

MY FGB 411

Chapter 411

Silvan could not help saying, "Evan, this kid's making things up. He just took a look here and wanted us to contact Admiralporium. You'll be penalized!" Evan snapped out of his daze as well. Silvan was right. Kayson had just taken a look without doing anything

Kayson told them indifferently, "Just inform them. I'll be responsible if there's an accident." "Will you even be able to take responsibility?"

"Shut up!" Evan scolded and glared at his mentee before walking off to the side to make the call.

He came back a while later and told Kayson, "Admiralporium will send its people within three hours."

"Please get some water pumps and excavators here, Captain Whitman," Kayson asked.

Evan got to work without a second thought and called Admiralporium without any hesitation. How hard was it to get some water pumps and excavators over?

In less than three hours, five to six people came over. Evan and Silvan went up to them, only for the head of the group to walk past them directly to go over to Kayson.

"Mr. Yarde!"

Kayson nodded. "We meet again, Captain Cooke." It was Shien, whom Kayson had met a few times before in Northspring. Shien's reverence for Javier shocked Evan and Silvan. Even a level-4 member of Admiralporium felt superior to anyone outside of the organization, but this captain came and rushed to greet Kayson once he was there. The scene simply made their jaws drop. Silvan, especially, froze on the spot. Kayson explained the matter briefly, and Shien, who heard the explanation, looked grim as he immediately ordered for the water in the pond to be sucked dry.

With Shien around, even Evan became an errand boy.

When the water was sucked dry, it was the excavator's turn to dig. About three meters in, a female corpse was found, her decaying hands holding a crimson crystal ball.

Evan and Silvan were astonished as they stared at Kayson in disbelief, surprised that the latter had known that there was a corpse hidden in the pond. What was strange was that the place did not reek of a decomposing body when the corpse was dug out. Kayson went over and said, looking at the crimson ball that the female corpse was holding, "This is energy crystallization. The female corpse was probably at the peak of the pre-celestial level.

"Her physique is unusual too, and she's being used as a filter to purify the energy infused into this globe." As he spoke, a Blood Seeker like the one inside Evan crept out of the woman's wrist. Kayson killed it immediately. "Blood Seekers don't appear alone. They usually come in male and female pairs. The male Blood Seeker will go out and suck blood, while the female one will receive the blood into the filter." Evan felt his head tingle despite his experience, while Silvan was worse off. His face was drained of any color. Shien then spoke up. "Someone purposely kept this energy crystallization here." Kayson nodded. "Only Admiralporium could handle this. Of course, people who go missing for no reason or are found dead are under Captain Whitman's jurisdiction." Evan nodded. "I'll send someone to follow up on the reports regarding these scenarios.” “If it weren’t for you, we wouldn’t have known that there’s a dangerous martial criminal lurking in Clouspring,” Shien said.

He was grateful, and the members he had brought along looked at Kayson in reverence. Kayson smiled. Since Admiralporium had taken over the matter, he was not planning to stay on. Evan quickly drew Silvan, who was pale, close to him.

Chapter 412

Silvan looked awkward as Evan pressed his head down to apologize to Kayson.

“Mr. Yarde, I’m sorry!”

That stunned Kayson momentarily before he smiled. “It’s not so serious. There’s no need to apologize. But of course... I’ll accept it since you’ve already apologized.” He then asked, “You’re one of Skyspring’s Killicks?” Silvan paused and nodded. “Yeah... How did you know?” “I beat up someone named Harold Killick,” Kayson answered. Silvan was speechless before he replied drily, “That’s... my younger cousin. My parents aren’t exactly big among the Killicks. While I’m a Killick, I’m not like a core family member.” Kayson chuckled. “So you want to achieve something and go further to gain the Killicks’ acknowledgment?” Silvan was astonished. “You can see this too?” “You wear your impatience and eagerness to earn merit on your sleeve,” Kayson answered. It only made Silvan more awkward. Kayson had actually beaten up Harold, and he himself remained unscathed—and he knew people from Admiralporium too. It was evident that he was not an average person. Evan grinned upon seeing that their conflict was resolved. “Mr. Yarde, I can’t leave for the time being. Silvan will take you back.”

“Sure.”

Kayson nodded, and Silvan went to fetch the car cheerily. He was impressed by the former now that he had seen what he could do.

Kayson recalled that Jules and Ivan had come from Skyspring with Jeremy back when Nicholas had attacked. They had said that they would spend some time traveling around Clouspring before they went off the grid. “Has Mr. Killick Sr. gone back?” Kayson asked.

Silvan answered awkwardly, “I... I don’t qualify to know his whereabouts. There are a lot of Killicks. We’re Killicks too but we don’t stay in the family mansion.”

Kayson understood, but Jules had not made contact after saying that he wanted to travel around Clouspring, and Kayson felt that he would not just leave without a greeting. He thought about it and called Jeremy to ask.

Jeremy seemed quite bewildered as he replied, “It seems like it’s been a while since Mr. Killick Sr. and Ival) were last seen in public...”

“Now that you mention it. The Killicks have been pretty quiet recently. It looks like they Haven’t inen np 10 anything”

Krynon felt that something was not right. “Uncle Jeremy, check if they’ve gone back for me it Villro free!

“Sure.” Jeremy agreed and ended his call with Kayson. Kayson then ran into Celeste on the ground floor of the company. “Kayson!” Celeste looked delighted. Kayson smiled as well. “Did you pass the interview?" "Mm!" Celeste was beaming. "I'm new and not as experienced, so I wasn't given the title of director "Ms. Wolfenden asked me to take on the tasks of the director under the name of the vice director, and my remuneration will be calculated based on the salary of a director. When I show my accomplishments later on, she'll promote me." Kayson nodded. "That's alright. It's reasonable." Celeste smiled. "I'm already so delightfully surprised that I wouldn't dare wish for more. And I have you to thank for it. Don't go when you get off work. I'll buy you a meal!"

"It's fine. "

Celeste was not having it. "We have to!" Kayson could only agree to it. When he went to the project department, Easton and the others were having a lively discussion.

"My god! You guys have no idea. The new CFO is as pretty as Ms. Wolfenden!" Easton did a little dance. "I went to sneak a peek. She's pretty, and her voice is sweet. She seems quite decent character-wise, and her figure? Perfection!" Reva pursed her lips. "Are you exaggerating? Ms. Wolfenden's already super gorgeous, so how could she compare to her?"

Chapter 413

Easton was beaming with joy. "Could I be bluffing? She's really gorgeous." Delight suddenly flooded Reva's features as she called out, "Kayson!" Easton turned around, only to see Kayson enter, and asked excitedly, "Kayson! Kayson! Have you seen the new CFO?" "Yeah." Kayson nodded. Easton chuckled. "What do you think? Isn't she pretty?"

"Yeah!" Kayson replied with a smile.

Easton sighed. "Too bad. I don't know what her name is or if she has a boyfriend..."

"Her name's Celeste Peach," Kayson answered.

Easton, Reva, Quincy, and the others glanced at him at once. "Why are you all looking at me like this?" Easton could not help asking, "How do you know her name, Kayson?"

"Oh, she's my friend."

The rest of them widened their eyes as Easton wailed, "No! My first love is gone again!" Natalie deadpanned, "Easton, this is like your 216th first love."

"F*ck off!" Easton retorted.

It was already after working hours, and Sadie was working overtime, so Kayson went downstairs to meet Celeste without informing her.

Celeste chortled and whispered, "We won't have a scandal tomorrow, will we?"

"I don't think so." Kayson smiled.

Celeste took Kayson to a restaurant that served her favorite dishes. She used to cook on her own when she stayed abroad, and Kayson was not a picky eater, so he could eat anything.

"When can the car be picked up?" Kayson asked. "In one or two days. I don't want a temporary license plate, so I'll collect it after they've handled all the details," Celeste answered.

"That makes sense." Kayson nodded.

Kayson wanted to take Celeste back after dinner, but she said that she wanted to take a stroll. and he did not refuse.

Celeste sighed "So much has changed here. I'll need to spend some time familiarizing myself"

"Really)" I've spent a long time in the village, so I'm not quite sure."

"Village

Celeste was puzzled

Kayson nodded "I've always stayed in the village I'm only here under my mentor's orders to repay a favor."

Celeste asked curiously, "Is it your hometown? Is your mentor in the village too? Is it fun there? Will I get a chance to visit your village in the future?" "It's kind of boring. You might not actually like it," Kayson replied. Celeste looked interested as she grinned. "Not necessarily!" While she spoke, there was a subtle change in Kayson's expression as he dragged her to the side.

Boom! A crack appeared out of the blue where Celeste had just been standing! "W-What's going on..." Celeste looked alarmed. Kayson looked grim. "It's fine. I was the target."

Celeste was still looking confused when Kayson suddenly picked her up, causing her to squeal and cling to his neck. Just as Kayson reached a deserted forest, a swoosh of sword aura billowed. A tree was cut and collapsed as a result. Kayson kept Celeste protected behind him and asked with a frown, "Are you Ghoul Sword?" Campian had told him that Ghoul Sword had entered Clouspring.

A middle-aged man wielding a long sword with a reddish blade appeared before Kayson. His gaze was dark as he exuded aggressive, murderous intent. "You should die for wrecking my energy crystal! I'm going to kill your entire family and all your friends!"

Chapter 413

Easton was beaming with joy. "Could I be bluffing? She's really gorgeous." Delight suddenly flooded Reva's features as she called out, "Kayson!" Easton turned around, only to see Kayson enter, and asked excitedly, "Kayson! Kayson! Have you seen the new CFO?" "Yeah." Kayson nodded. Easton chuckled. "What do you think? Isn't she pretty?"

"Yeah!" Kayson replied with a smile.

Easton sighed. "Too bad. I don't know what her name is or if she has a boyfriend..."

"Her name's Celeste Peach," Kayson answered.

Easton, Reva, Quincy, and the others glanced at him at once. "Why are you all looking at me like this?" Easton could not help asking, "How do you know her name, Kayson?"

"Oh, she's my friend."

The rest of them widened their eyes as Easton wailed, "No! My first love is gone again!" Natalie deadpanned, "Easton, this is like your 216th first love."

"F*ck off!" Easton retorted.

It was already after working hours, and Sadie was working overtime, so Kayson went downstairs to meet Celeste without informing her.

Celeste chortled and whispered, "We won't have a scandal tomorrow, will we?"

"I don't think so." Kayson smiled.

Celeste took Kayson to a restaurant that served her favorite dishes. She used to cook on her own when she stayed abroad, and Kayson was not a picky eater, so he could eat anything.

"When can the car be picked up?" Kayson asked. "In one or two days. I don't want a temporary license plate, so I'll collect it after they've handled all the details," Celeste answered.

"That makes sense." Kayson nodded.

Kayson wanted to take Celeste back after dinner, but she said that she wanted to take a stroll. and he did not refuse.

Celeste sighed "So much has changed here. I'll need to spend some time familiarizing myself"

"Really?" I've spent a long time in the village, so I'm not quite sure."

"Village

Celeste was puzzled

Kayson nodded "I've always stayed in the village I'm only here under my mentor's orders to repay a favor."

Celeste asked curiously, "Is it your hometown? Is your mentor in the village too? Is it fun there? Will I get a chance to visit your village in the future?" "It's kind of boring. You might not actually like it," Kayson replied. Celeste looked interested as she grinned. "Not necessarily!" While she spoke, there was a subtle change in Kayson's expression as he dragged her to the side.

Boom! A crack appeared out of the blue where Celeste had just been standing! "W-What's going on..." Celeste looked alarmed. Kayson looked grim. "It's fine. I was the target."

Celeste was still looking confused when Kayson suddenly picked her up, causing her to squeal and cling to his neck. Just as Kayson reached a deserted forest, a swoosh of sword aura billowed. A tree was cut and collapsed as a result. Kayson kept Celeste protected behind him and asked with a frown, "Are you Ghoul Sword?" Campian had told him that Ghoul Sword had entered Clouspring.

A middle-aged man wielding a long sword with a reddish blade appeared before Kayson. His gaze was dark as he exuded aggressive, murderous intent. "You should die for wrecking my energy crystal! I'm going to kill your entire family and all your friends!"

Chapter 415

Kayson kept using Ground-Scrinan and caught up to Ghoul Sword in the blink of an eye, punching the latter with accumulated lightning energy. As lightning flashed and thunderbolts echoed, streaks of lightning energy ran amok destructively within Ghoul Sword. Ghoul Sword flew tens of meters away and crashed against a tree. He fell to his knees, and it was thanks to his sword's support that he did not collapse on the ground. "How... did you know about Ground – Scrinan..."

"If you had come a day earlier, you might have actually been able to kill me with your sword," Kayson said indifferently. There was indignation in Ghoul Sword's gaze as he asked, "What's the name of your last move?"

"Novem Lightning Zero Impact, which is triggered by lightning energy. I'm at the sixth stage now, so the lightning energy will erupt six times continuously within your body." "No wonder... My tendons were destroyed within an instant and my inner energy vanished." Ghoul Sword nodded. "You're very powerful. I'm afraid no one can do much to you unless they're the Warlord." Kayson smiled and asked, "You're soaking your sword in crystallized energy? How do you do that?"

Now that things had reached this stage, Ghoul Sword did not resist or struggle as he recounted his goal.

He had met a woman there a few years ago, and the woman had a unique physique that could make her a filter, so he had fake-dated her. When the time was right, he had killed the woman and gotten a pair of Blood Seekers, placing them under the pond to cultivate crystallized energy.

He had received his sword in his youth, and the sword leaned toward the evil side, as it would become stronger when it was fed with blood. If it was given crystallized energy, it might level up and become a weapon used by the Warlord. "It's this one?" Kayson looked at the long sword with the scarlet edge, the one that looked as if it was stained with blood.

Ghoul Sword nodded. "Yes, I named it Hemodrinken."

Kayson asked two more questions. "How did you know my location?"

"I am acquainted with the richest man in Clouspring, Joseph Wadley, and I asked him for help."

Kayson scrunched up his brows. It was Joseph again! He then asked, "Do you know Ezekiel Turner?"

Ghoul Sword scoffed, "How could I not know Ezekiel 'Trestrike' Turnier? I fought him once when I had just turned into a grandinaster."

"What's his level like?"

Ghoul Sword answered nonchalantly, "It's been years since I fought him. I hear that he's trying to ascend to the Warlord level. "He hasn't gotten there yet, but I think it wouldn't be a challenge for him to level up. "My swordsmanship can't compare to Ezekiel's. I'd lose after three exchanges if I were to fight him."

Kayson nodded. "Do you have any last words?" "Is there no way for me to live?" Ghoul Sword asked after a moment of silence. "If I let you go, Admiralporium will come after me."

"No last words then. But you seem to have a conflict with Joseph? Kind reminder: Bow down and ask for his mercy as soon as you can." "Oh?"

Kayson was about to interrogate Ghoul Sword, but the latter's eyes widened suddenly and he fell forward, taking his last breath. "Did he kill himself?"

Ghoul Sword was pretty staunch.

Celeste stood farther away behind Kayson. She was pale and she did not dare go closer. Kayson turned back to ask, "You must be frightened, right? Stay farther away. I'll make a call to get someone to take care of this."

Celeste nodded while Kayson called Shien. The latter answered the call swiftly, asking, "Mr. Yarde, what can I help you with?"

Chapter 416

Kayson explained the situation briefly, only for Shien to exclaim, "Ghoul Sword is dead?!"

Shien's heart thumped wildly. Ghoul Sword was a pre-celestial expert. Although Shien himself was a captain, it was still impossible for him to take down Ghoul Sword. A criminal like that could only be defeated by captains from the first or second division. Anyone other than them did not seem to have much hope.

"Mr. Yarde, will you... let me handle Ghoul Sword's corpse?" This was an immense merit. Even though Shien had not killed Ghoul Sword directly, the fifth division would still be able to earn some credit. Kayson hummed. If Campian were here, he would ask for the former. It was a pity. Shien took a deep breath and said seriously, "Mr. Yarde, in that case, the fifth division will take credit because you're not from Admiralporium. "But I'll hand all the rewards over to you." Kayson was familiar with the process, as Campian had done the same thing. "As you wish." He then informed Shien of his location and said when he recalled something, "Right, I'm not interested in Ghoul Sword's sword. "See if you can find a way to exchange a sword of a similar level for me."

Ghoul Sword's weapon was basically an evil sword, as it was tainted with the blood of countless innocent lives. Kayson honestly did not have the least bit of interest in a weapon like this. Despite that, he did not want the sword to retain such an evil attribute, so he dispelled the blood energy on the blade with lightning energy after contemplating it. "You must have been terrified, Come on, I'll take you back."

Celeste had already recovered, so she nodded. However, she was much quieter on the way back.

Kayson gave it some thought and grabbed some calming herbs for her from a nearby drugstore. After he parted ways with Celeste, Kayson's gaze grew steely. Joseph Wadley... Did the man really think he was a pushover because he had not objected?

He pulled out his phone to call Xander.

"Mr. Yarde!" Xander's voice was hushed and cautious.

Kayson asked without much emotion, "Where's Joseph?"

"In hot spring in Clouriv lodge. Do you want to see him, Mr Yarde! I'm with him right NOW," Xander replied

Fyld.wimmirarily, "I'll be there."

اد ۱۲ ۱۱۱ ارا مر لال اور طرررل ار ه را ای در را ای

Uitgeloop envy

, the plasralla. Xullorto birdenoner, alle

siding: llierill

Meanwhile, at Clouriv Lodge...

Xander was just about to head back after hanging up when someone appeared in front of him out of the blue. His phone was snatched and crushed directly with a crack "Mr. Snook..."

There was a faint change in Xander's expression while the middle-aged man called Mr. Snook squinted. "That must be troubling for you, Mr. Campbell." "What do you mean..." Xander's eyes bulged.

Mr. Snook replied with a straight face, "We've known about your betrayal of Mr. Wadley for a long time." Mr. Snook beat Xander up right away, causing the latter serious injuries, before he threw him to Joseph

Joseph had already changed into a bathrobe and was sipping on wine, resting on a recliner. "Xander Campbell, thank God I kept my guard up around you, or I wouldn't have known what happened to me."

Mr. Snook said, "Kayson's already on the way. Are we ready to attack?" Joseph nodded. "It wouldn't make sense not to catch the prey heading straight into our trap."

Chapter 417

Since Joseph knew that Kayson had killed Steelification Doyen, he was incredibly anxious and worried about Kayson's revenge. Despite that, he dared not simply approach Kayson, so he had Xander test him to see how skilled he actually was. It came as a surprise that Mr. Deer had been killed so easily too. It was really fortunate that Ghoul Sword came at that moment. Joseph played his cards right when he heard that Ghoul Sword was going for Kayson, using him to test Kayson again. "Ghoul Sword's dead too. Kayson isn't easy to tackle. Mr. Snook, do you really have a way to do it?"

Mr. Snook smirked. "He'll definitely die as long as he comes!"

Joseph trusted Mr. Snook, so he nodded after being reassured.

Meanwhile, Kayson had already arrived at the lodge. A young man in a suit walked up to him and asked, "Are you Mr. Kayson Yarde?"

"Mm." Kayson nodded. The young man greeted him politely. "I'm Mr. Campbell's assistant. He asked me to bring you over."

"Sure." Kayson followed him to a spacious living room, but the latter left after inviting him in. A while later, Joseph's voice rang. "Mr. Yarde, we meet again." He walked out with Mr. Snook, sounding impassive. Kayson commented coldly, "I actually wanted to keep you alive for a few more days." Joseph's gaze went icy. The young man was really brazen and kept speaking as though he could kill him at any time.

Kayson asked when he did not see Xander, "Looks like Xander Campbell got exposed?"

"I put a tapping device on Xander's phone. Each word of his is reported to me," Joseph said. Kayson nodded. It seemed that Xander had still been careless. Joseph laughed suddenly "Kayson, my offer still stands. You still have the chance to work for 11x I can provide you with an immense fortune."

"How much will you be giving me?" Kayson asked after thinking about it. Joseph offered, "$300,000,000 a year. What do you think?"

Kayson was kind of speechless "I already made more than $3,000,000,000 in cash in less than 10 months, and you're offering me $300,000,000 a year"

12.11113. Il rullips I wille Nord Was inakin munt'y this rolsy. Why did he love no idea!

Mr. Snook scoffed, "Mr. Wadley, there's no need to waste time on him. It's impossible that he'll ever work for you." Joseph sighed. "There's no other solution then. Mr. Snook, kill him."

Mr. Snook nodded and took a step forward. He did not go close to Kayson. Instead, he extended his wrist toward him. Swoosh! Something black suddenly shot out of his sleeve. Kayson had been watching with his mind expansion, so he avoided it immediately. It seemed that Mr. Snook had been expecting it, as he smirked when the tiled floor exploded with a bang and black worms squirmed out of it. One of the worms landed on Kayson's leg and slipped under his skin swiftly. Kayson was taken aback, while Mr. Snook chortled. "Didn't expect this, huh, Kayson?" "Vodu Worm!"

Kayson asked urgently, "You're from the Vodu Tribe in Southdeure?" Mr. Snook chuckled. "Clouriv Lodge is Mr. Wadley's property. The tiles are made of special materials, so pre-celestial mind expansion won't detect a thing. "Countless pre-celestial practitioners have been killed here by my Vodu Worms."

Joseph could not help smiling as well. "I owe this to Mr. Snook's years of help with eliminating business rivals. Kayson, you shouldn't have offended me."

Chapter 418

Kayson frowned and agreed. "Vodu Worms are quite tricky

"I've already realized that there's a problem when my mind expansion not detecting anything, but I thought that it might be some kind of trap."

If it were a trap, he had Titanium Technique, and most traps would not be able to hurt him. Anything like that was as good as nothing to him. It was a surprise that the man was from the Vodu Tribe. Joseph must have really harmed a lot of people. The Vodu Worms were unnoticeable when killing, so it was an extremely savage tactic.

Mr. Snook announced proudly, "You might as well surrender now that my Vodu Worm's got you.

"I wouldn't have been so careful with you if you hadn't been able to kill Steelification Doyen."

Kayson chuckled, "You mean that I should thank you for regarding me so highly?" His patience running thin, Joseph urged him, "Mr. Snook, hurry up and end his life!" Mr. Snook nodded, ready to control the Vodu Worm in Kayson's body and make it devour the latter's internal organs. Then, Kayson asked, "Mr.

Snook, you aren't at the pre-celestial level, right?" "Ah, I'm not as accomplished. I'm at the peak of the master level," Mr. Snook answered with a raise of his brow

Kayson smiled, "You don't know anything about the pre-celestial level or mind expansion." He held a silver needle, so he infused it with lightning energy and stabbed it into the center of his chest

While Mr. Snook was surprised and wondered why Kayson would poke himself, he saw the latter cutting his skin open with the silver needle, penetrating a black Vodou Worm that was as thick as a toothpick Mr. Snook's eyes widened in shock

Kayson said, "You guys must've never killed an energy practitioner in the late stage of the pre celestial level. Mind expansion reads everything. "Including one's own body, of course. It's also a coincidence that I have some medical prowess."

Mr. Snook was aghast. Was the pre-celestial level like this? He was not at that level, so he did not know it very well, but there was one thing he knew, and that was that his plan had failed

Kayson tossed the needle and squashed the Vodou Worm that fell on the floor with one step.

Mr. Snook turned pale. He wanted to sleep, but Kayson sent a needle flying with a scoff. It went straight into the back of Mr. Snook's neck, and the man collapsed, his limbs going numb and weak

Plop! Joseph fell to the floor, the color draining off his face.

Kayson went over to him and asked, "Where's Xander?"

The second richest man in Clouspring must not die Kayson needed him to replace Joseph and maintain the business state in Clouspring

Joseph was ashen-faced as he led Xander, who was on the brink of death, over to Kayson.

Kayson needed the man to save him, delivering a bit of energy to him, and slowly opened his eyes

"M-Mr Yarde. "

"Lend me your assistant for a minute," Kayson said. "G-Go ahead and order him around"

Kayson then called the young assistant who had welcomed him earlier on Xander's phone

When the assistant saw the richest man in Clouspring on his knees, he was shocked. Why was Mr Wadley kneeling down? The assistant paled in shock when he saw Xander covered in blood

Kayson sent him to collect some herbs with a prescription After he left, Kayson sat on the side and looked at Joseph, who was pale. "Mr Wadley, who else is behind you other than the Osborns?" "What do you mean? The Osborns are the ones supporting me There's no one else," Joseph replied

Kayson scoffed. "That's not very honest of you, Mr Wadley You're logged as a person of interest over at Admiralporium." Joseph's gaze was filled with panic when he heard that

Chapter 419

After a while, he seemed to figure it out and spoke up forlornly. "I actually don't know who he is either, but someone incredibly skilled has been in touch with us."

“How skilled?” Kayson asked.

“According to Mr. Snook, it seems to be someone greater than a grandmaster. He said he’s some Smasher.”

Kayson frowned, “Where’s that person? How do you guys usually contact each other?”

Joseph came clean. “I’m not sure where that person is in particular, but all the contact we’ve ever had has been in Greenspring.”

Greenspring? Jason Queen’s Triumph Land and Christine Locke’s Roselle Lodge were both in Greenspring. Kayson thought that he could have them help check this out, so he asked, “Where in Greenspring in particular?” “Mount Clouverdant,” Joseph answered before he asked nervously, “Mr. Yarde, can you spare my life? I promise I’ll turn a new leaf.” Kayson smiled. “If you’re willing to transfer all your assets and wealth. It’s not like I can’t do that.”

Joseph widened his eyes as he asked shakily, “Then what’s the point of me being alive?” “Yeah, that’s why I’ve thought it all out for you, Mr. Wadley. It’s better that you die. You wouldn’t have to suffer through any hardships after you turn poor then.”

Kayson did not want to hear more and struck him unconscious with a palm strike. He then used the Soul-Guiding Curse on Joseph and transferred all his business shares and the money in his cards to Xander. Kayson did not kill Joseph after all, as he needed the latter to announce that he was relinquishing his position with a press release the next day.

Xander’s assistant came back with the herbs speedily. Once Kayson concocted them, Xander recovered 30-40% after the treatment. He told Kayson reverently, “Mr. Yarde, I think you should take the cash. I won’t have a use for it.”

Joseph’s cash had just been transferred to his account.

Kayson gave it some thought and replied, “Just keep it. You only have one task, and that’s to ensure the stability of Clouspring’s economy.

“It’ll probably require a significant amount of fortune. If I really need some money, I’ll just ask you.” “As you wish!” Xander responded dutifully.

Kayson left after saying this, but Xander dared not lift his head up for a long time. His assistant could not help reminding him, “Mr. Campbell, Mr. Yarde left.”

“Shush!” Xander admonished him. He had been completely won over by Kayson tonight. The latter’s mystical techniques and unimaginable medical prowess were mind-boggling

“I need to seize this chance. It’s better to follow Mr. Yarde than the Friths!” This was what Xander genuinely thought. How could his inexperienced, naïve assistant understand his ambition?

Kayson went back to the Wolfendens. It was most likely that no authority or person would be able to threaten Wolfenden Corp. and the Whitmans in Clouspring after tonight.

“Consider this small goal accomplished...”

The Whitmans were the best in terms of intelligence and information, Xander in terms of wealth, and the Waltons in terms of martial practice. With these people supporting the Wolfendens, it would be extremely difficult even if the people of Skyspring wanted to interfere.

Kayson was in a joyous mood. Sadie had yet to fall asleep when he returned to the Wolfendens and she asked sarcastically when she saw him enter, "Why are you back so late?"

Kayson paused in surprise before he answered, "It's only a little past ten. It's not exactly late

Sadie was frustrated upon looking at Kayson and at once started regretting that she had agreed to Celeste's employment.

Chapter 420

The next day. Kayson was going through some materials in the office when Easton rushed in and exclaimed, "Holy sh*t! Hot news!"

Reva deadpanned, "Easton, can you not be so dramatic all the time?"

Natalie echoed the sentiment. "Yeah, exactly. You always say "holy sh*t" and "hot news", and then the actual news isn't even worth much."

Easton huffed, "Well, it's really hot news this time! According to reliable sources, Jospring Group is getting renamed!"

"Jospring Group?" The others looked puzzled, displeasing Easton, who tapped on the table. "The company of the richest man in Clouspring, Joseph Wadley. Hello!"

That shocked them, as Reva asked, "How's that possible? Rich Man Wadley has more than 50 % of the company's shares, doesn't he? "How could it be renamed if he doesn't approve?" Kayson chuckled. "It's true. I think it's going to be renamed Campbell."

Easton gasped. "Damn, Kayson News gets to you faster than it reaches me. My information is unofficial and it's already quick enough, but you're even faster!"

The 'Tetrad was all about fun and banter, but Clouspring was in for a huge shock. Various industries were surprised by the press release early in the morning.

The chairman of Jospring Group, Joseph Wadley, announced that he was quitting the company and Xander would be replacing him as the new chairman. People also noted that all of Joseph's shares and rights would be transferred to Xander, Xander Campbell had officially replaced Joseph Wadley as the richest man in Clouspring.

Meanwhile, at the Whitmans...

Michael and Hendrick felt a surge of emotions, Hendrick chuckled wryly. "Too fast... Kayson's so fast that we can't even keep up." "I don't even know when he took down Xander..." Michael was incredibly shocked,

"He just called me, but he took out Joseph in the blink of an eye. Joseph even announced his withdrawal in public.

“How did Kayson do it?”

Hendrick shook his head. “No idea, but that’s not important. As long as we seize what we have with hayson, it will depend on him how far and how high the Whitmans can go.”

Michael nodded.

In the meantime, at Wolfenden Corp...

Sadie was surprised. “Dad, has Joseph Wadley lost his mind?” Liam was equally baffled as he replied, “I don’t know. Xander Campbell just rose to power without a hint. It’s unbelievable...” “Do we want to pay the new richest man in town a visit then?” Sadie asked.

Liam mulled it over. “For sure, or Wolfenden Corp. won’t have it easy in Clouspring so long as the richest man makes the slightest comment.”

At The Tetrad... Kayson received a call from Queenie, who was asking for him. He agreed to it, and they made plans to go out in the afternoon. Kayson met up with Queenie at 1:30 p.m. “What’s up? No need to be courteous with me. Just tell me what it is.” Queenie was a little embarrassed as she said, “I have a school reunion at night. Can you... go with me?” “Sure.” Kayson agreed after his initial surprise. Queenie asked, “Just say that you’re my boyfriend then.” “Alright.” Queenie then offered, “I—I’ll take you shopping.” “Do I have to dress up?” Kayson asked in confusion. “Uh... a little, yeah.”

Kayson nodded and followed her to the mall, where he purchased a suit worth over $150. It was soon 5:30 p.m, so it was almost time to head to the hotel.