

MY FGB 481

Chapter 481

"A dead man doesn't need to know about that!" The old man smiled eerily. Just when Kayson was about to take him down, he took a step back, and then a black shadow stood between the two.

He was a pre-celestial fighter, but he seemed to have been controlled by the old man. "Now, die!"

The old man barked out his order, and the pre-celestial fighter under his control turned into a blur, leaving only a pair of footprints in place.

Kayson let out a cold smile and raised his fists up.

The pre-celestial fighter flew toward the back and smashed through a big tree.

The old man was taken aback as he said incredulously, "Y-You're a pre-celestial fighter too?" "Well, you're too slow!"

Kayson took a few steps to get close to the old man and grabbed his neck. The old man cursed himself inwardly for underestimating Kayson. After all, he had never come across a pre-celestial fighter at such a young age. If he had known about it earlier, he wouldn't have acted so rashly. Kayson asked faintly, "Who sent you?" "Beckham Yoder, please... Please don't kill me..." Kayson released him. The old man fell to the ground and gasped for air. "Who are you?"

The old man hastily replied, "I'm Ogden. People usually address me as 'The Wicked One'." Kayson thought for a while and delivered a palm strike at him, causing him to spurt out a mouthful of blood. After that, he pulled out a charm to catch some of Ogden's blood. "That is... the Execution Charm!?" Ogden's face turned pale with fear. "It seems like you know what it is. You must listen to my orders and work for me from now onward, understand?" A bitter expression appeared on Ogden's face as he said, "Yes, my master!" The Execution Charm was a charm that could kill someone from a distance. However, it needed the target's blood for it to take effect. This was one of the charms that Kayson had obtained from Poison Pop. However, since it was a low-level charm, it was good enough to kill a grandmaster, but it was useless against a pre-celestial immortal who had reached the mind expansion stage. "I want you to keep an eye on the Queens for the time being. If you find anyone suspicious, report back to me."

Ogden hastily said, "Yes, sir!" He was at Kayson's mercy right now, so he did not dare to disobey him. After getting rid of Ogden, Kayson returned to the mansion. Yvette had returned to normal. "Kayson, Yvette said she was fine ten minutes ago," said Jason, his voice thick with exhilaration. "Yeah, I've gotten rid of that person." Kayson smiled. Then, he asked, "Uncle Jason, do you know a guy named Beckham Yoder?"

Jason's pupils constricted, and he asked sternly, "Why would you ask about him?" Kayson did not plan to hide it from him and said, "He sent someone to attack Aunt Simmers. I think he might be your enemy." "It's him!?" Jason flew into a rage and gnashed his teeth. "How dare you, Beckham! You truly are one despicable being!" Talia was stunned. "Uncle Jason, isn't he the real estate mogul in Skyriv?" Jason's face was livid with rage as he replied, "Yes, it's him. I did have some conflicts with him. There is an important piece of land in Skyspring, but I got it in the end." Kayson asked, "Does he have a big background?" Jason took a deep breath and replied, "Yes, and the financial strength of the people behind him is strong!"

Chapter 482

Regardless of the reason Beckham was targeting Jason, Kayson could see that he was a despicable person since he attacked Yvette. Kayson said, "If there is anything I can help with, please let me know. "Sure! I'll let you know when I need your help!" Jason whipped up a big grin and then brought Yvette upstairs to rest. Talia's beautiful eyes were glowing as she studied Kayson with curiosity. Kayson asked, "Why are you looking at me like that?"

Talia's face turned red with embarrassment. She averted her gaze and said in a flustered manner, "I'm not looking at you!"

Kayson shook his head. "Women... I'll never know what is going on in their heads." "By the way, are you really good at medicine?"

"What's wrong? Is anyone from your family sick? I won't say I'm very good at it, but I can try to help you take a look at it and see if I can do anything about it."

"It's not my family. It's Violet's grandmother. If my memories serve me right, it has been two or three years. Maybe you can help her to take a look at her grandmother when you have time."

Kayson nodded and said, "Sure. You can bring me there whenever she's available."

Talia replied, "Okay. Let me tell her about this good news." After that, she returned to her room upstairs to sleep. Kayson returned to his room as well and started to enhance the darksoul that he had just formed.

Midnight was the time when the dark energy was at its strongest. It was also the best time to power up his darksoul.

Meanwhile, inside a mansion...

An old man sat up with someone's help and growled begrudgingly, "What happened? Do you guys really have to wake me up in the middle of the night?"

This old man was none other than Mr. Denn.

A middle-aged man greeted him in the courtyard respectfully and said, "I'm sorry for disturbing you in the middle of the night, Mr. Denn. I'll accept it if you want to punish me' Mr. Denn waved his hand and said, "You've already woken me up. There's no need for me to punish you anymore. Tell me what happened."

An angry expression crawled upon the middle aged man as he said, "Mr. Denni, we've got to Per rid of Kayson d5 S0011 JS possible

Mr. Drun frowned. "Why?"

The middle-aged man said, "He injured Craig!" Mr. Denn's eyes widened as a glint of coldness crossed his eyes when he heard what the middle -aged man said.

“How dare he hurt Craig!? How did you protect your own son, Hansel?” This middle-aged man was Hansel, and Craig was his son. Apparently, Craig had a deep relationship with Mr. Denn.

“This is all my fault. Please punish me as you like!”

Mr. Denn’s face was livid with rage, but his anger soon subsided. “Forget about it. How is Craig doing now?”

“He’s fine right now, but Kayson has spoiled our plans several times,” Hansel said in a serious voice. “He has gotten Jairo from Dragons Mob on his side, and Holden also replaced the director of Greenspring Morningside Hospital because of him.

“He helped Jason solve the problem he faced at the construction site, and Poison Pop and Shiloh were killed by him... If we don’t get rid of him as soon as possible, we won’t be able to do anything.” Mr. Denn said flatly, “It seems like he has eliminated quite a lot of my people without me knowing it.

“Well, you’re right. We need to get rid of him as soon as possible.”

Mr. Denn thought for a while and said, “Alfredo, go get me Master Rondo.” The hunched old man behind him immediately left, and when he returned, there was a 50-year -old middle-aged man with him.

The man was Master Rondo. Master Rondo said, “Greetings, Mr. Denn.” Mr. Denn offered him a smile and said, “Master Rondo, I remember that you can destroy someone’s soul from a distance and kill them without actually touching them, right?” Master Rondo replied proudly, “Although no one in my school has ever formed the lightsoul and darksoul before, practicing the secret art can strengthen our mind.”

Chapter 483

“In today’s world, whether it’s a body or energy practitioner, they don’t have any protective shield around their minds, and I can kill them with ease.” Mr. Denn nodded. “I’ll leave it in your hands then, Master Rondo.” Master Rondo offered him a smile and said, “That’ll be my pleasure.”

At the Queen mansion... Kayson was absorbing the dark energy to power up his darksoul. He couldn’t just leave his darksoul aside after forming one. He needed to keep powering it up to stabilize it. If he could get his hands on a technique that could power up his soul, his soul could become indestructible.

Kayson’s darksoul was getting stronger and more stabilized than it was yesterday. “How good would it be if I could get my hands on a method to cultivate my mind? This way, even if I couldn’t absorb the dark energy, I’d be able to power up my darksoul as well.” Just when the thought surfaced in his head, he frowned, and his expression turned stern. “Someone is trying to destroy my soul? Who is it?”

Kayson was startled. He could sense a powerful surge of mental energy coming toward him like a sharp spear. In the distance, a spear conjured from the mental power was tearing through the sky and coming straight at him. Normal people couldn’t see it with their eyes, but Kayson could see it very clearly with his darksoul. “How vicious! If I hadn’t formed my darksoul, I’m afraid I’d really be taken by surprise and become stupid even if I didn’t die! “Since you have the guts to come at me, you should pay with your life!”

Kayson unleashed his power, and his darksoul materialized behind him. He grabbed the mental spear with his bare hands, and a cold current of energy erupted from his hand, freezing and shattering the mental spear. He did not destroy all of the mental power in the spear. Instead, he allowed a small portion of it to return to its owner while he chased after it with his darksoul.

In the courtyard... Mr. Denn and the rest surrounded Master Rondo, who was sitting inside a magic circle. Suddenly, they all saw blood flow out of the pores on his face, and they were shocked.

“PIT!”

Master Rondo cracked his eyes open. He spurted out a mouthful of blood as his face turned pale with shock and fear.

“This is the dark

”

Before he could finish his sentence, something inside of his head exploded, and his eyes rolled toward the back. His body turned stiff as he fell backward and died. Mr. Denn and the rest still couldn't come around to their senses after his death. “Master Rondo!?”

When they returned to their senses, Alfredo hurriedly went forward and put his finger over Master Rondo's nose. His face was filled with surprise as he said, “Sir, Master Rondo... He's dead!”

Mr. Denn's face sank. “Master Rondo has failed? But how is that possible...” On the other side, Hansel felt a chill down his spine as he looked at Master Rondo's corpse. He still found it hard to believe that Kayson was able to kill someone as powerful as Master Rondo.

At the Queen mansion...

Kayson called his darksoul back and opened his eyes. His face was bloodless. This was the first time he fought someone with his darksoul, and he hadn't gotten used to it yet. Even though he managed to kill his opponent in the end, he had used up all his energy and had no other choice but to return first. “That person who wanted to destroy my soul seemed to be a pre-celestial immortal in the mind expansion stage. But his mental power was truly powerful,” Kayson mumbled excitedly “Could it be that he owns a method to power up my soul?”

Then, he shook his head and continued in disappointment. “It's such a shame that my darksoul isn't strong enough, and I can't pinpoint his location.”

However, Kayson did not think it was a big deal. After all, he knew the general direction, and all he needed to do was to go there and look around for it. Kayson left the mansion through the window and arrived at Juniper's house. He took a Juvena Frux to heal his darksoul.

The next morning, Talia knocked on his door. “Kayson, wake up! It's time for breakfast! After that, we'll go to see Violet's grandmother!”

Chapter 484

After eating breakfast, Talia took Kayson to Violet's home. Violet did not put on heavy makeup like she did last night in the bar. Instead, she put on light makeup, but she was still extremely attractive. “You're here. Should we go now?" Talia said, "Of course, we'll drive there." Violet smiled softly and asked, "Can you help me to carry some things to the car? Kayson went forward and helped them as well. Soon, the three of them set off for a village near Greenspring.

Violet's grandmother lived in a village and refused to come and live with them in the town.

Their family did quite well in the tea business. They had amassed quite a lot of wealth, and they had a few properties in the town as well.

It was just that her grandmother had gotten used to living in the village. She refused to go live in the city, and Violet's parents couldn't do anything about it.

An accident occurred two years ago, and her health condition had been deteriorating since then. Her family had tried many methods, such as acupuncture, herbs, and medicine to heal her, but none of them worked.

Not only that, but she would experience headaches, backache, and leg pain from time to time. Not long ago, her condition suddenly worsened to the point she had lost most of her appetite. Her family was nervous, but even the doctors in the hospital couldn't do anything about her condition. She felt they were wasting their money, so she got out of the hospital and came home.

Kayson remembered the old people in his village after listening to Violet's story. Those old people in the village were all the same. They had been leading a frugal lifestyle their whole lives, and they couldn't change it even though their living condition had improved. Roughly three hours later, they arrived at a village. The village was well-developed. All of the houses were big, and the road was spacious. They drove all the way and stopped in front of a villa. Violet said, "Welcome to my house." Smiling, Kayson commented, "There are mountains, and the water is clean. It's really a great place to live."

Talia seemed to be familiar with Violet's house. While she rushed into the living room, she shouted, "Grandma, I've come to visit!"

An old woman that could only stand steadily with a cane came out. She seemed happy when she saw Talia as she welcomed her with a warm smile. "Talia, you've come to visit me again. I'm so happy about it."

"Talia hastily went up to support her. She behaved like a tough woman in front of Kayson, but she was like a sweet and gentle little girl in front of the old woman. "Yeah. I love spending time with you the most, Grandma. I would miss you very much if I didn't see you for a day!" "You're so sweet, Talia. Thank you very much for coming to keep me company." At the same time, Violet and Kayson came in, and the former greeted her, "Grandma." The old woman's eyes glowed up when she saw Kayson and said, "Oh my goodness, is he your boyfriend?" Violet's face turned red with embarrassment as she replied, "No, Grandma. He's a doctor. Talia said he's very good at medicine." Kayson approached the old woman and said, "Nice to meet you, Grandma. I'm Kayson Yarde. You can call me Kace." "You have a great physique, kid. Not bad, not bad. Have a seat, then." Violet's grandmother was called Elise Snyder, so Kayson called her Madam Snyder. Elise couldn't walk that much, so she ordered Violet to get some snacks for them. "Your cousin is coming back today. I heard that he found a doctor for me as well. Honestly, you guys don't have to do this at all. I've learned to live with my illness. It's fine. I've lived long enough anyway. You guys shouldn't waste your money like this."

Talia frowned and said, "Grandma, you shouldn't say something like that. It isn't good." Violet wasn't happy either, and she said, "That's right, Grandma. You're going to live till 100 years old! I don't want to hear you talk nonsense like that anymore, okay?" Elise smiled at them gently, and Kayson chimed in. "Madam Snyder, I can heal your injuries."

Chapter 485

Elise thought Kayson was just comforting her. She said, "Kace, thank you very much. I'm already old. You shouldn't waste your time on me. It's useless."

Kayson was about to say something when a loud voice erupted from outside

"Is my cousin back?"

Violet's cousin came into the living room with a pretty woman beside him. Violet frowned and said, "Cousin."

Violet's cousin was Jaden Quirk. He was a businessman in the town, but they were not on good terms with each other.

"You've come, Jaden," Elise said, her voice gentle.

"Grandma, I know how to cure your illness. I came across a famous doctor some time ago, and I heard he's very good at medicine."

Elise smiled and said, "Alright, alright. Hurry up and take your seat. I'm very happy that all of you came back to visit me today." Jaden then sat down with the woman as he kept his gaze glued to Talia. "I didn't expect you to be here as well, Ms. Hall. It has only been a while, and it seems to me that you've gotten even prettier." Talia rolled her eyes and said, "It's none of your business." Jaden chuckled and said, "Violet, is this your boyfriend?" He studied Kayson from head to toe, and judging from his attire, he was confident that Kayson was a poor man. "Did he get his clothes from the market? And they look as if he has been wearing them for a long time.

Then, he said sarcastically, "My third uncle owns a big company. You've got to find someone that can match your status, Violet. If not, you'll only bring disgrace to your father as well as our family!"

"I don't need to look at those when I'm looking for a boyfriend. Besides, Kayson is more outstanding than most people." Violet fought back begrudgingly. Jaden chuckled and asked, "Really? May I ask where you work, sir? Since you can catch my cousin's eyes, I'm sure you must be a graduate of a prestigious university or a senior manager of a foreign company, right?" Kayson replied faintly, "I'm just a project team leader of a construction company." Jaden nearly let out a laugh as he continued. "A project team leader? How much do you earn per inonth? $3,000?"

Kayson thought for a moment and said, "My company pays me $15,000 per month." "Haliahaha!" Jaden couldn't hold himself back anymore and let out a boisterous laugh.

Cousin, where did you find this stupid fella? How is it possible for a company to pay $15,000 to a project team leader per month?" Violet felt embarrassed. Her family owned a company, so it went without saying that she knew how ridiculous it was.

If he was paid $15,000 per month, it meant his yearly salary was $180,000. This was the salary for a senior manager. There was no way a company would pay so much to a mere project team leader. Talia snarled, "It has nothing to do with you. Kayson is here to cure Grandma's illness. If you don't have anything else to do, then get the hell out of here or keep your mouth shut." "Cure Grandma's illness?" Jaden was stunned. Then, his eyes widened in shock as he said, "Violet, don't tell me that you want him to cure our grandma?"

Violet replied in annoyance, "Do you have a problem with that? Since you can find a doctor for Grandma, so can I! I want Grandma to get well soon as well!" Jaden's face sank. "Look at him yourself. Does he look like a doctor? Does he have a certificate? Did he graduate from a university?"

"Violet, I can't believe that you would find a fake doctor like him to help Grandma. Do you want to get Grandma killed? She adores you so much, so how can you do this to her!?" Talia couldn't hold herself back anymore and snarled, "You'd better shut up if you know nothing. Kayson is the best doctor around here. No doctor could do anything when my aunt was sick, yet Kayson cured her!" Upon hearing what she said, Jaden snorted. "Please don't make me laugh. You're talking as if an elementary school student can solve an advanced math problem. This is just pure nonsense."

Chapter 486

Talia huffed, "It's the truth! You're the ignorant one!" "The doctor I found is a famous doctor in Northspring. The bigshots from Springside look for him to treat them," Jaden snapped back. Violet paused and asked, "You don't mean Mr. Tanner Smith, do you?" Jaden answered proudly, "That's right. It's Mr. Tanner Smith from Northspring. He's a known doctor who has healed plenty of big names." Kayson was stunned. Tanner Smith... This was a familiar name. The man had a conflict with him and Zachary back in Roselle Lodge. Jaden looked at Kayson with hostility. "Kid, it's lucky I brought Mr. Smith with me. Who knows what would have happened if you had been allowed to treat my grandmother!" Violet frowned. She was rather powerless now. She had heard of Tanner's reputation after all. Despite that, Talia was not a pushover, so she retorted, "Enough of this crap. As long as grandma gets better, it'll be fine, no?"

Elise spoke up. "Mr. Tanner Smith? He's a promising person. Well done for getting him." "Grandma, you know Mr. Smith too?" Violet asked. "Of course. He visited our town when he was younger, and the head of the town welcomed him personally. It was a happening occasion.

"The town head's wife was very ill back then, and the bigger hospital couldn't treat her. It's thanks to Mr. Smith that she survived."

Talia muttered, "Kayson's actually a good doctor too." Jaden was incredibly disgruntled upon seeing that Talia trusted Kayson so much. "I think you've been deceived by him. All accomplished doctors are at least 40 or 50 years old." Kayson commented blankly, "Going to Tanner is useless. He won't be able to heal Madam Snyder."

Jaden looked taken aback, but the girl beside him scoffed, "Who do you think you are to say that about Mr. Smith?"

The girl was Jaden's girlfriend, Luna Joy. She looked spoiled and arrogant, as though she came from a wealthy family. However, there was obviously nothing serious between the two of them, as they had no plan of going steady with each other.

Luna snorted, "You should be thankful that we're the only ones who heard this. You'd be beaten up and sent to the hospital if you were in Northspring." "Really?" Kayson smiled.

"Dulu, Mr. Smith is more famous than a nobody like you could imagine," Luna retorted.

Luna looked proud of well "Luna's grandfather is an old friend of Mr. Smith. It's because of Total Mr. Smith was willing to conduct a hand, this time."

The noise of a car coming to a stop rang outside, prompting Jaden and Luna to get up. "It must be Mr. Smith. Grandma, let's go and welcome him." Elise nodded, but Violet was upset. "Grandma's legs aren't doing well, and she's supposed to welcome him at the door? Did you get a doctor here or a king?" "These are the basic manners Mr. Smith expects," Luna replied coldly. Kayson narrowed his eyes. "Madam Snyder, don't worry about it. Just remain seated. I'd like to see how much respect Tanner's expecting to get." Talia and Violet were surprised. They were just being snappy but they dared not actually be rude to Tanner. "Idiot! Would you be able to take responsibility if Mr. Smith got angry because of this and refused to treat grandma?" Jaden scolded him angrily.

Kayson got mad as well and snapped, "Tanner Smith, get your *ss in here!" Both Jaden and Luna were appalled. They glared at Kayson and rushed out to explain, but Tanner, who had heard Kayson's voice, found it familiar and looked in the hall curiously. "Who's brazen enough to call me by my name?"

Chapter 487

Tanner glowered as he watched Jaden and Luna hurry out. Jaden was quick to soothe him. "Mr. Smith, don't be angry. That Yarde kid isn't a family member!" That Yarde kid? Tanner paused, and his expression changed swiftly a second later as he thought of something. "I have something else to do. I'll come some other day..." Tanner turned around frantically and tried to drive away.

"Come in."

However, Kayson's voice came from the inside of the house. Tanner was certain that it was that kid who had been to Roselle Lodge with Zachary previously. Enraged, he glared at Jaden and Luna. "You tricked me! This isn't over!" !

He hurried inside after saying that, leaving the bewildered couple there.

Tanner spotted Kayson the moment he went inside and winced. He had not forgotten that Kayson had killed Darius. In addition to what he had heard in Northspring, he was incredibly afraid of Kayson. "M-Mr. Yarde, why are you here?"

"What a grand opening... Asking Madam Snyder, a patient, to welcome you at the door when you're here to treat her," Kayson said flatly.

Tanner, who was taken aback, hurriedly denied it. "It's nothing like that, Mr. Yarde! No matter how bad my personality is, I'm still a medical practitioner! "I'd never make a patient welcome me at the door-goodness, this is a wrongful accusation, Mr. Yarde!"

Kayson scoffed, "That's not what Jaden and Luna said, though." Tanner jolted. Those two b*stards. How dare they play him so badly! "Mr. Yarde, I absolutely did not ask for this. It was their own decision!"

Jaden and Luna, who had just come in, were baffled. Was this still the high and mighty Dr. Tanner Smith? Why was he acting like a mouse meeting a cat?

"You two, come over here!"

Tanner was furious The couple was frightened but could only do as he said.

"Mr. Smith "

Thor inomen Luw spoke, 'Taniner scolded her. "I made a trip here as a favor to your 1:9.mdlant bien, yrs you in tused me and painted me in such a bad light!

"No semburui vous lily will vyen come to me to get treatclp-!"

tome jerzy forum

white "Mi smith, don't do this

1. •1. miks mitte

kupo

ny:1.1 Why was then su afrud of hay on'

Tanner remained in a bowed position and grinned servilely. "Mr. Yarde, see, it was really a misunderstanding."

Kayson smiled and stopped picking on Tanner, saying instead, "This is Madam Snyder."

Elise, who was completely baffled, snapped out of her daze.

Tanner greeted her politely. "Nice to meet you, Madam Snyder!"

"N-Nice to meet you, Dr. Smith! Please have a seat!" Elise was sort of at a loss.

Tanner did not dare sit. It was only after he looked at Kayson and received a nod from the latter that he sat down. The scene made Talia and Violet's jaws drop so wide that their mouths formed an "O".

Chapter 488

Elise felt bad for her grandson after all. "Dr. Smith, don't mind my grandson and his girlfriend. They're just too young and naïve."

Tanner had no idea how to respond and could only look at Kayson, "Whatever Madam Snyder says, " Kayson answered.

Tanner snapped his head to tell Jaden and Luna at once, "I'll dismiss this as a favor for Madam Snyder."

Jaden and Luna stood aside nervously, and Elise told them, "Have a seat now. It's not nice to keep standing." It was only then that the two of them dared sit down, but they dared not look at Kayson. The latter represented mystery and power to them right now. Elise said politely, "Dr. Smith, please have a look at my illness."

"Madain Snyder, are you messing with me. You don't need me with MI. Idrae here. Idner th me? You don't need me with Mr. Yarde here." Tanner chuckled wryly

"Is Kayson really so good?" Elise asked in astonishment.

Tanner sighed. "I dare say that I am not the best doctor in Skyriv, nor is Zachary Ewell the best doctor in Clouspring. Mr. Yarde here is the best."

This shocked everyone else in the hall. Even though Talia and Violet knew that Kayson practiced medicine, they did not dare believe that he was actually so skilled.

The top doctor in Skyriv... Could what their aunt had said be true? Could Kayson's medical prowess be the best in the world? But he was so young-how was it possible... Violet was completely stunned as her eyes were trained on Kayson in immense shock.

Elise was a little antsy as well. Kayson must be accomplished in medicine for Tanner to say that. Has she not taken Kayson seriously enough then?

"Madam Snyder, just treat me like a regular young man. No need to overthink it," Kayson said. This relieved Elise, who smiled kindly. "Thank you, Kayson." "You're most welcome. I'll perform acupuncture on you first."

"Sure." Elise nodded.

Tanner asked nervously, "Mr. Yarde, can I watch from the side?"

He had witnessed Kayson's abilities personally back in Roselle Lodge and he acknowledged that he was unlike Kayson.

"Up to you." Kayson did not refuse. He then put the needles in Elise. The latter's state was similar to paralysis after a stroke, but there was actually some hardening of the blood vessels and irregular blood flow that caused her to have difficulty moving. Aller Kayson used inind expansion on her, though, he was surprised to see that there was a tiny bit of energy hidden in her knee joint. He asked, "Madam Snyder, was it your right knee that hit the ground when you fell?" "It's been years, yet you can still see that?" Elise asked in surprise. "I can treat you, but can you take me to the place where you fell back then?" Kayson replied.

"Of course. It's the deserted plot of land west of the tea plantation at the back of the mountain. Violet knows where it is."

"Okay."

Kayson nodded. The biggest issue with Elise was the hidden energy in her knee. She was not trained in energy, so the unwelcome presence of energy within her showed up as pain. Once he eliminated it and gave her some herbal soup to soften the blood vessels, she would be fine.

When the hidden energy was easily taken away, Elise exclaimed, "Kayson, my leg doesn't hurt anymore. It's magical!"

—

—

"Grandma, is this for real?" Violet gasped. Talia's big eyes shone with victory. "The person I brought home healed grandma. I claim credit!"

—

"Okay, okay. I'll make you some goodies soon." Kayson told Tanner, "Please fetch me some medicine, Mr. Smith."

Chapter 489

"It'd be my absolute honor!" Tanner replied seriously and left with the prescription. Elise got down to walk on the floor without a walking stick, feeling delighted about it. Although she was a senior age-wise, who could really accept walking inconveniences and the need to use a walking stick if they had a choice?

Violet was teary from emotion as she thanked Kayson sincerely. "Thank you, Kayson!" "No big deal." Kayson smiled and asked, "Can you take me to the place where Madam Snyder fell down?"

"Of course!" "We'll go there after the herbs are brewed and Mr. Smith comes back with them," Kayson said with a smile.

"Sure!" Kayson's phone rang then. It was Chadwick "Captain Cloude." Chadwick's tone was respectful. "Mr. Yarde, where have you gone? Thomas said that he can't find you." "I'm at No. 126 in Tearock Town," Kayson answered. "Thomas said that he'd like to have a detailed chat with you regarding Jay Lynch," Chadwick said. Kayson frowned. "Sure. I'll send the location to you. Ask him to come over." After they ended the call, Kayson sent the location, just like he had promised. Violet asked, "Is your friend coming?" "Mm. Not so soon, though, I think."

A while later, Tanner came back with the herbs. Kayson started dispensing them to brew them and told Jaden, "Watch the herbs. Add half a bowl of water every three hours."

Gone was Jaden's brazen attitude as he nodded like a pecking chicken. "Got it!"

Tanner felt pressure around Kayson, so he decided to stay instead of following them Violet then took Kayson and Talia to the deserted land.

They walked for over 40 minutes to get there, so the three of them chatted along the way.

Violet said, "Our family runs a tea plantation, and we plant tea everywhere. My dad then gets to sell the tea wholesale."

Kayson smiled. "It's no wonder everyone here seems to have renovated their houses. Your father's improved the villagers' lives. It's a good initiative"

Violet rolled her eyes. "Pfl, it's just because the cost of buying the tea leaves here is lower"

Talia ylyled "I'm going to tell on you when I see him!"

"Go on. It's the truth anyway!" Violet harrumphed. Violet's mood had gotten better since Elise's ailment had been treated. Her smile was bright and charming, and she suddenly pointed at the hillside and said, "You see that black spot over there?"

Kayson looked over and nodded.

"My grandma fell right there. The land there is strange, you know?" Violet said.

"Nothing thrives there no matter what you plant. The seeds planted won't even sprout. "We got experts to run a test, but the soil quality is said to be okay. Just higher in nutrients. "But see, even weeds don't grow there. It's odd." Kayson took a glance and had a theory.

"It's okay, we'll go have a look. I might know what's up."

Violet doubted it. "For real? Even the experts didn't know what's wrong!" "I'm 90% certain, I think," Kayson replied with a smile.

Chapter 490

The three of them approached the land where nothing could grow.

Once Kayson arrived, he used his dark soul and was delighted about what he found.

Talia asked, "Kayson, what do you see? Tell us about it!" Violet was curious too as she looked at him in anticipation. "Regular things can't survive here," Kayson said with a smile. "What do you mean by regular things?" "Grains, vegetables, fruit, tea, and stuff... Everything you are familiar with can't be planted here."

Talia thought that Kayson was bluffing, as they already knew that nothing thrived there anyway! How was his statement different from the experts' judgment? "Then what do you think should be planted here?" Violet asked curiously. "Tonic herbs." The girls looked astounded. They had obviously not heard of something like this before.

Kayson smiled. "For example, a reishi mushroom that's more than 400 years in age can be called a tonic herb." The girls understood then, and Violet exclaimed, "I think I've heard of someone spending $ 45,000,000 to bid on a reishi mushroom over 500 years in age."

Kayson nodded.

Violet could not help asking, "You're not kidding, right, Kayson? If it's true, then that would make us more money than doing business, wouldn't it?"

"If there's a place to plant tonic herbs and one knows how to cultivate them, it would make one more profit than doing business." Kayson confirmed it with a smile.

“But planting tonic herbs isn’t easy. It requires soil with sufficient energy.

“The characteristic of such a land is that regular seeds can’t be planted, and weeds won’t even grow here.

“Because of the intensity of the energy, regular crops will die due to the energy and nutrients. The same goes for the weeds.”

Violet was not quite sure about this but she knew what Kayson was thinking, so she asked, “You want to plant the tonic herbs you mentioned here?”

“Yup, can’t waste a previous plot of land like this.”

“This plot of land isn’t ours. We’ve got to ask the owner.”

“Okay, it’s no hack then.”

Kayson was eager to do it. He had wanted to go back with came from, just in the patch of parchen neulo where he was laying: However, the place was a little small. Now that he had found a spacious plot of land like this, there was no way he would keep it vacant. He was going to start a company anyway. He could plant the tonic herbs here and make the place a source of the raw material. The three of them hurried back home to find the owner of this plot of land. The owner’s house was only 200 meters away from the Quirks’ place, and he was also a Quirk-Alan Quirk, to be exact.

“You want to buy that deserted plot of land?” Alan looked at the three young people in surprise. Violet answered, “Yeah, what’s the matter? Are you unwilling to sell it?” Alan mumbled weakly, “I didn’t want that land for a long time, but Luca prohibited me from selling it. He said that he’d make sure I didn’t hear the end of it if I dared sell it.” “Luca said that?” Violet was astonished.

Kayson furrowed his brows. “Who’s this Luca?” Violet answered, “Alan’s nephew. An infamous thug in town. A good-for-nothing with no proper job. He’s a delinquent.” Kayson nodded and asked, “Can you get him here?” Vroom-vroom! Seven to eight cool-looking motorbikes came to a halt beside them, and a blonde young man walked toward Kayson with numerous men behind him. This young man was none other than Luca. He scanned Kayson and asked, “You’re buying that vacant land from us?”

“Give me a price. I can rent it if you don’t want to sell it,” Kayson said. Luca smirked. “$15,000,000! I’ll rent it to you for that much!”