss, the lady boss and I are heading back."

Qi Yu immediately said, "It's alright, it's convenient to talk now."

Zheng Chengyang paused for a moment, then his tone instantly became much more relaxed, "Boss, what happened just now? Is something wrong?"

Zheng Chengyang usually seemed quite silly, but his brain worked quickly at the crucial moment. He couldn't help but swear. "F*ck, so they wanted to use this to blackmail us?!"

Qi Yu acknowledged and said, "But it's fine now."

Zheng Chengyang was still a little angry. Anyone who was schemed against would be unhappy. "These people are too sinister. If Song Nian didn't go over that night, they would have really gotten their way."

No matter the reason, as long as Qi Yu had s*x with another woman and was unfaithful to his own marriage, it would affect the company's image. After all, people these days would never try to understand the reason and would only look at the consequences.

The Qi family's company was big, and they had many rivals. If Qi Yu's reputation were stained, many people would want to take advantage of it.

After this incident, Zheng Chengyang wasn't in the mood to have fun anymore. He said, "Forget it. We're already heading back. Song Nian's stomach isn't feeling well. She should get back and take some medicine."

After hanging up, Qi Yu put his phone to the side. To be honest, his hind was a little messed up right now. Many things were out of his control during this business trip, and it didn't feel good.

Qi Yu thought about it and remembered something important. He quickly called the Qi family's old mansion, and the Old Madam answered the call, "Ah Yu?"

After Old Master Qi passed away, the Old Madam's wasn't too healthy either. She had been on a vegetarian diet and praying in the old mansion for the past few days. Qi Yu first asked about the Old Madam's health before saying, "Grandma, I have something to tell you."

The Old Madam nodded, "You can talk, but don't make it so formal."

The Old Madam was apprehensive about the way Qi Yu speaks. She remembered that the last time Qi Yu spoke to her so formally was to tell her that he wanted to divorce Song Nian. The Old Madam still remembered Qi Yu's resolute expression when he spoke.

In fact, the Old Madam was not quite approving of Qi Yu and Song Nian's divorce, just like how she didn't quite approve of Qi Yu marrying Song Nian back then.

Marriage wasn't a child's game, and modern society also believed in the superstitious concept of bringing prosperity into the family with a marriage. Back then, the Old Master's attitude was firm in wanting to break off the engagement with the Xu family and let Qi Yu marry Song Nian.

She was the first to oppose it, but Qi Yu compromised after much consideration, so she didn't insist anymore. However, after the marriage, the Old Master still passed.

Then, Qi Yu told her that he wanted to divorce Song Nian, but she was also the first one to oppose it. The older generation was much more pious towards marriage, and most people intended to stay married for the rest of their lives.

Unfortunately, other than her, everyone in the Qi family agreed to Qi Yu and Song Nian's divorce. In addition, Qi Yu's attitude was also very firm, so she didn't say anything else.

After all, she was old and couldn't keep up with the views of the times. In addition, it wasn't appropriate for an old person like her to interfere too much in the affairs of her children and grandchildren.

Qi Yu was silent for a while on the phone before saying, "I encountered something on this business trip that might involve my marriage with Song Nian. I just want to ask. The family hasn't announced my divorce yet, right? If it hasn't been made public, then don't make it public for the time being."

The Old Madam was stunned, "What's wrong? What happened to you?"

These things couldn't be explained in a few sentences, So Qi Yu let out a sigh. "I'll tell you about this in detail when I go back. Now, I only hope that you can help me keep this matter quiet."

Chapter 38: The Person Standing by the Bed

On the second day of Qi Yu's divorce, Qi Yu's mother wanted nothing more than to announce to the world that her son had gotten rid of that woman. She even wanted her son to marry the Xu family's daughter as soon as possible.

Now that Qi Yu was trying to cover up his divorce with Song Nian, the first person he needed to sort out was Madam Qi.

The Old Madam sighed, "Alright, I don't know what's going on on your side, but I'll talk things through with your mother. Don't worry." After saying that, the Old Madam couldn't help but add, "Actually, you and Xiao Nian didn't have to go this far."

Qi Yu didn't say anything, and the Old Madam didn't continue. She had already tried everything she could to persuade him back then. So, after saying this, she did not bring it up again, "Alright, take care of yourself when you're out. Don't worry about your family. Your mother usually doesn't care about what's important, but she still listens to what I say."

Not long after, Zheng Chengyang returned. Song Nian did not follow him. Zheng Chengyang said that she was feeling a little unwell and went back to take her medicine first.

After Zheng Chengyang sat down, he was indignant, "Don't you think that the people from Fenghe group are too shameless? I had suspected that Director Liu had something to do with this. No matter how reckless his subordinates are, they wouldn't have gone so far as to drug you at the dinner party."

He felt that something was wrong when he attended the hotel's dinner party. Director Liu had been pestering him to drink, but he had to use the excuse of going to the toilet to escape.

Zheng Chengyang sat across from Qi Yu, "If you were to fall into their trap that day, the terms of the partnership would be at their disposal."

If Qi Yu had really let that woman sleep with him that day, whether he could get rid of her in the future was another matter. In any case, the partnership would definitely be led by the nose by Fenghe Group.

Qi Yu did not expect that such a large company would actually use such underhanded methods. He had seen a lot of deceit in the business world, but he had never seen anyone use such dirty tricks at the start.

That was why he was completely unprepared.

Song Nian's stomach was really unwell this time. She did not take any medicine before leaving the house this morning, nor did she bring any with her when she went out to play.

She thought that she would be fine, but her stomach started to feel sick after a while. It just so happened that Zheng Chengyang said that there was an incident at the hotel, so she thought about it and followed him back.

Anyway, she didn't have much fun, to begin with. Places like the "Ends of the Earth" were full of couples. When she saw the two stones, she felt very upset. When she suggested ending the trip, she could tell that Shen Chong was a little unhappy, or perhaps he had been unhappy since Zheng Chengyang went out with them.

However, she felt that Shen Chong would have nothing to do with her in the future, and she would not go any further with him, so she did not care too much. If she had to care about the emotions of everyone she met, she would be too exhausted.

After Song Nian, Zheng Chengyang, and Shen Chong left, she went straight to her room. She went to get the medicine first. The doctor said that her condition was too severe and had to be controlled with medication all the time, so she gave a bunch of prescriptions.

Song Nian laid out the medicine and took it. After that, she was not even hungry. After taking medication, she lay on the bed and curled up. She woke up too early in the morning and did not sleep well last night. She fell asleep in a daze.

Just as she was about to fall deeper into sleep, she heard a knock on the door. Song Nian did not want to move. No matter who came knocking on the door, she did not want to respond. Fortunately, the knocking stopped after a while.

Song Nian thought it was a hotel staff member, so she didn't pay attention. She fell asleep in a daze.

After sleeping for an unknown amount of time, Song Nian felt someone approaching her bed. She was still quite alert. She opened her eyes and sat up suddenly.

In the end, the people standing by the bed were Qi Yu, Zheng Chengyang, and the hotel manager. Zheng Chengyang saw Song Nian sit up and let out a sigh of relief, "You scared me to death. Are you okay?"

Zheng Chengyang turned to look at Qi Yu, "See? I told you she was fine, but you didn't believe me."

Song Nian turned her head and looked at Qi Yu, "You didn't think I fainted again, did you?"

Qi Yu didn't answer. Instead, he turned to the hotel manager and nodded apologetically, "I'm sorry, I made a mistake."

Chapter 39: Putting on an Act

The hotel manager was also scared out of his wits. Seeing that Song Nian was fine, he waved his hands, "It's alright, as long as she's fine."

After the hotel manager left, Qi Yu and Zheng Chengyang didn't leave. Zheng Chengyang glanced at the two of them before turning around to go into the living room.

Song Nian tidied up her messy hair from her sleep and looked up at Qi Yu, "Did you need something from me earlier?"

Qi Yu nodded, "Yes, I did."

When they went out, Song Nian saw that Zheng Chengyang and Qi Yu were on the phone. After the call ended, Zheng Chengyang was a little off. At that time, she didn't ask because her stomach wasn't feeling well, but now, she stared at Qi Yu for a while.

She nodded, "It seems like this matter is related to me. Is there anything I can help you with?"

Qi Yu did not expect Song Nian to be so perceptive. He paused for a moment and nodded, "There is indeed something I need your help with."

Song Nian was very straightforward, "Tell me, what do you need me to do?"

Qi Yu did not know how to say it. They had just agreed not to have any more interactions in the future. After all, they were divorced, and they had to keep a distance from each other. They should not be entangled like this. Therefore he did not know how to make this request.

Song Nian stared at Qi Yu for a long time, but he didn't say what it was about, so she took the initiative to ask, "Why, is it difficult to ask?"

Qi Yu shook his head, "It's not that difficult. It's just that the fact that I was drugged in the hotel is now exposed. Because of the special circumstances, I could only say that you were the one who had s*x with me."

In fact, this matter wasn't hard to understand. Although Song Nian had never been in the business world, she had been in the Qi family for a year, so she knew some things.

Song Nian thought about it and asked, "They used what happened last night to blackmail you? Our divorce hasn't been announced yet, so are you trying to say that we're still legal?"

Qi Yu could be considered the main guest of the banquet. If he suddenly disappeared from the hotel, they would definitely check the surveillance cameras. Song Nian would naturally be seen on the surveillance cameras, so Qi Yu's explanation was flawless.

The only thing those people didn't know was that the two of them were already divorced.

Song Nian thought about it and asked again, "Then, what do you actually mean?"

Zheng Chengyang had come over and was leaning over at the door to eavesdrop. Now that he saw Song Nian asking this, he was afraid that Qi Yu would be too embarrassed to say anything.

So he continued, "The two of you cannot let others know about your divorce. At this juncture, no matter what reason you give for your divorce, the truth will be distorted. Therefore, for the time being, the two of you need to put on an act in front of outsiders and pretend to be a loving couple."

Furthermore, if word got out that they had sex after the divorce, it wouldn't sound good either.

Song Nian looked at Qi Yu. Qi Yu paused for two seconds and agreed with Zheng Chengyang, "Yes, that's what I meant."

Without waiting for Song Nian to say anything, Qi Yu immediately added, "But don't worry. After this is over, I'll find an opportunity to announce the divorce to the public. You can give me any reason you prefer. Also, when you cooperate with me, I won't treat you unfairly during this period. You can give me any conditions you want."

Giving such a huge benefit only meant that she had to fulfill even more of her responsibilities.

Song Nian pursed her lips, "So... the prerequisite for pretending to be in love is that the husband and wife need to stay in the same room? Eat and live together?"

After all, she had never heard of any loving couple that would have separate rooms while on vacation.

Qi Yu furrowed his brows out of habit, "More or less." In fact, he wasn't sure what Song Nian needed to do next, and he didn't know what tricks Director Liu would come up with next.

If Director Liu was well-behaved, he didn't need Song Nian's help to do anything, nor did he need Song Nian to stay by his side all the time. As long as no one noticed any substantial changes in their relationship, it would be fine.

Song Nian thought about it and suddenly smiled, her eyes shining, "Then what do you want to give me? Even if it was up to me, there should be a bottom line, right?"

Qi Yu's expression did not change, "As long as it's not too excessive, it's fine."

Song Nian did not know what the standard was, but she did not dwell on it and only said, "Then let me think about it."

Zheng Chengyang's eyes widened, "What else do you have to think about? Isn't this..."

"Okay, I can give you time to think about it, but not too long. Can you give me an answer tomorrow morning?" Qi Yu interrupted Zheng Chengyang's words and stared at Song Nian.

Chapter 40: Honesty

Sometimes, Song Nian really admired Qi Yu's straightforward approach, but at the same time, she also really disliked his way of doing things. He did not leave any room for Song Nian to maneuver with just one sentence.

Zheng Chengyang wasn't willing to leave just like that, "Boss, you can go back first. I want to chat with Song Nian for a while."

Qi Yu frowned, and Zheng Chengyang quickly added, "Her stomach isn't well. I'll stay and take a look. I'll leave in a while. I won't disturb her."

This time, Qi Yu didn't say anything else and left directly.

After Qi Yu left, Zheng Chengyang darted into the bedroom, "Hey, my lady boss, what are you still thinking about? This is such a good opportunity!"

Meeting Song Nian's calm gaze, Zheng Chengyang smiled sheepishly and corrected himself, "Ex-lady boss, it's ex-lady boss." He addressed Song Nian the way he did in his excitement.

Zheng Chengyang walked over and sat down on the chair beside Song Nian's bed, "Didn't I tell you? Your ex-husband is really popular with women. We've only been out for a few hours today, and that woman already came knocking on our door. Do you know that that woman almost stripped herself naked and laid on your ex-husband's bed? You have to be aware of the danger!"

Song Nian was stunned. She raised her head and looked at Zheng Chengyang, "That woman came knocking on his door?"

Zheng Chengyang nodded. He was very serious, "Of course. The phone call I received earlier was from your ex-husband. That woman was right outside your ex-husband's room. She was wearing a bikini. Wasn't it evident that she was offering herself?"

"Your ex-husband has great willpower and can control the situation. That's why there wasn't any chaos. Then..."

He paused for a moment. Song Nian knew what he meant, so she answered, "Then what happened?"

Zheng Chengyang slapped his thigh, "Then that woman confessed to your ex-husband! She even said that she had liked him for a long time, but your ex-husband wasn't moved at all. She even told that woman that he and his wife were on very good terms."

Of course, Zheng Chengyang was spouting nonsense. Qi Yu didn't tell him too many details and only gave a rough description. However, his ability to make up stories was superb. When the truth and falsehood were mixed, it sounded pretty plausible.

Then, he continued, "After that woman heard it, she started to get angry out of embarrassment. She rolled around and said that your ex-husband had been drugged and betrayed his marriage. If this matter were to spread, your ex-husband's reputation would be ruined."

Zheng Chengyang said nonsense with a straight face, "When your ex-husband heard that, he laughed. He admitted that he had indeed been drugged, but he was with his wife after that. Oh, he mentioned the word "wife!" Listen to this. It's so exciting!"

Song Nian actually wanted to say that. What was so exciting about that? But when she saw Zheng Chengyang's excited and slightly exaggerated expression, she swallowed her words.

Zheng Chengyang stared at Song Nian, "Well, I'll tell you the truth. When a man is drugged, he would be desperate. After all, he's under the influence of the drug. It would be fine to have any woman by his side to satisfy him quickly. But look at your ex-husband. He controlled himself, and only after seeing you..."

Song Nian's body stiffened. She got down from the bed and opened the window, looking at the weather outside through the window. Although Zheng Chengyang's words were exaggerated, the key events remained unchanged. The woman's visit should be real.

Song Nian stood for a while and only turned back to change the subject, "I'm hungry. I want to go down and eat."

Zheng Chengyang got up and followed suit, "Is your stomach still unwell? Did you take your medicine when you came back?"

Although Song Nian changed the topic, it would be fine as long as she listened to him.

"I just took medicine." Song Nian shrugged.

When Zheng Chengyang heard that, he quickly said, "Then what are you waiting for? Hurry down and eat. I'll go with you."

"Why are you going with me?" Song Nian was a little annoyed with him.

Zheng Chengyang said with a straight face, "How would I know what you ordered if I didn't go with you? You'll only order the things you can't eat. Your stomach isn't well now, so you have to eat something light, okay? Don't treat your own body like it's nothing."

Although Zheng Chengyang didn't seem reliable, he was good to her.

The two of them left Song Nian's room. As they walked toward the elevator, Zheng Chengyang suddenly ran to Qi Yu's room and knocked on the door. Without waiting for the person inside to open the door, he shouted, "Boss, the lady boss and I are going down to eat. You should join us. Haven't you eaten yet?"
